18th Oct. 1854.

Sir,

I beg to acknowledge the terms of your invitation for the 2^d next next, to attend the anniversary service of the Wakefield Mechanics' Institution. That day is, however, the first day of Michaelmas Term, I as such, the commencement of the legal year, when all lawyers assemble in town. —

Independently of this, I am compelled to have ^{compelled} ~~been~~ ^{to} decline the honour of attending such meetings for reasons which I think I explained at a former occasion.

I cordially wish well to your Institution; I am, Sir,

Your faithful servant

Wm. Binks Esq. } Samuel Warren
