To

my dear Prince

Would you mind dealing with the enclosed? It is, of course, ridiculous that they should not know the book has already been done in book form.

By the way, could you possibly get me another copy of the Dutch book? Seeker wants a copy of each edition (he being the original dedicatee and the person for whom in the first place the book was written). If need be I'd pay for it, but I think they might let me have one for nothing.

Yours

Yours ever
