Dear Mr. North:--

I am forwarding to-day to Mr. Methuen your report of March 20th, which is sent in reply to his request of Feb. 26th. I understand that you are now collating such of the material as you find to be available for the use of Mr. Lucas in connection with the new edition of Lamb. We shall be ready to forward this material to Mr. Methuen through our London Office, as soon as it is in readiness. I prefer to act in this matter merely as a transmitting or forwarding agent. The question as to the precise range of Mr. Methuen's request or of your acceptance of this request must, I judge, be determined by your correspondence with him. I have not myself enough direct knowledge of the nature of the material concerned, to have in regard to it any opinion of importance.

Yours faithfully
G. P. Putnam
