ILLEGAL SALES OF CAGE TICKETS WILL BE JUDGED

Standards Committee Will Consider Case

The men's division of the committee on student standards of the Student Government association will meet today or Wednesday to discuss an action which will be taken on the case of two University students convicted on a charge of selling bogus tickets for admission to the state high school basketball tournament here last week.

The two students convicted on the bogus charge are Gilbert B. Helton, engineering freshman, and Edgar (Bud) Wilson, commerce sophomore. They were fined $25 and costs and sentenced to 20 days in jail in the Lexington police court Saturday, after pleading guilty to a charge of selling the bogus tickets.

The tickets, which closely resembled this year's series, except that the serial numbers are different, were stored in a trunk until tournament time this year, Chief Price quoted the boys as saying. Then the tickets were taken out and sold to fans who crowded about the entrance window this year, Chief Price said.

Police are conducting a search for other students supposedly implicated in the crime. Frances Hamann, chairman of the lecture of Dr. Will Durant, noted publicist and author, at 8 p. m. Tuesday, March 26, in Memorial hall will be obtained today at the office of the Union social center, room 122.

Only two tickets will be given to any one person and faculty and students are urged to claim their tickets today. All tickets unclaimed by this time will be distributed to tourists.

Dr. Durant will speak on "The Dawn of Democracy." His address will deal with the problems of American life—physical, biological, and economic and political, with some specific proposals for the solution of each.

The University ROTC rifle team is giving its first corps area intercollegiate match, placed seventh in a field of thirteen last week with a score of 7-0-0.

In first place with 7-0-0 points was the sharpshooting Ohio State and Indiana university took second spot, while Culver Military academy team placed third.

Legislature Will Meet Wednesday

CAREY DECLARES SIGMA CHI DEBT

The student legislature will convene at 2 o'clock Wednesday in room 204 of the Union, Bill Duity, president, announced.

Carey said that the house is bound to satisfy the debt and that the Grey-Ried Construction company is being adjudged a prior lien on the property.

The construction company was named one of the defendants in the position. Others named individually were Carey, J. R. Johnson, and W. G. Hillen as trustees of the chapter house fund.

The petition asserted that "since 1939 a total of $22,181.57 had been paid into a fund for retiring a debt on the house, that Carey had received the money, that he had made no accounting of it, and that it should be required to make a settlement."

Carey asserted, in answer filed Friday, that although he had received a total of $29,273.44 ($22,366.50 of which was paid by the chapter), the entire debt amounts to $52,897.78. Thus, there remained $23,424.23 to be paid, he stated.

The principal of the mortgage held by the Grey-Ried company amounts to $19,131.06 of the outstanding balance of $49,928.84. $29,273.44 was accumulated interest, he said.

Tickets For Lecture Are Still Available

Students, Faculty Have First Choice For Will Durant's Lecture, March 26

Faculty and student tickets to the lecture of Dr. Will Durant, noted philosopher and author, at 8 p. m. Tuesday, March 26, in Memorial hall will be obtained today at the office of the Union social center, room 122.

Only two tickets will be given to any one person and faculty and students are urged to claim their tickets today. All tickets unclaimed by this time will be distributed to tourists.

'SILENT GROUP' WILL EXERCISE HITLER, IS CLAIM

Leonhardt Foretells Fall Of Fuehrer, At Convocation

Conservatives, aristocrats, liberals, socialists, youth organizations, Rho Catholic, and a member of other religious denominations form the "silent group" which will eventually overthrow Hitler, Leonhardt foretold at a convocation Monday morning in Memorial hall.

It is the moral and not the political constitution that will create favorable propaganda, he added. Speaking on "My Struggle for Democracy in Danzig as Connected to the Present European Situation," Dr. Leonhardt described personal experiences as a Democratic leader.

Because 52 members of the League of Nations had guaranteed the Danzig constitution, that free city resisted Nazi interference with its democratic principles, Dr. Leonhardt said. He also spoke of the action of the league was a "masterpiece of evading responsibility."

Dr. Leonhardt, who said that the Nazis "looked upon him as described in the book 'The Rise and Fall of Hitler's National Socialist Party' as "a movement for reform, not an attempt to overthrow the people peacefully and to create a new government by one conquest after another."

Communist Banner Is Raised At Berea

Communist activities broke out on the Berea campus last week. The raising of a Communist banner awakened to discover the violent red banner of Communism flying from the campus flagstaff according to yesterday's Lexington Leader.

College authorities, in co-operation with the police, have been conducting an investigation, but as yet have unearthed no clues as to the identity of the person or persons who raised the banner.

The emblem of Red Russia, with a sickle and banner in one corner, was upon a large letter "S" the Vanguard, the name of a campus organization. Members of the group were resolved of blame.

Investigation showed that the hall was used to raise the banner had been cut and carried away. Indignant students obtained ladders from the college fire department and from the flag from the pole, located on the most prominent corner of the campus.

Other activities, presumably by the same "Communists," included the smearing of a car belonging to the Union Social Center with bright yellow paint. The tires of the car were punctured also.

Sorry, We Were Typographically Optimistic

Approximately 20 students, not 200 as erroneously reported in Friday's Kernel are employed in the various facilities of the Union building, officials stated.

The magazine "The Kentucky Engineer," technical magazine published by the College of Engineering, will be off the press late this week, and will be distributed to student subscribers at regular engineering assemblies.

At the January meeting of the Kentucky Society of Professional Engineers, "The Kentucky Engineer" was adopted as the official organ of the society, and now in the hands of the members.

The addition of 300 subscribers from this society to the previous subscription list of 350 students and 400 alumni gives "The Kentucky Engineer" one of the largest circulations of any engineering journal in the South.

Included in this week's issue will be the following articles: "Possibilities of the Department of Mining and Metallurgical Engineering," by C. S. Crowder, head of the department; "Topographical Map of Kentucky from 1857 to 1934," by Willard House Johnson, state geologist of Kentucky for 10 years, with notes on a practical geologist.

Think Twice About These Election Dates

According to a decision made by the Student Legislature at its last meeting, election of next year's student body officers will be held on Wednesday, April 24.

Of course, the legislators realize that spring vacation ends on April 23, and that preparing for such an election as this requires some work and an adequate amount of time.

Unfortunately, the framers of the constitution failed to take into account an unannounced delayed spring vacation when they stipulated that election should be held between April 15 and May 1.

Since it is a prime obligation of those conducting this election to see that a representative vote is assured, THE KERRY believes the legislators would do well to consider seriously the limitations of the recently-announced dates.

The American Youth Act: Its National Significance

On Wednesday the Student Legislature voted unanimously to send a telegram to Congress, urging passage of the National Youth Act, which is now in committee awaiting its turn to be brought up for vote.

The bill would establish, as one of the agencies of the Federal Security Agency, a National Youth Administration, the function of which would be to carry out the following:

- 1) To establish and administrate a series of public-work projects, affording work to all unemployed youth at a minimum wage of $12.50 per week.
2) To employ vocational training guidance advisers, who shall cooperate with employment bureaus in the schools.
3) To provide financial aid to college students who are working on academic projects...

University of Kentucky, there are annually three times as many applicants for NYA aid as can be granted help.

Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen, in the February 21 issue of their syndicated column, "Washington Merry-Go-Round," pointed out that there are 4,000,000 to 5,000,000 unemployed or partially employed youths in the country, and that idle and discontented youth is the seed of fascism.

The much debated American Youth Congress, which met last month in Washington, advocated, as its fundamental program, the adoption of the Youth Act.

But it does seem that, with so much money being spent for armaments and so much being asked for old-age pensions, Congress would somehow become aware that the future of the nation lies not in war or in those who have already served their purpose, but rather in the youth who are soon to take over the powerful reins of government.

Behind The Eckdahl

JOHN SAMARA, Guest Columnist. We don't know as we ought to mention this, but one of our professors has embarrassed us no end of late by coming to class with a hole in the seat of his pants.

A prof with a hole in his pants shouldn't expect to student's glances. And surely, unless he is crazy, He shouldn't bend down to pick up a daisy.

THOUGHT OF THE WEEK: Why don't they fool everybody some time and send the convocation speaker to the Union building.

Pity the poor professor. What with students giving them grades and trying to pass rules saying how often they can stand him up, it looks as though it's only a matter of time until profs will be required to register and make out programs to be signed by snug, domineering undergraduates.

When we are looking forward with relish to the day when that professor sidles up to us and meekly inquires if we will sign his program card.

Humph, we will humph. What kind of grades have you made?

A canny young fisherman Fisher. Once fished from the edge of a fissure. A fish with a grin. Pulled the fisherman in. Now they're fishing the fissure for Fisher.

According to music lovers, if he could hear how his quotes are being used today, Confuse U would probably say "Please don't talk about me when I'm gone."

The following sterling tips to success in the social world, (obviously written by an old maid who hoped to increase her tribe) are from the booklet "Your Life," and were amassed under the title "How to Avoid Being Kissed." Now that you've interested, but...

- 1. Will be an ardent devotee of the double date.
2. Will learn how to just get out of a car, say good night, and dash into the house, in rapid succession.
3. Will sing on auto rides.
4. Will talk a lot, and charmingly, lightly.
5. Will say "Please don't..." "I'd rather you didn't..." or "A kiss means so much more to me..."

That some sort of nautical aid to students is badly needed is fairly self-evident. Dean Malcolm Willey of the University of Minnesota, in a letter to a representative, later read into the Congressional Record, recently said, "With rising educational costs, it becomes progressively difficult, as one descends the family earnings scale, for youth to find the resources with which to enter and remain in college..."

Getting even nearer to home, we find that at University of Kentucky, there are annually three times as many applicants for NYA aid as can be granted help.

Census Man Won't Get You --If You Don't Watch Out

Uncle Sam is asking college students to write home during March and request something besides the traditional check. He wants the young men and young women who are living temporarily at school to remind their parents.

Number of weeks the student worked in 1939 equivalent full-time weeks. Number of hours he worked during the week of March 24-30, 1940. Present, or if seeking work, last occupation (exact nature of duties performed).

Whether at work in private or non-emergency government work during the week of March 24-30. If not, whether assigned to public emergency work (such as NYA) during that week.

If not at work or seeking work, does the student have a job or business from which he is temporarily on vacation, sick leave or lay-off? (Students on sick leave or lay-off between April 18-28 might be in this group.)

The only other question which parents might have trouble answering concerns place of residence of the student on April 1, 1935. If the student was absent from home at that time, in prep school, college or elsewhere, the parents are still to report his home residence, which normally would be the same as his own.

Reporting to the Census Bureau is required by law, but the statute protects those giving the answers against disclosure of individual returns or their use for taxation investigation or regulation.

It will be possible to determine from 1940 Census figures the percentage of college graduates in various occupations, the number of unemployed of other important categories never before available.

Not only will the Census produce material of great importance for the student's prospects, but will furnish sociological data of considerable value to students doing research.

'Legislature Is Liberal'

Unknown to the bulk of the student body, and indeed unknown to some of the legislators themselves, is the fact that the new UK Student Legislature has turned out to be a pretty liberal organization.

The reason, of course, so many students are unaware that such a thing has come to pass is that they simply don't care about such things as student government, and won't take the trouble to find out what is going on.

And the fact that the legislators—who are consistently asserting their belief that they "should take things easy" the first year—have no occasion been almost unanimously liberal indicates that they haven't always been well informed about the issues they were voting on.

'Why Spend Billions For Battleships?' 'Why Spend Billions For Battleships?' will be the subject of open discussion by faculty members and students at a meeting of the International Relations club at 2 P. M., Wednesday, in Room 100, Lafayette Hall.

There is an old Swedish saw which, when translated freely, can read, "Don't put off until tomorrow what you can do today." We mull over that proverb a great deal yesterday and it helped us reach a decision. We cut the class.

On the other hand, however, there are some evidences that point to an obviously sincere liberalism on the part of the members. For some five months now the liberals of the student body had been hounding the legislature because of its inertia.

But it would seem that these same progressives would have no liberalism at all than have it turn out to be liberalism of naivete.

Writer Complains About Ill-Temper Of Employee

To The Editor: I am writing this letter to protest against the treatment given the faculty and students of the University by one of its employees, the Business Office.

Ill-tempered, bossy and narrow-minded, he has taken it upon himself to insult the majority of the University people.

In the past many complaints have been made to Mr. Peak about this man's attitude and I cannot comprehend his not having reported this to the District Superior.

Number of hours he worked during the week of March 24-30, 1940. Present, or if seeking work, last occupation (exact nature of duties performed).

Chatter Bits

Isabel Peacher. 'Twas a big week-end, lotta dos n' jotas scandal that everyone promised not to tell everyone else. Here 'tis:

Phil Scott got his dander up Saturday for several days to take up a little of Mary Ann Parbach's time but to no avail.

Brownie has been pinned to Del Bruno for about two weeks now. What happened to Del, Brownie? Roy Thomas, ATO, has a new nick-nick, it's "Baby Lumpkin."

Martina Jane Rich has added to her Kappa Kappa by purchasing a new Buick convertible. It is almost dead certain that she will also be wearing a Del pin as soon as Orville Patton gets one that's jeweled.

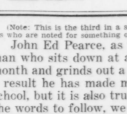

Sam Ewing, Jr. Kap, must have thought that Laz Wallace would have her hands full playing the hostess to his two sisters over the week-end to have any time for him. At any rate, he galloped around with Tri Del's Lids Belle Howe while they were here.

Did you go to see "Our Town" the other night and were you amazed to receive a program of "The U. R. T. V. Well, Mary James, Kappa, trying hard to be of a little assistance to heart who were using grab bags in the wrong stack of programs when she was sent into the stock room for them. These were very graciously passed to over half the bewildered audience.

Johnny Meredith is looking for a girl to take to camp this summer. If you are interested in staying at the Del's house, Don't now push, girl!

Del Bits: Marjane Hewitt's theme song is "Glover Come Back To Me." Glover is a Del at Ohio State. Marjane Gardhouse has put her Del pin on cold storage, and there is a new "him" in her life. We return to see that Betty Bob Miller is on our hospital register. Don't stay long, Betty.

Campuscene PERSONALITIES III: John Ed Pearce—hilarious inhabitant of the Wildcat's den

This is the third in a series of five sketches of underdogs in the campus who are noted for something or other. If you didn't already know it, it is the man who sits down at a typewriter two or three times each month and grinds out a publication called the "Wildcat."

Then a couple of days after each paper goes to press, he leans down to acquire a latter dislike for all half-a-week's news, wisdom, and information (plus) is destroyed forever by his indifferent hands.

Frankness is his meadmoorim, his creed, his language. To the tyrannizing practice of "grinning" rather brutal. To the self-styled "red-heads," it occasionally appears as if he were more than polite to her on all occasions in their professional dealings with her.

Perhaps John Ed is a little too much of a critic. We are well aware, of course, that cynicism fundamentally is a good trait, for it shows that one is not utterly blind to the more sordid ways of the world and the malpractices of our civilization.

Anyone who has hung around the M'Vey hall sub-basement very long has seen J. Ed in his editorial noisiness as he weaves about in his magazine. Pearce just sits at his typewriter, waiting for merciful insanity to come along and quench his thirst for humor. Then suddenly he will chuckle to himself and start writing. As the copy grows longer, his chuckles grow louder.

There are many who refer to John Ed Pearce as "that radical." Radicalism, of course, is a matter of degree, and a person is "radical" in proportion to the political beliefs of his accuser. In Pearce's case, it is obvious to those who know him (Continued on Page Three)

K Club, Sigma Nu Win Tonight In Annex For Intramural Title

Callin'g 'Em Wid

By JOE CREASON

To report that one person from among the 30,000 who attended the 23rd state high school basketball tournament last week-end, was outstanding might sound a lot like boasting you'd found the needle in that haystack.

But such a person was present. Not listed on the personnel of any of the opposing teams, this personality, nevertheless, stood out like an Indian mound on a prairie.

Strange as it may sound, this individual was a little, sil-ver-haired, brown-eyed lady, Mrs. W. A. Jenkins of Louisville, who was recognized formally at the final session by sports writers covering the tournament as Kentucky's No. 1 basketball fan. No one could possibly be more deserving such an honor.

Way back in 1923 A. D. Mrs. Jenkins, mother of Paul Jenkins, former Kentucky athlete, who made state football history while coaching at Ashland high school, attended her first tournament. Since that time she has missed but one meet, in 1929 when a broken right ankle two weeks before the tourney kept her at home.

Had it not been for Mrs. Jenkins I would even now be visited with regrets of the Mrs. Otis type for once again having batted a minus 3000 in my predictions. Friday afternoon before the second round, after having nominated the first eight winners in reverse, my forecasting temperature was lower than the thermometer in Florida this winter. Then I met Mrs. Jenkins and she, immediately advised me to string along with Hazel Green. Remembering it was she who corrected "outed Midway, Sharpe and Brookville as state champs, I heard and reported for forecasting later as king and for having compared said team and unfavorably, to G. Washington, A. Lincoln, the first printing press, chocolate cake, the discovery of fire and Joan of Arc. Not that I didn't know all along that Hazel Green would win. It is with pardonable and blushing pride that I admit I did. The only public event the winner was because the shock would have been too much for the other 15 teams and thus the tourney would not have been the success it was. A person of my talent has to consider all those angles.

TITLE BOUT DUE TO START AT 7:45

The "K" club and the Sigma Nus will tangle tonight at 7:45 in the Gym annex in the final intramural basketball game of the season—winner the University championship at stake.

Last year the trophy went to triumphed over the Lexingtonians, top independent five, in the final ATO, fraternity champions, who battle.

Defeat ATOs

This year the ATOs were defeated by the Sigma Nus in league play, and the K club proved itself much the strongest independent team on the list, although pushed in their final game against the smooth-working Mountaineers of Floyd county.

Both teams have an impressive record in season games. The independent champions being undefeated in six starts, while the fraternity winners hold a record one loss in seven games. Their single defeat was at the hands of the SAEs, who upset them early in the season by a 27-23 score.

Charlie Harris, top scoring forward, will lead the Greeks in their championship try. Harris has consistently been high in the individual scoring list, and is an almost sure thing in the intramural all-tournament team. Dave Zoeller, along with Larry Spears, has led the basket-making for the "K" club.

Broke No Records

Playing against strong teams all through the season the Sigma Nus have not been able to break any high-scoring marks this year. On the other hand, the "K" club has consistently driven through its opponents to rack up 50 or 60 points a game except for the Floyd county team. The Mountaineers, however, held them to a 21-20 final mark, with a last-minute free-throw by Julie Jones providing the margin.

Members of the all-tournament team will be picked this week by intramural referees. They will be awarded gold basketballs by the intramural department.

TRACK CATS DUE FOR FIVE MEETS

Opening with Hanover college on the Stoll oval Sunday April 13, the track cats have five meets scheduled, including two southeastern conference tests, has been slated for Kentucky's 1940 track team, Coach Joe Rupert revealed yesterday.

With the first meet due in less than a month Coach Rupert is anxious for warmer weather so he can move his drills from the gym to the track. The first 23 candidates have been conducting drills in Alumni gym.

Predictable years the Cats are expected to demonstrate their greatest power in the track events, with the strength of the field participants still uncertain. From last year's freshman team Coach Rupert will inherit his greatest punch. For instance, Bob Scholtz, whose state high school high hurdle record still stands, gives promise of developing into one of the South's best hurdlers, while Noah Mullins was clocked over the 100-yard dash route last year in 9.9.

To team with Scholtz in the hurdles, Kentucky will have Bob Fishback, a better man last year. Jim Hardin, ace 220-yard sprinter, will also be back for action. The distance events will be headed by Paul Durbin and John Montgomery, with Jack Henning to go in the 880 yard run and mile grind.

The complete schedule:

Hanover, here	April 13
Lexington, here	April 14
West Virginia, here	April 27
Tennessee, there	May 11
Cincinnati, there	May 11
Conference meet	May 18

Governor Crowns The Champs

Capt. Ed Gaines of the Hazel Green Bullfrogs, 1940 state cage champions, is receiving from Gov. Keom Johnson the highest award that can be given to a high school basketball team in the state. The huge trophy was presented to the Bullfrogs after they had staged an almost unbelievable rally to defeat Ashland, 35 to 29, for the championship.

TRIPLE-HEADER SPORTS EVENT WILL BE STAGED

"K" Club To Present All-Sports Day April 6

Under the sponsorship of the "K" club, an all-sports day, featuring the annual intra-squad spring football, a baseball game against Ohio State and an exhibition meet between two members of the Cat team, will be held April 6 on the Stoll field area.

Although plans for the day have not yet been completed, the tentative schedule of events was announced yesterday afternoon by Coach Frank Moseley, maestro of the baseball team.

The calendar calls for the football clash which will conclude seven weeks of rehearsing, to start at 1:30. Next will come the mile exhibition between Paul Durbin, Jack Henning and possibly another member of the track squad. The baseball game, sec-

Hazel Green Is Winner

Mountain Team Trips Ashland By 35-29 In Final Bout

From the heart of Laurel County's hills came tiny, courageous Hazel Green, a team that simply refused to lose despite the opinion of crepe-paper hanging critics, to capture the 22nd Kentucky state basketball championship with a clear-cut 35-29 win over Ashland in the final bout Saturday night in Alumni gym.

They did by scoring 25 points in the final half to 11 for Ashland. Buried deep in the top, or trough, bracket, Hazel Green was completely snubbed in title gossip. Consequently the team was the underdog in each of its four games. After ousting St. Xavier in the first round by 36-31, Hazel Green turned on its typical half spirit.

Morganfield a long distance phone call behind by 30-28. Then against Inez, smart money choice for the winner's trophy, Hazel Green completely bottled the Indians short passing attack and led the way to finish on top by 27-23.

For the first quarter of the final game the two clubs battled in even ground and the period ended with the score standing at 7-4. During the second quarter Ashland rattled Hazel Green to one field goal, a long shot by Ray Combs, while Hilton, Eblen and company were clicking for 12 Ashland points.

It was a revived Hazel Green team that returned to the floor for the final two rounds. After Eblen and Sieweck had hit Ashland critics, the tide turned, drastically. Charlie Smith started the revolt by jamming two short shots through with a pair of foul shots. Gains connected from the foul circle and Brownman dribbled through the entire Ashland team for an easy crip. Between three field goals by R. Combs, Bob Hilton was able to sandwich a foul shot and as the quarter ended Hazel Green led by 25-24.

Eblen put Ashland back into the game with a crisp shot as the final period started but Gains tied the count with a foul effort. Hilton dribbled down the floor to score for Ashland on a fast break, but once again Hazel Green called on its heart and the verdict was sealed. Brownman hit a pair of field goals, Harold Combs a long shot, Gains
