

New York April 17 1874

W. W. R. Dallas

Albany, N.Y.

Dear Sir:

Your notices

of the 27th inst, and the 16th with,
duly reached me, and assured
you will please find one of my little fawns copied at your request.

I am, faithfully
Asa Lubbock

net
ms.

Good Night.

Good-night! a sweet voice laughing said,
and by the hope within me born,
I knew we only said good-night
to meet again at morn.

Good-night! one time it softly said;
and by the heavy heave I bore,
I knew full well we said Good-night,
Good-night, for ever more.

Ah sweet it was to say Good-night
when morning eened our joys no more,
with grief to press beneath the stars,
and meet on earth no more!

Ad. C. Rowlands