My dear Sir,

Has my friend Mr Muller lately ordered a Copy of my Book from you, if not be so good as to have one sent for him, which I will pay for, he having left the one he possessed in Westmoreland for a connection of mine. I shall also want a Book for ~~the~~ one of my Nephews - who has lately declared himself his self at Oxford, and has just been elected a Student of Christ Church - where he has rooms as long as he chooses to remain unmarried - When my other two Nephews who are now of Cambridge are likely to be as far settled as their Brother, I shall want a Book for each of them - In the meanwhile be so kind as to have me executed carefully as you can for Mr Muller who will be directed to call upon you, and ~~the~~

Let the other be sent to Charles Woodson Esq. Christ Church Oxford. I shall be in Town in spring when I will take care to discharge my debt for these Books, and to take such steps as may ~~be necessary~~ ^{be necessary} to the payment of the one which Mr Coleridge requires.
I recd Mrs Edward Coleridge of ~~London~~ ^{London}, I beg might be sent for him, and which was accordingly sent to him at that place by you.
It perhaps he has himself discharged the debt -

In the letter I had the pleasure of receiving from you some time ago you refer to the scheme of a debilitant for my Poem for circulation among the Scotch Presbyters.
When he next I will talk them over with you also ~~and~~ we will discuss the practical if I could myself be wholly at a loss what precise to propose for such a Person. I am happy to see that your pen continues busy but ~~it is~~ ^{it is} a good thing to say to me in Westward Land. I am at present a Guest to a ~~Book~~ ^{Book} in Town with whom my wife & Daughter are residing for the winter

The ~~Plague~~ ^{Plague} as taken in to her child, show that it is much diminished last week that it was thought advisable to ~~go~~ ^{go} dry the effects of a drier climate. The year is here there you have very unpleasant but it is much better - is not almost well, though you for a long or stay as he used to be - Pray give my kind regards to Mrs Charley, and let Mrs Conroy see your young folks forget me - I return to Westward Land a fortnight believe me my dear Mrs Yours truly yours
