

We're In Favor

The Kernel staff is not standing in the way of semi-weekly publication of the paper. In several letters to the editor, it has been suggested or stated that such a condition exists, and campus rumors are, if anything, even more positive. A statement made before the Interfraternity Council may have been the basis, to some extent, for such thinking.

A great deal could be said concerning the methods used in the present crusade for semi-weekly publication; it has been a masterpiece of manipulation. Just as much could have been done through a straight-forward drive, however, and students would know more of what the real difficulties are.

The actual reason that more frequent publication of the Kernel has not developed is the overload which would be thrown on the printing plant. The Kernel plant is under contract to print numerous bulletins and pamphlets in addition to the U-High Times, the University catalog, the schedule books for next semester, and other official University publications. The Kernel staff has had no control over these contracts.

It would seem impossible to carry out the plans advocated by SGA with the present facilities, or until the contracts mentioned are fulfilled. It is far more likely that the Kernel will be published twice a week beginning next fall than at the beginning of the next semester. The staff is, however, willing to assume the additional work and all of us sincerely wish there were more positions open at the present for students who would like to work with the Kernel.

For A Change

The Student Government Association, in taking over the duty of enforcing campus parking regulations, has left itself open to a great deal of criticism in the future.

The plan may be workable, and should be given a chance to prove itself; however its disadvantages may outweigh its advantages. Heretofore, the parking situation has been handled by the Dean of Men's office, and though there has naturally been criticism, the problem has been effectively controlled.

The judiciary committee will have a majority from one of the two parties, since it is made up of five students. There will remain room for bias which dissatisfied students likely will cite at every opportunity.

The advantages: Less work for Dean Kirwan's secretaries, a new job created for a student's wife, a departure from the toothless yearly farces such as resolutions against drinking and gambling and an administration-approved way to spend some money for a change. The measure will, at least, have some effect on the student body.

One Or The Other

Already there is talk of sending the band to the Orange Bowl. Many things must be taken into consideration before it can make the trip. Certainly some improvement over its showing at the Tennessee game is necessary before the action is taken.

Though this may seem an about-face after a previous editorial, we believe the statement is warranted and that we remain consistent. We still believe that there are essentially two kinds of marching bands. In addition we believe that a band should be either one or the other; it should not dabble with the flashy style unless it is going all out for it. The feeble attempt made by the band at the Tennessee game to imitate the "Cincinnati Trot" became ridiculous.

Our band can, we believe, be outstanding as either a football or a military organization; the Military Department can decide which, to a large extent. But if the band staff wants to employ jazz and novelties in its performances, we suggest they obtain jockey uniforms or some other Kentucky costume and do the thing right.

The reason for such delay was the fact that the people at the university station had simply not bothered to deliver my mail as they are required to. If I had not made a demand I seriously doubt if I ever would have received this mail.

Norwegian Institution Caters To Americans
The University of Oslo, Norway will hold a summer session for American students who have completed their sophomore requirements in an accredited college or university.

erly. If that cannot be done, the persons responsible, and we know who they are, should be discharged immediately. The responsibility lies with the university because this is a contract station not a branch of the main station, since it is the university's responsibility it is the university's duty to take proper action. And action it must take.

The Spice of Life

By Jolie Anderson and Ramon Morgan

School again! Nice to be back from the comforts of home, plenty of sleep, etc. Absolutely nothing like a college education!

Married: Fran Gregory and Carl Fulton; Bernice Noland and Ruth Waters. B.X. hitchhikers are aiming for Miami. This department is also Orange Bowl bound.

With basketball season just around the corner, we're betting that Ann Kirtley will return to Bob Hatchett. If you could have seen them at the volleyball game the other night you'd know just what we mean.

Red Beck says he is trying to get back in the good with Pat Mason at U. of L. Charlie Young and Harry Sutton are reported to be on the steady list.

Mary Ann Mosely and Fred Sirovorn are getting to be a pretty steady couple. This could get to be a serious romance. B. J. Samson and Edith Combs still don't have Phi Tau pins but maybe Pat Barnes will have better luck.

Leonard Wood, Brian Daugherty, and Bob Swietelmann all brought road to go. Bob!! Pinned: Bob Keese and Jo LaFollette; Charles Reed and Marilyn Brown.

Enraged: Betty MacAfee and Charles Tombs. Say, the punning list has really dropped this fall. Guess we'll have to wait 'til spring for business to pick up.

Jimmy Bradley and Jane Martin can be found constantly at the Sigma Chi house. Betty Faye Siddons can be found wheeling Verne Moore's black convertible around town.

Unpinned: Gardner Combs and Mimi Kingston. Peggy Thomas has moved from store to Brod. That puts her much closer to the base of operation.

Tom "Big Al" Alexander broke down and had a date. Betty Brown was the lucky gal. Elkie Mathis just doesn't show enough appreciation for Doris Taylor. We know quite a few fellows who wish that cute #11 number would give them a tumble.

citizens, which thrills more than half-million spectators each year. Begun in 1925 Miami's New Year's Day football classic started as a post-season contest for the University of Miami, and the first two games were held at the Palm Festival. The Orange Bowl itself began in 1935, with the idea of an annual game between outstanding Northern and Southern teams.

The first game was played before a sparse crowd of only 5,134 people. Bucknell won this inaugural struggle, defeating Miami, 20-0. Through the years, the seating capacity has been increased steadily, and last year's Georgia-Texas clash, won by Texas, 41-28, was played with some 60,000 spectators looking on.

The Orange Bowl has provided some of the top post-season football thrills. All-time tops in the spine tingling department was provided by Al Hutson, substitute University of Miami halfback, who intercepted a Miami Cross pass and ran it back 89 yards for a touchdown that enabled Miami to defeat the Crusaders, 13-6.

A pie eating contest will be held during intermission of the dance and the winners will be awarded prizes. The purpose of the dance Pi Week is to develop more friendly relations among students of the campus.

Pressing Hudson's run for thrill-producing honors was a 72-yard pass from Boyd Brumbaugh to Ernest Heffner in the closing moments of play that cleared the way for Diagne to defeat Mississippi State, 13-12, in 1937. The pass traveled 69 yards in the air to set an all-time record in major bowl competition in the country.

Greater individual performance ever witnessed in the Bowl was staged by Georgia's Fireball Frankie Sinkwich against Texas Christian in 1942. Sinkwich passed for three touchdowns, and scored himself in plays covering 179 yards. Frankie's total ground gaining efforts, running and passing, amounted to 382 yards, another all-time record for major bowls.

One record that may be recorded by Kentucky's Babe Parilli in this year's game is the losing record of Georgia Tech's Jim Still, who hit 10 of 13 passes against Kansas in the 1948 game. Three of his passes went for touchdowns, and a fourth was called back because of a penalty.

Pi Kappa Alpha's 'Pi Week' Ends With Dance Tonight

There will be no admission and all campus students are invited. A pie eating contest will be held during intermission of the dance and the winners will be awarded prizes.

1945 Plan To Improve UK Athletics Culminates In Orange Bowl Invitation

Rejuvenation of the UK Athletic department in 1945 has led to some striking results - bowl bids and the like.
Nov. 20, 1945, was the date of organization of the Kentucky Athletic Association, a private corporation formed for the purpose of promotion and improvement of sports at the University.

The Kentucky Athletic Association is a non-profit organization. Funds of the organization, which are kept by the University Comptroller, are expended on scholarships, and for general improvement of sports conditions at the University.
The Association is supervised by a Board of Athletic Directors. The president of the board is the vice-president of the board is the vice-of the new fieldhouse. These two projects are being jointly financed by the Association and the State.

The athletic departments of most colleges in the SEC administratively function in conjunction with organizations similar to the Kentucky Athletic Association at UK. A similar set up exists at a number of colleges throughout the states.

NOW HEAR THIS

By T. J. Clark

During the Thanksgiving holidays the University of Kentucky radio service was absurdly quiet. Nothing outstandingly new-worth happened. As a matter of fact, the radio studios were as dead as a vociferated sloth. Staff members were caught listening to the programs, and any radio man will tell you that this is very close to heresy.

Big expose. Now you can learn the brutal truth. I am an avid listener of jolly, old St. Nick, and I'm an even more eager follower of Santa Claus. Naturally I listen to every one of his direct-from-the-North Pole broadcasts. Now imagine my shock and horror and bitter anguish when I discovered that the voice of the Santa heard on WKLX was different from the voice of the same gent on WKX. My first impulse was to rationalize that it was all an illusion of acoustics. But! The voices were different. Albert and what's more I could recognize them. The WKLX Santa was none other than Joe Kuehl, WKLX was trying to palm off Albert Harbert as WKBY men. Now I don't believe in Santa Claus.

Too getting very little co-operation from some of the people at the studios. For instance, Joe Kuehl, who I think I would like to put something in this column about his Thursday night running of the stream session called "Nocturne"

Mr. Arkle said that he wasn't planning anything big—nothing noteworthy. When I suggested the broadcast, while being on the floor, or hanging out of a window, or talking through a mailing tube, he said: "No. Some folks just don't want to make news, I guess. But listen to 'Nocturne' anyway. (WKBY Monday-Friday 9:45)

Here's a handy item from the Department of Vital Statistics. Out of the more than 2000 radio stations existing within the continental limits, WKBY is probably the only one that hasn't played Mule Train on the air. Why? Now that's asking, but since you asked I'll tell you. They can't get the record.

In Memoriam: On Sunday last Producer Linley Stafford from his face in a grim grin and announced to a small gathering that contained no reporters or photographers that the Kentucky Radio Players would no longer ride the ether. Wildcats Score 21-6 Victory Over Miami; Get Bowl Bid

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 25—Kentucky's hard-charging line pushed the Miami Hurricanes all over the field here tonight in the Orange Bowl Stadium and paved the way for a 21-6 victory for the Wildcats.

A crowd of 42,700—the third largest of the season here—saw the Cats outstrip Miami, 274 yards to 62, while making 25 first downs to only nine for the losers.

The victory earned Kentucky an invitation to the Orange Bowl football game on Jan. 2, against Santa Clara College of California.

The 21-6 defeat for Miami was the most decisive administered to the Orange, Green & White eleven of the Sunshine State for the current season.

It was also the first time thus far that a team had scored over 14 points against the Hurricanes, who play Maryland Friday in the Maestri City.

Fieger Crosses Goal For UM

Dom Fieger, UK's halfback, fumbled the high-bouncing Miami kick-off and UM recovered on the Kentucky 20. Two running plays off right tackle moved it to the Ky 9 and a first down. Then the Cats' line dug in and stopped three more running plays. With 4th down and nine yards to go, Fieger flipped a pass to Fieger, a 67' end from Cincinnati, who slipped behind the Cat defense and scored easily. Kentucky for PAT was wide and Miami led 6-0, with three minutes gone.

Genito Scores

Ralph Genito, senior fullback, was the big man in UK's first score. He set up the TD early in the second quarter with a 16 yard end-run to the losers' 12 stripe. Howie from the six. Genito bucked to the three, then dove over left tackle for the tying points. Bob Brooks converted his 15th straight extra point and UK led 7-6. No more scoring was done in the half.

Phelps Fools Miami

With Parilli passing to Howie and Claiborne, and Leskovac doing some effective running, the Cats drove deep into Miami territory early in the third quarter. Phelps, the five, dove Phelps took a direct pass from center, raced around right end to fool the white-shirted Hurricanes completely and score UK's second tally. Brooks made another perfect placement.

Notekie Makes 80-Yard Run

Midway in the fourth quarter, Miami threatened to score. But Shorty Jamerson intercepted a pass on the five and ran it back to the 16. On the first play, Leskovac fumbled and Allen recovered for UM on the 15.

Three plays later, Hackett passed from the 16 into the right field. It was short. John Netekie, Cat end, intercepted and raced down the sidelines for 80 yards and UK's final touchdown of the night. Brooks

1949 KENTUCKY WILDCAT SQUAD, which finished the regular season with a 9-2 record, is shown above. This was the best average herd in UK since 1909, when Kentucky won nine out of 10 games. The 32-man squad, along with Coach Bryant and his seven assistants, made the 48th season of the most successful, topping it off by securing a bid to the Orange Bowl in Miami, Fla., on Jan. 2, 1950. These are the Wildcat players: Row 1, Odvick, Uinski, Jamerson, Gain, Moseley, Pope, Schaffit, Truman; Row 2, Howe, Wannamaker, Netekie, Holvac, Genito, Webb, Woodell, Phelps; Row 3, Boller, Baldwin, McConaghey, Bradshaw, McClendon, Clark, Jones, Bruno; Row 4, James, Faei, A. Vols Upset UK Cats, 6-0

By Earl Conn

Kentucky has a bowl bid now, meeting Santa Clara in the Orange Bowl, but things weren't so joyous in Lexington two weeks ago when the Tennessee Volunteers, under Gen. Bob Neyland, came into town to score a 6-0 upset win over the Wildcats.

Kentucky had been primed for this one, but so were the Vols, and Neyland maintained his perfect record of never having been defeated by a Kentucky team since he took over the reins at UT in 1925.

The Vols in winning 6-0 became the first SEC team to score on the Wildcats this season, and consequently the first team to hand the Cats a league defeat. Kentucky wound up its SEC year with a four and one record.

Tennessee scored the lone touchdown of the contest in the first quarter when Gordon Polinsky, Vol fullback, plunged over from the one-yard line.

After End J. W. Sherrill intercepted a pass and returned the ball to the Kentucky 16. On this play a personal foul was called against Kentucky to put the ball on the Wildcat's one-yard stripe. From there Polinsky dove over for the tally.

Kentucky's offensive power never did come through during the afternoon. Only once in the fourth quarter did the Cats drive within scoring distance. However, an intercepted pass quickly ended this threat.

Big Bob Gain played his usual great game for the Cats and was the outstanding player on the field for the Bryant men, while Hank Laurioola, filling in for the injured Hal Littleford, was a sensational star for the Vols. J. W. Sherrill's interceptions of Kentucky's passes were also big factors in the Tennessee upset victory.

Statistics and line-ups were as follows:

First down	10	Ky 10
Net yards gained rushing	47	124
Forwards attempted	15	6
Forwards completed	4	2

Player Of Week

(Miami Game)

John Netoskie

It was midway in the fourth quarter and Kentucky was leading the University of Miami, 14-6, in the battle for the Orange Bowl bid.

A wildcat fullback rammed the center of the Hurricane line and fumbled. UM's big tackle, Harold Allen, recovered and the 42,000 Floridians went wild. Here was a chance to score and more within one point of the favored Kentucky eleven.

Whitney Campbell, UM star back, tried right end but was tossed back for a three-yard loss. Little Jack Hackett, Hurricane quarterback, tried a pass to Fieber but Dick Martin broke it up.

With the ball on UK's 16, third down and 12 yards to go for a first down, Hackett, who had passed for UM's first touchdown early in the game, decided to try another aerial. He faked back, spotted End Tom Kelly racing down the right side and then let go with the pigskin.

The pass was short and Left End John Netoskie immediately saw the possibilities. He took three steps back, reached high in the air, booted the ball in his hands for two or three agonizing seconds, finally got a firm grip and took off down the far sidelines right past the surprised Miami students.

Only one Miami player had a good chance at the flying Kentuckian. But he was pushed out of the way by one of the two Wildcats who ran interference for the guy with the big white '98' on his dark blue shirt. It was good for 80 yards and another score.

As Netoskie crossed the goal, the typewriter ticked high up in the Orange Bowl Stadium yelled "Who is he? Who is that No. 36?" Few knew it was John Netoskie, and even fewer could spell his name correctly.

But Netoskie scored perhaps the most valuable touchdown ever made by a Kentucky player. For this run clinched the Orange Bowl nomination, worth $75,000 to each of the participating teams, by giving Kentucky its third and final touchdown.

Bradbury Wins Turkey Run

By Bill Allen

Overcoming a 26-second handicap, Jim Bradbury, member of the Moonbeam team, easily won the University of Kentucky's first annual cross country Turkey Run. The run was held Saturday, November 19, at 11 a.m.

The Moonbeam team placed the first five men with the lowest number of points across the finish line to win the team prize of a gold cup. The second team to finish with the next lowest number of points and also winning a gold cup was the SAE frat. The winning team also received 10 points toward the year's participation trophy while the second team received 5 points.

The winners of the individual awards were as follows: Jim Bradbury received a large turkey, a medal and 5 points toward the year's participation trophy; second was R. Griffith who was handicapped 45 seconds, received a goose, a medal, and 3 points toward the year's participation trophy; Wallace, third, handicapped 34 seconds, received a duck and medal; fourth, third, handicapped 38 seconds, received chicken and medal; Price fifth, handicapped 45 seconds, received a pig and medal. The individual award for the last man to finish was given to W. E. Wardman, member of the Moonbeam team, who, because of lack of wind, Bradbury, Griffith, and Wallace were all members of the Moonbeam team while Wallace was a member of the Sigma Nu team. Carr was the fifth man to finish for the winning team.

There were five teams of five men or more represented in the contest. The teams that participated were Phi Sigma Kappa, the Moonbeams, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Phi Delta Theta, and Alpha Tau Omega.

Netoskie is one of the 26 sophomores on the Kentucky roster. With the Cats losing Calliak, Claiborn and Charley Bentley via graduation, John might be playing considerable ball next season, especially on the defense.

So for his timely 80-yard touchdown run which helped to give Kentucky a 15-point win over Miami and ultimately a bid to the Orange Bowl game, the Kernel nominates John Netoskie as Player of the Week.

Kentucky scored 43 touchdowns, converted 23 extra point attempts, and scored a safety to amass 394 points this season, while holding their opponents to 53.

Four foes were held scoreless—LSU, Mississippi, Georgia, and the Citadel. The only SEC team to score on the Big Blue was Tennessee, and that touchdown cost them the SEC title.

Three Cats Make Colliers' All-South 11

Coach Paul Bryant's Kentucky Wildcats have placed three players on Colliers' All-South in 1949 (eleven). Carl Snavely's North Carolina team places two, and six other Southern colleges or universities each place one player on the honor eleven—Wake Forest, William & Mary, Mississippi, Maryland, Vanderbilt and Tulane.

Colliers' All-America board of football coaches, including such members as Snavely, Matty Bell, SMU; Frank Leahy, Notre Dame; Lou Little, Columbia, and others, helped to select this Colliers' All-South star team.

There were five teams of five men or more represented in the contest. The teams that participated were Phi Sigma Kappa, the Moonbeams, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Phi Delta Theta, and Alpha Tau Omega.

Basketeers Start Season Saturday In Alumni Gym

By Kent Hollingsworth

Coach Adolph Rupp's basketball team, aiming for another championship season, open its tomorrow night on Indiana Central in Alumni Gymnasium, inaugurating the 1949-50 basketball season.

It will be the fourth straight year the Wildcats have started the season against Coach Angus Nicolson's Greyhounds, and they will be striving for their fourth straight victory. Indiana Central plays Eastern Kentucky experience, having played three games already this season. They opened with a win over Huntington and then Concordia.

This year's Wildcat squad is a good one, but green. They might drop a few games at the beginning of the season, but as the year progresses these boys should start working together, clicking like a load alarm clock for the talent is here, the coach is here, and the desire to be as Fabulous as last year's Four is here.

In this past week's warm up scrimmages, Lefty Jim Line looked like a diamond in a rock quarry. He showed in points from an over, passed off for more assists than ever before, and grabbed rebounds like they were bowl tickets. Kentucky fans have been waiting for three years for the old leader to show his stuff, and it looks like it was well worth the wait. His vast improvement over the days when he did little more than shoot, make this boy one of the leading contenders for All-Southeastern honors this year.

Walt Spidery Hirsch is ready. The burden of the team's success this year, which varies proportional to rebound control, rests on these two boys' shoulders. Both Line and Hirsch have improved a hundred fold on their work under the backboard and should be a match for any of their taller opponents. Hirsch has also perfected a stiff-armed push shot from far out that should loosen tight defenses. He's deceptively fast for his bulk, gets down the floor quick on Kentucky's famed fast break.

The biggest question of the year is consistently shows those points down through the basket, but his rebounding is not the best and his foot work not of the Jim Corbett calibre. However, as long as a man can throw in 15 or 20 points a game, there will be plenty of room for him on Kentucky's basketball floor. Veteran Dale Burnstable, earning his fourth letter here, will be the steady-state lance on the front line. He has the same muscle and determination to win, that made him a first stringer last year on the greatest Kentucky team of all time. He will be the Wildcats' playmaker this season.

Whitney Fearson or Bobby Watson will start at the outer guard position. Fearson brings the ball down fast, is a good long shot, one of the best ball handlers on the squad, and has a "no what" attitude that might stand him in good stead when the chips are down. "Pouter Face" Watson, All-State from Owensboro and one of three Kentucky boys on the 7-foot squad, has the same drive and shooting accuracy of Ralph Beard. He's small but aggressive and gets things done.

Others sure to see plenty of action are Skipper Whitaker, Guy Evers, Bud King, C. M. Newton, Eric Townes, and Roger Layne.

A really outstanding boy, who won't be able to play until January, is 6' 4" Stanley Linnville, who as a high school freshman played on the undefeated Duquesne team that was named out by Walt Whit Jones' Harpoon out for the State championship. He knows basketball, does everything right, rebounds, passes (if, inside with the job of a real champion. He's due to play some first string ball when he becomes eligible.

DisKintucky Sports Review

—By Tom Diskin, Sports Editor—

Congratulations are in order for the Kentucky Wildcat football team. Head Coach Paul Bryant, and his assistant coaches for the successful regular season, which concluded with a 21-6 victory of the University of Miami Hurricanes last Friday night in the Sunshine State.

Receiving a bid to the 16th annual Orange Bowl game is undoubtedly the greatest thing in the 68-year history of UK football. It is a definite indication that at long last Kentucky has "arrived" on the collegiate football scene.

The future looks bright. Coach Bryant is considered one of the nation's best grid tutors and has plenty of talented footballers here which is almost certain to result in Kentucky's remaining in the upper bracket of America's top football teams.

The nine-win and two-loss record by the Big Blue this season is the best in 40 years, and sometimes bitter, years of grind competition. Just two seasons ago, the Cats' best effort was a two-win and eight-loss mark.

Now, in the final Associated Press poll, Kentucky finished as the No. 11 team in the country. According to this rating, which is considered the most prominent of all, the Cats are the second best football team in the entire South, finishing just two positions behind LSU.

Santa Clara, our opponent in the Orange Bowl on Monday, Jan. 2, was listed in the No. 15 spot.

Kentucky's 21-6 win over Miami was much more convincing than the final score indicates. The Cats rolled up 25 first downs (to UMI's nine) and 273 yards in rushing to the opponent's 62.

After the game, Miami's head football coach, Andy Gustafson, said that "this Kentucky team is the best we've played since I came down here. Evidently, my assistant coach for Miami told us that Bryant's boys were big and tough and he was only too right. I hope now we can snap back for our game with Maryland next Friday. You know your team took a lot out of us physically. Now we got another rough game coming up."

Coach Bryant made a big hit with the Miami sportswriters, when, immediately after leaving the dressing room with a vote of acceptance by the Kentucky football team for a bowl bid, he stepped to answer many questions fired at him by the writers with the Orange Bowl selection committee, just a few yards away, waiting to confer with him.

When one of the Kentucky officials reminded the Bear about this, he calmly replied "I've been waiting two weeks" and continued to give his views of the Miami game.

Incidentally, Bryant and his team are very popular down in the Magic City and this fact might pay off again in future years. The Orange Bowl will soon be the third largest in the nation. Plans are being made to eventually expand the stadium from 64,000 to over 75,000, which will then top the capacity in the Cotton Bowl.

One of the unsung players for UK this season has been Hallback Dick Martin, who is generally used on defense. We heard several comments from the coaches and sportswriters on his play last Friday. His tackling at times bordered on the savage side. The 180-pound junior from Chicago looked very impressive on returning a Miami kickoff early in the game.

One of the sportswriters asked Bryant about Martin Saturday after the game. The Bear referred to him as "Old Blood and Guts".

Bobby Brooks continued his perfect extra-point kicking. He made three straight against the Hurricanes to run his string for the season to 17 in a row. At the beginning of the season, Brooks' place kicking was somewhat hampered by a bad knee.

Player Of Week (TENNESSEE GAME) Bob Gain

Hats off to All Conference Tackle Bob Gain! The Kernel staff joins a host of Southern sports writers in acclaiming Big Bob, SEC Player of the Week for his outstanding play in the Tennessee scrap two Saturday's ago.

He played brilliantly throughout the entire game, twice plunging through to maul a Vol ten yards behind scrimmage, just when Tennessee was knocking on Kentucky's door, ready to come in.

These two plays alone were enough to bring cheers from disbelieving Kentucky rofers, but it was his play all the way through, his hard tackling, sure blocking, and constant aggressiveness that won him the award over all other men in the South.

Not only did the Wildcat stalwart block Tennessee plays over the left side of the line, but when given the signal by Captain Harry Ulinski, he shifted to the right side to stop expected runs through that side. Captain Ulinski judged the big man to be the right spot the majority of the game, for almost every line plunge he stopped.

The Kernel sports staff would like to show the movies of the Miami game to UK students. However, Tuesday we learned from one of the coaches that the films of the contest turned out very poorly—almost black. So we had better wait and show the Orange Bowl game movies sometime in early January.

We want to thank Jim Murphy of the Kentucky coaching staff, for narrating the Cat-SMU film shown last week in the BS building.

The turnout for this and the Florida-game movies indicated that students are eager to view them. We'll try to schedule the Orange Bowl game film as soon as possible after the holidays.

The annual football banquet, sponsored by the UK Alumni Association with Executive Secretary Helen King in charge, will be held Monday night, Dec. 5, at 6:30 p.m. in the SUB ballroom.

As usual, a capacity crowd is expected to attend. A. D. Kirwan, former Wildcat football coach and now dean of men, is to be the principal speaker. Head Coach Paul Bryant will review the very successful 1949 season.

Dale Barnstable was elected this week as captain of the 1949-50 Kentucky basketball team. Barney is very popular with his teammates and should make a worthy successor to last season's team leader, Alex Gross.

Barnstable, a senior from Antioch, Ill., lettered in each of his three previous years with the Cat cagers. Last season he played both forward and guard.

Indiana Central's basketball coach, Angus Nicolson, must be a pretty busy fellow around that institution. For he also serves as the athletic director, head football, baseball and track coach.

For the benefit of students desiring to see the Indianapolis Olympians (featuring the ex-Wildcat stars) play during the Christmas holidays, we list their home games, which are played in Butler Uni-

Orange Bowl Ticket Sale Starts Monday, Dec. 5th

Students of the University will have top priority on purchasing tickets starting Monday, Dec. 5, at 8:30 a.m.

According to the athletic office, the UK students will be allocated 2,000 duets at $6 each. Each applicant will be limited to two tickets, which are to be sold at the University Ticket Office located in Alumni Gym.

Students are requested to bring their activity ticket books with them when they purchase the pasteborders to certify that they are enrolled in school here.

Sale of the duets will close on Dec. 10th.

In Class C priority will be the holders of season football tickets for 1949. In Class C are the paying members of the Alumni Association. A total of 3,000 tickets will be sold to these two groups.

Then if any are left, the public sale of the Orange Bowl duets will start Dec. 8, 1949.

Students are requested not to mail in applications. This will save them the cost of handling and mailing. For all others, an extra charge of 50 cents is made for either one or two tickets for handling and mailing.

Alumni members and season ticket holders should mail their applications to: U. of Kentucky Athletic Association, Lexington, and mark envelop "Orange Bowl Tickets".

Bill Leskovar carried the ball more than any other Kentucky player this season. He toted the pigskin 130 times, and gained 629 yards for a 4.9 average.

Referees Frenchy DeMosey and Max Mason, a former major league baseball pitcher, will throw the ball up at 4 o'clock to start off the season for the Wildcats.

Without a doubt, Kentucky's Bob Gain plays All American football.

Yesterday, the Associated Press All-American team was announced and Bob Gain was placed on the second team along with Maryland Ray Krouse. On the first eleven were Tackles Wade Walker, Oklahoma Jim Martin, Notre Dame, and By Kent Hollingsworth

Applications Now Accepted For DePaul Game Tickets

Students desiring tickets to the Kentucky-DePaul basketball game at Louisville on Dec. 21, Wednesday, are requested to fill out a regular application at the University's ticket office in Alumni gym between now and Dec. 10 (Saturday).

Each individual will be limited to two tickets. The price is $2.50 for side-seats and $2 for end zone seats.

For those desiring to mail in applications, the address is Ticket Manager, U. of Ky. Athletic Association, Lexington. A charge of 25 cents will be made for the mailing fee.

In the event that all tickets are not taken during the above stated period, Dec. 1-10 (those remaining will be placed on sale three days prior to the game: one-half in Alumni Gym and one-half at the Armory in Louisville, site of the game.

Only one team scored more than one touchdown against the Cats—Southern Methodist—who racked up three.

Basketeers Start

Running into team is like lunging into a closed door in the middle of the night; it rattles a man's spine.

Coach Bryant's modified two-platoon system is simplified to the extent that Gain stays in all the time. On offense he can open up a hole long enough and big enough to push a wagon through. On defense, despite his size, he is fast breaking through the line to catch the ball carrier before he can scoot around the other end. This is where individual linemen really shine—in the opposition's backfield—and Gain sparkles like a true star.

Without a doubt, Kentucky's Bob Gain plays All American football.

Steps Taken All

Big Bob was hailed as one of the greatest line prospects ever to enroll at Kentucky three years ago. An All State hero from Weirton, W. Va., he was 6'3", 220-pounds and like John Henry the railroad man, still growing. He grew into one of Kentucky's greatest tackles, one that can stand beside All-American Clyde Johnson and still look good.

He plays hard, steady, methodical football, is one of the main factors in Kentucky's league leading defensive record. Florida's Chuck Hunsinger, who calls yardage as a jaunt.

Harry Ulinski and Babe Parilli for making Collier's All-south eleven. Gain and Ulinski also made the Associated Press and the United Press All-Conference first team. If Gain isn't selected on one of the major All-American teams, it will be a felony of the first order. He has played great ball in every appearance, particularly against the ragged lines of Southern Methodist, Mississippi, and Tennessee. His two performances against Tennessee in 1948 and again this season) ranked on the sensation side.
