

in due time lead to the highest object of your most ambitious wishes — in all that concerns your happiness and yours I take the greatest interest & beg to remain your most sincerely

Ted Pollock

Gouldsford St
25th May 1845

My Dear Mr. Genl. (if the Genl. be)

A letter from you intended for delivery has been forwarded to me by Post it was intended to re-introduce Mr. McMechan whose object is to get a place of some judicial or legal character in the colonies — I am no longer in communication with that department (or indeed any other than my own) & I have now no means of affording him any facilities — according to an established etiquette I cannot initiate any application — I can merely testify on being referred to.

— so I can do no good in the matter — for as a "tester" I know nothing —

While I condole with you on the apparent disappointment of the book proceedings — I beg to congratulate you on the general result, fortunate (as I am now inclined to think) in the seeming failure — everything seems to go on well & quickly & you have earned immortality longer than what into