"He doesn't LOOK good"

There is a story of a horse-trader who seemed reluctant to sell one of his horses to a prospective buyer because, as he said, "That horse doesn't look good."

The buyer, suspecting that the dealer was trying to outwit him, felt the horse over carefully, looked in its mouth, and decided that the horse looked very well. Whereupon he bought the animal and led it to his stable.

When he harnessed it and started down the road, he soon discovered that the dealer had been right. The horse didn't "look good." It was blind.

Modern buyers need have no fear of such underhanded practices. If you make it a habit to read carefully the pages of this newspaper, you will find nothing but sound values advertised at fair prices.

Only fine merchandise can bear the spotlight of publicity. Consistently advertised merchandise is safe merchandise to buy. Behind it stands the integrity of the manufacturer and the merchant.

Whites, Allen, Combs, Passes, Bayers Fight Mullins Wins By 12-6

SPRING DRILLS ARE COSED WITH TILT

A latter-day Noah, bearing the less Biblical sur-name of Mullins, ferried two touchdowns into six point land to pace a smaller Blue team to a 12-6 decision over the Whites in an action-filled intrasquad football game Saturday afternoon on Stoll field.

First blood in the contest was drawn by the White club late in the first quarter when a potent Allen or Root Combs, set the stage for a Claude Hammonds touchdown drive over center. Just before the half the Blues knocked the count when Dave Zoeller whipped a yard pass to Mullins in the end zone.

Round three produced the deciding tally when Mullins, after right guard, reversed sharply to the left and blazed 48 yards to the goal line. Four plays later Mullins scooted around right end for the touchdown.

Some 2,500 customers, out for the preview of next year's Kentucky team, gazed as the two squads went for each other like hogs for a quail. No holds were barred in the wide-open bout and several times the game threatened to lapse into a bar-room brawl with fists and footballs flying in equal numbers.

Crowd-pleasing as the hulking rumbling of Mullins, it was Allen, a passing marvel, who turned in the most spectacular work of the afternoon by completing the first nine passes he attempted. In fact it was not until the last play of the first half that Allen missed either of his favorite targets, Combs and a freshman end, Carl Althaus. For the game Allen showed a record of 14 tries and 11 completions for 84 yards.

Meanwhile the Blues were making Zoeller's passes count for long gains and his four bulls-eyes in 10 shots were redeemed for 70 yards.

The play of both lines, which were each three deep in talent, was likewise a feature. For the Whites, play-diagnosing Joe Bailey, Captain John Elber, Sully Jacobs, and Harry Denham were the mainstays, while Mel French, Walter Reed, Sam Huette and Phil Scott were in the Blue attack.

Meanwhile the Blues were making Zoeller's passes count for long gains and his four bulls-eyes in 10 shots were redeemed for 70 yards.

Blues Drop Two-Game Series To Ohio State Baseballers

Fading after pallid stands through the early innings, a practice-less Kentucky baseball team opened a 16-game war-crusade by dropping both ends of a two-game series to the Ohio State Buckeyes, Big 10 powerhouse, by scores of 6-1 and 10-4 Friday and Saturday afternoon on the Stoll field diamond.

In both games the outstanding feature was Kentucky's ability not to hit the ball. The Wildcats, who had been able to work outside but once before Friday, were simply unable to get their eyes on the ball and a total of 24 Kentucky batters were fanned at last strikes during the series.

Kentucky did, however, stay within striking distance of the Bucks through the fifth inning of both games. The first bout found the Cats trailing just 2-1 up to the fatal fifth, while in the last bout they led 3-2 until they fell to pieces in the same round.

Staff Kelly, sophomore right hander, opened for Kentucky on the mound in the first game and pitched good ball for the 3-2-3 innings he pitched, allowing two runs and three hits. The Bucks were off to an early lead in the first inning when he pitched a hit batter and two scratch hits, produced one run. Kelly steadied himself to pull out of the hole by striking out the next two batters.

Kentucky knotted the count in their half of the first. Captain Wiley Carnes doubled down the right field corner foul line and streaked to third on a wild pitch. Then while Buck hurler, Mack Kilmer waded the earth preparatory to pitching, Carnes stole home.

That ended the Cat scoring, although they threatened in the third

McBrayer Doles Cats Stiff Cage Workouts

Assistant Coach Paul McBrayer, in the absence of Head Coach Adolph Rupp, took over the Kentucky basketball squad through its fourth week of spring practice with mid-season fury.

Showing spirit that is seldom uncovered in spring rehearsals, the Cats time and time again brought delighted smiles to McBrayer's face as they whipped the ball down the court and literally seared the hump with accurate shots from all angles. According to the Assistant Cat Coach, the practice sessions thus far have been the most successful he has known in the six seasons he has been a member of the Kentucky cage staff.

The work of the guards to date has been exceptionally good. The Cats were expected to be left short-handed with the graduation of Captain Mickey Rose, all-conference selection this year, but the showing made by Martin Alters, Ken England, Carl Staker and Omar Raliff has relieved the worry over this sore spot.

Heading the forward list is Keith Farnsley, a good man to have around, whose left handed pivot shot with 15 seconds to play eliminated Tennessee from the conference tournament. Walter White, a letterman from this year's "best basketball" and Milton Tocco, Cliff Barkis, and Vincent Spicin, from this

CAT GOLF TEAM TIED IN OPENER

Making its first start of the season, a potentially strong Kentucky golf team stroked its way to a 9-9 deadlock with the Western Michigan Teachers college over the Ashland Country club route.

Low scoring honors for the match, which found Kentucky still a bit wobbly from lack of practice, were shared by Meade Ferris of the Cat team and Bond of Michigan, each with an 18-hole total of 74.

Bond's low score, with the 78 carded by his teammate, Lespey, was good enough to gain a 6-3 advantage in the first foursome over Kentucky's Bob Sweeney, 79, and Captain Granville Clark, 77.

The match was deadlocked in the second foursome when Ferris' 74 and the 80 registered by Don Bennett gained a 6-3 verdict over the visiting duo of Pitkard, 77, and Lorenz, 82.

At the start of the seventh Toggiani scored on a run to which the rest of the way.

Caring 'Em Wild

By JOE CREASON

Maybe it's because I, retailer of this information, have a constitution oversized with vitamin I; but I am willing to wager a few excessive shillings on a long range football prediction.

Before the summer leaves of this year have been burned by small boys at the instructions of their mothers, Kentucky will field a football team that will shake the foundations of the grid world like Samson rocked the pillars of that Biblical tenement.

That is the opinion reached after a preview glance of the Cats in the annual intra-squad games over the full time route Saturday afternoon on the Stoll muscle-measure.

Of course, the fact that graduation will, or should, have scrawled an obituary on my college sports editing before such a forecast will come to pass or fall, has absolutely nothing to do with my once again clamoring for a new, and squirrely complex. One more excursion to the branches is just run-of-the-mill stuff.

Keep This Man

You understand, of course, that this information is strictly confidential. If news leaked out to a partying public that next season's Blues were already known, what a sickening shock it would be to the opposing teams. It should be like a kid knocking his head to step down an elevator shaft 6 months from Saturday. Kentucky's cats would be wondering how they put their best, since everyone would already know the inevitable fact that the Wildcats would make me about as popular with those teams as a poison ivy corsage to a nudist.

There are two outstanding reasons why I am literally drooling in drag this season:

- The Kentucky line.
- The Kentucky backfield.

For a football fanatic, after seeing four complete lines in action last week, I do not have to do anything but superlatives from headgear to cleat would have been like a kid knocking his head to step down the Mona Lisa. It is no understatement to say that the front is on next fall's pumpkin, point starved rivals will find the Kentucky line together than a morning after.

As a unit the Cats will probably rival the Harvard in the game, Kentucky can present as its first barrier of defense a crew averaging about 211 pounds per helmet, yet with the speed of sprinters. And the blast is that you can go down to the last sub on the East end of the bench without sipping too much power.

In A Nutshell

Summing up the line situation: The Cats will be big, mighty big. They will be fast, mighty fast. And best of all they will be sure, mighty sure. And there will be one heluva lot of them. When one goes off, his replacement will be just as good, maybe better.

Backfield Blessed With Talent

The single dark cloud in the backfield sky is the continued absence of a blocker to fill the Joe Shepherd vacuum. During the spring recaps, the Cats were asked to play from under any stones who could consistently take out his best girl. Life after the war's hope and there's plenty of life in June Jones, logical heir to the position and a fine prospect, Paul Huff, Bill Kinser and Tom Zinn—proposed blockers all. Because of the missing of a blocker last year, was held out of spring drills.

McBrayer Doles Cats Stiff Cage Workouts

Assistant Coach Paul McBrayer, in the absence of Head Coach Adolph Rupp, took over the Kentucky basketball squad through its fourth week of spring practice with mid-season fury.

Showing spirit that is seldom uncovered in spring rehearsals, the Cats time and time again brought delighted smiles to McBrayer's face as they whipped the ball down the court and literally seared the hump with accurate shots from all angles. According to the Assistant Cat Coach, the practice sessions thus far have been the most successful he has known in the six seasons he has been a member of the Kentucky cage staff.

The work of the guards to date has been exceptionally good. The Cats were expected to be left short-handed with the graduation of Captain Mickey Rose, all-conference selection this year, but the showing made by Martin Alters, Ken England, Carl Staker and Omar Raliff has relieved the worry over this sore spot.

Heading the forward list is Keith Farnsley, a good man to have around, whose left handed pivot shot with 15 seconds to play eliminated Tennessee from the conference tournament. Walter White, a letterman from this year's "best basketball" and Milton Tocco, Cliff Barkis, and Vincent Spicin, from this

Ligon Will Speak

Dr. M. E. Ligon, head of the Teacher Placement bureau, will address the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary schools tomorrow at Atlanta.

His discussion of "Democracy and Education" will be broadcast over the NBC network. Doctor Ligon is chairman of the Kentucky branch of the association.

Other members of the University faculty attending the meeting which is being held through Saturday, are Dr. W. S. Taylor, dean of the Education college, Dr. Leo Chamberlain, registrar, and Dr. Henry H. Hill of the Education college.

Warren To Speak

William W. Warren, director of development of the Fisher Scientific company, Pittsburgh, will address the Bacteriological society at 7:30 p. m. Friday in room 214 of Kastle hall. Mr. Warren's subject will be "Tools of Science and their Development."

Frosh Track Candidates Asked To Meet

All candidates for Kentucky's freshman track team have been asked to meet this afternoon at 2:30 in Alumni gym, according to word from Gene Myers, Kitson cinder boss.

The team defeated Louisiana State university, North Dakota Agricultural college, Ripon college of Wisconsin, Cornell University, Oregon State college, University of Illinois, University of Michigan, Pennsylvania State college, and University of Idaho.

University of Kansas and Louisiana State university tied with the team. The four losses were to University of Wichita, University of Maryland, University of Washington, and University of California.

WAA golf and tumbling started Monday in the women's gymnasium. Lole Strauss is in charge of golf and Mildred Gravette is in charge of tumbling. Points will be given toward numerals, pins, and letters. These sports will continue on Mondays from 3 to 4 p. m. through May 1.

WAA Newscope

Winning 10 out of 16 matches, the WAA riflery team, consisting of 17 women students, had its final match last week. The remaining six matches resulted in two ties, and four losses.

G-Man To Speak Here On April 24

FBI Agent Slated To Talk On Employment Possibilities

A. C. Ruter, special agent in charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation at Springfield, Ill., will address students of the law and commerce colleges and anyone else interested in finding employment with the F. B. I. at 7:30 p. m., April 24, in White Hall, Prof. W. A. Tolman announced yesterday.

Professor Tolman also said that the meeting of the Commerce Employment association which was scheduled for Thursday night has been postponed because the speaker, Washington Reed, vice-president of its Kentucky Utilities company will be 'unable to attend.'

'Rights Of Man'

Dr. John Kulper, head of the philosophy department, will discuss "The Rights of Man" in the first of a new series of programs over the Southern network of the Mutual Broadcasting system at 1:45 p. m. on Monday, April 15, from the University radio studios.

LAST SWEATER SWING

The Union will hold its last sweater session of the current series from 6-8 p. m. in the Regis room. James Morrison and his orchestra will furnish music for the dance.

Miss Asta Pederson

... the smiling hostess as we welcome guests at one of New York's most famous hotels. She will tell you Chesterfield is the business cigarette in the place.

At over a million places where cigarettes are sold you can see these clean white Chesterfield packages going into more pockets and more handbags every day. All over the country smokers are finding out you can't buy a better cigarette.

Going "two packs at a time" because Chesterfield is today's definitely milder, cooler-smoking, better-tasting cigarette

These three qualities—MILDNESS, COOLNESS, TASTE... are the sum and substance of real smoking pleasure. You enjoy all three in Chesterfield's right combination of the world's best cigarette tobaccos.
