

Some notes of thanks to persons who voted for and assisted me - I hardly think I shall write again till I have the pleasure of seeing you - I shall bend my steps on Saturday when you direct - delighted at my rate, at their being again with you -

W^m H^o Paterfon
the younger Esquire
Barrister at Law

Athenaeum

Paley Hall

28 August

1830

My very dear Father and Brothers as I think you will be desirous to hear of the consultation - I have taken up my pen, though we so lately parted - I had a pleasant journey, and reached chambers in excellent time - Mr Zoroch went to the High Court, the case was regularly gone through - I am to write out an opinion, take it to him tomorrow morn, and he will then sign it - In general, I may say, the point that persuaded him, was, the rights of Isaac's children - He is of opinion, that the personal representative of Mr Coker is entitled to her 1/4th - and that Samuel & Peter's parents

London 25 August 1830

London 25 August 1830

W^m H^o Paterfon

W^m H^o Paterfon

W^m H^o Paterfon

I have not heard a news here today I am very well & Brother I am affraid he is Drunk

W^m H^o Paterfon

I left the parcel at the 48

The boy Wellby stated on Monday, & he had requested to pull 200 or 500 lbs & 200 men on Monday - so that justifies what we wrote & advised
- Wellby & Harry will not again be a paid
agent

lapsed - and go to the ~~best~~ at law of the Notary - He recommends however, notices in writing to be served upon the different parties, stating how the money is intended to be paid, & that it will be so paid, at the end of 30 months, if no bill is in the interim filed - This is the outline of the opinion - I have sketched it out & shall go back & settle it - After the consultation was over, we had a few minutes' conversation about the Open Election - and when I told him, that I ~~of~~ thought Weston would get through, for 6000, in answer to a question of his, he was much surprised - & told me Weymouth was far dearer place - At least he had paid much more - The idea, about the notices, was all the Sps own thought, but if I recollect aright, it was an idea of Papa's also

I am very much obliged to you all, for your attentive kindness to my friend Charles Leonard - He seemed much pleased and gratified with his visit - How will very things mend off - I hope dear Papa's eye is better - and that you all are beginning to recover from the bustle and feverishness of a contested Election of 15 days - I feel rather languid today - but to keep myself up a little, by visiting my friend, or gradually to let myself down, I have been writing