"DART" BRYSON MARRIED SEPT. 30.

Mr. A. T. "Dart" Bryson, a former student of State, was married on last Wednesday, Sept. 30th, to Miss Juliet Gaines, of Frankfort.

Mr. Bryson graduated in both the Arts and Science and College of Law. He was quite well known and popular being a member of the Varsity baseball team, editor-in-chief of The IDEA and numerous other student offices. He has served his district in the State Legislature and is at present practicing law in Ashland, Ky.

Miss Gaines was a popular and much admired girl in the University from 1909 to 1913, graduating with the class of 1913.

AN EASY VICTORY FOR WILDCAT TEAM

Kentucky's Invincible Lads Smother Maryville by the Big Score of 80 to 0.

MISSISSIPPI A. & M. NEXT.

Another parade was "pulled off" last Saturday at Stoll Field when the Varsity beat Maryville 80 to 0. State's backfield scoring machine was in fine shape as the count shows and the game was replete with long and spectacular runs.

Although the score made by the "Cats" was only seven less than made against Wilmington, the game, from the spectator's standpoint, was fifty per cent better.

The Maryville team was a scrappy, clean bunch of men, but were not strong enough to stand the wear and tear of the Wildcat offense.

State's first touchdown came after a minute of playing. Maryville kicked off to Roth, who returned to the fifty-yard line. State's first play was fumbled and Park punted. Lloyd dropped it and Hite recovered the pigskin on the ten-yard line and Tuttle carried it over. Before the quarter was up twenty-seven points had been rolled up by the Blue and White, twenty-six points were added to the second period and the half ended with State fifty-three points to the good.

In the third quarter the Tennesseans braced and held the "Cats" to one lonesome touchdown, made near the end of the quarter. In the last period, though State pulled up and added another twenty points, Maryville in this quarter also put up a good fight and at one time threatened to score but two attempts at drop-kick by Henry, fell short, one by inches, and State was saved.

State's whole backfield ran seemingly at will through the Southerner's and its work against real teams, such as Mississippi A. & M., Purdue, Cincinnati and University of Tennessee will be watched with interest.

PHILOSOPHIANS GIVE MASQUERADE PARTY

Opening Entertainment For Year Proves Notable Social Event.

The Philosopher Literary Society, composed of the women students of State University, entertained with a masquerade Friday night at Patterson Hall, in honor of the Freshman girls.

The dance was opened by a grand march, led by Miss Lila Estes, president of the society, and Miss Christine Hopkins. After the march, the Virginia reel was danced, and the long lines of charming girls, picturesquely garbed, was the prettiest sight the old gymnasium had witnessed in many a day.

Great ingenuity was shown in the costuming, and many unique and clever effects were the result. Witches, gypsies, Colonial dames, woggle-bugs and devils mingled in happy disregard of pictorial harmony.

Games and dancing were the order of the evening, and after refreshments were served, Prof. E. F. Farquhar made a clever speech and presented the prize for the most original costume. It was won by Miss Marie Becker, who portrayed the character of "Alice in Wonderland."

The prize was a beautifully bound copy of Mrs. Browning's "Sonnets from the Portuguese." Miss Becker and Miss Elizabeth Booker tied for it and Miss Becker was the fortunate one.

The committee of judges was composed of Judge Barker, Professor Farquhar, Miss Mary G. Fisher and Miss Bettie Hopper.

The masquerade was one of the most enjoyable entertainments ever given by the girls, and the affair was successful enough to be ample reward for the work of the committee.

Serving on the social committee were Miss Christine Hopkins, chairman, with Miss Ina Darnall and Miss Natalie Wood. The refreshments were in charge of Miss Julia Van Arsdale, chairman, with Miss Annie Hodges and Miss Annie Lewis Whitworth. For decorations Miss Marie Louise Michot, with Miss Elsie Heller, were responsible.

Potted plants and golden rods were used attractively, and small tea tables were scattered down each side of the long hall.

The officers have many attractive plans in view for the coming year, and the Philosopher is looking forward to the most successful year in its history. Many high-class programs are being prepared, and new members will find the literary society one of the most enjoyable features in University life.

But now it's disappeared!

HALLOWE'EN TO BE "AMATEUR NIGHT"

Strollers Will Begin Important Work in Early Fall.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

The Strollers had their first meeting of the year Tuesday, October 6, at which the election of officers was held. J. Esten Bolling was re-elected president; Miss Rebecca Smith, made vice-president; Herald Graham, stage manager, and Frank Kenedy, secretary. The election of a business manager was postponed until the next meeting.

The president appointed Miss Christine Hopkins to the play committee for the year, and Miss Smith was appointed by Mr. Graham. The committee as it stands is composed of Mr. Bolling, Mr. Graham, Professor Weaver, Miss Smith and Miss Hopkins. They will select all productions put on by the Strollers this year.

The Dramatic Club will take charge of the Halloween program, and desires to have an "amateur night." This is done in order to "get a line on" new material in college. Prizes of not inconsiderable value will be awarded the successful contestants.

The list of acts for which any one may enter, follows:

1. Dramatic readings (girls only).
2. Dramatic monologues (men only.)
3. Character songs.
4. Classic dancing.
5. Acrobatic feats.
6. Sleight-of-hand tricks, magic, etc.

The concluding numbers will be a short play, put on by the Strollers, merely to "wind up" the program, not in competition.

The six turns are open to all University students, and the Strollers hope for a large number of contestants. For further information, or for entrance registration, participants may see the Halloween committee, Miss Bessie White, Miss Natalie Wood, John Marsh, Herbert Graham,

ANNUAL TAG DANCE TO BE "SWELL" AFFAIR

Six "No Breaks" Program Will Give All Seniors Chance at "Her."

The strains of the two step and waltz will sound in the walls of the armory on Friday evening, October 16, when the first dance of the season, the annual tag dance, will be given there.

This dance given each year for the benefit of the "Kentuckian," is one of the best dances of the season. The tickets admitting "you and her" cost $1.00—the same as for stags.

Since there are to be six "no breaks" in the program of eighteen dances, nearly every fellow will get a chance to dance with the especially dear girl.

Goodwin's Saxophone Trio will furnish music, the program of which follows:

- Rebecca of Sunny-Brook Farm. Cecile.
- I'm the Guy Who Paid the Rent for Mrs. Rip Van Winkle.
- Selection from Sari.
- By the Sea.
- Sextette from Lucia.
- The High Cost of Loving.
- Congratulations.
- You're Here and I'm Here, so What Do We Care.
- Sky Lark Love.
- Ballin' the Jack.
- My Croony Melody.
- Just a Little Love, a Little Kiss.
- I'm Crying Just For You.
- If I Should Meet you Face to Face.
- Il Trovatore.
- Saxophone Rag.
- At the Close of a Perfect Way.
- Medley of Preceding Waltzes.

chairman.

A committee was also appointed to select and fit up a studio on the campus. At last the Strollers are to have a home of their own! Many plans are being formulated, and with its organization practically perfected, the Dramatic Club will, without doubt, experience a big year—notable for good productions and remarkable progress.

SENIORS TO PLAN BIG DELIVERY SYSTEM

Dean W. E. Rowe, of the College of Civil Engineering of State University, is planning to have two members of the Senior class prepare theses on a "General Delivery System for Mercantile Houses for the City of Lexington." This work will require a great deal of investigation on the part of the writers, as all of the merchants of the city will have to be investigated and an estimate of the present cost of delivery obtained.

It is believed that by having the city laid off in routes and one truck for each route, the cost of delivery will be reduced about seventy-five per cent. A central depot would have to be built and all packages for delivery sent to this depot, the number of packages sent determining the total expense of delivery.

HOME ECONOMICS TAKES UP ITS WORK

Business Session Followed by Social Hour and Refreshments are Served.

The Home Economics Club held a pleasant and profitable meeting Monday afternoon in the lecture room on the third floor of the Education Building. This society was organized last May by the Senior girls of the Home Economics Department.

Those eligible to membership are all girls taking a two or four-years' major course in Home Economics. It was the great pleasure of the old members to welcome about sixteen new members into their midst Monday.

A sincere and graceful welcome address was given by the president, Miss Elsie Speck. This was followed by an interesting talk on the purpose of the club by Miss Jessie Acker. She told how it was their desire to cultivate pride in the Home Economics Department and help in every possible way to build up the department.

All of the Home Economics teachers co-operate with the club and at least one is present at each meeting.

Once a month this club holds a joint meeting with the Agricultural Society.

Miss Lulia Purnell read the constitution so that the new members might become acquainted with its contents.

After the meeting a social hour was held and refreshments served. This was much enjoyed by all. The next meeting, which will be held Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, is being anticipated with pleasure.

The officers of the society are: President, Elsie Speck. Vice-President, Julia Van Arsdale. Treasurer, Lois Bartlett. Secretary, Linda Purnell. Editor, Jessie Acker. Assistant Editor, Katherine Mitchell.

Louisville Club will meet in chapel Thursday, October 8, at noon. Election of officers.

THE ORPHEUM THEATRE

J. H. STAMPER, Jr., Owner and Manager.

EVA TANGUAY.

One of the most important events of the young theatrical season is the announcement of the coming of "The madcap comedienne" Eva Tanguay, in a new farce with songs, "Miss Tobasco," at the Ben Ali, Friday and Saturday, and Saturday matinee. This piece has been the reigning sensation of most of the prominent European capitals during the past season. It is from the pens of Julian Horst and Arthur Lippachitz, who wrote a comedy that enjoyed considerable vogue in this country a few years ago, namely, "The Blue Mouse." Miss Tanguay's name is certainly one to conjure with. It is a veritable box office magnet that has never failed to attract theatre-goers, and in consequence thereof, she is the most imitated actress in the world. Her very name inspires new life, jollity, happiness, and good fellowship. She has interpolated fifteen musical numbers, all of which were written by John Ford, and carries her own special orchestra of fifteen musicians. The company surrounding the star are all actors of Metropolitan reputation. "Miss Tobasco" is shortly to be seen in New York after appearing here.

"THE YELLOW TICKET"

The status of the Jew in modern Russia is dwelt upon in the new play "The Yellow Ticket," which comes to the Ben Ali Theatre on Monday and Tuesday. Mr. Michael Morton, the author of the play, spent a year or more in St. Petersburg to study local conditions for his drama, and according to the playwright "The Yellow Ticket" is very close to his heart. "I have been fearful," says Mr. Morton, "of calling my play Russian. I should like to think that its appeal will be universal. It is for that reason that I have selected the quotation "The Hound of Another's Hell, Leaves Us No Rest," from an essay of Colonel Nevins, the British author, to place at the head of the program. Please make it clear that there are no Nihilists and no bombs in "The Yellow Ticket," which deals with an ultra-modern phase of Russian life.

In the cast of "The Yellow Ticket" are such well-known names as Mr. Warner Oland, Edward Foley, Wm. Macauley, Edwin Maxwell, Miss Maud Gilbert and Mary Ward Holton.

"POTASH & PERLMUTTER."

"Potash & Perlmutter" an "up-to-date garment in three pieces," made from material in the famous Saturday Evening Post stories of Montague Glass, and presented by Manager A. H. Woods, will come to the Ben Ali Wednesday and Thursday, and Thursday matinee, direct from its second year's run at the Colan Theatre, New York City. This is the play that created the sensation of the season by its overwhelming and immediate success. No more remarkable and substantial recognition of a play has ever been given that that accorded to this three-act comedy. Although it is literally "trimmed with a thousand laughs," as the program announces, there is so much of heart interest in the story that many of these laughs come just in time to chase away the tears.

RECEPTION OF THE CATHOLIC STUDENTS

Arrangements Being Made for Event to be Held October 14.

At a meeting of the Catholic students of the University, held in the chapel at noon, Monday, October 5, arrangements were made for a reception to Catholic students, to be held at K. of C. Hall on Wednesday evening, October 14.

About twenty students were present from a total of about sixty, who are eligible to membership in the Catholic club which will be formed, and it is for the purpose of having these students meet each other socially that the reception will be held. A committee, composed of Leo J. Sandmann, L. J. Emmert and E. E. Taylor was appointed, who will have the entertainment in charge. They will be assisted in their arrangements by Miss Marguerite McLaughlin and James B. Lyons.

All Catholic students of the University will be officially notified of the reception.

Last year over $11,000 was spent to support athletics at Ohio Wesleyan University.

THE SHIRKER ALWAYS A DISMAL FAILURE

The world owes no man any more than he willingly tries to put into it. The man who seeks to get more out of life than he is pleased to put in will fall dismally. Success may seem to smile upon the shirker at times, but on the final reckoning he will come short in his accounts. Better think about it.—Reflector.

YEARLINGS TO MEET MANUAL HIGH TEAM

Stoll Field, Saturday, 3:00 O'clock.

The Freshman football team, which has been working out daily under the direction of Prof. J. J. Tigert, will meet the strong Manual Training High School team, of Louisville, on Stoll Field, Saturday afternoon, October 10. The Varsity team will not play on this date, and the Freshmen will hold the center of interest.

The Louisville team will match up pretty evenly in weight with the State boys, and the game will probably be close.

The Freshmen have a hard schedule ahead of them until Thanksgiving Day, when they end the season here with the Freshmen team of the University of Tennessee.

The probable line-up of the Freshmen will be:

Simpson ..... L. G.
Dempsey ..... C.
Spalding ..... R. G.
Serber ..... R. T.
C. Haydon ..... R. E.
Grabfelder or Sole ..... R. H.
Britton ..... F. B.
Gibson or Kinne ..... L. H.

INVITATION TO THE STROLLERS AND JOURNALISTS

Mr. H. Van Gurnee, manager of the Ada Meade Theatre, has extended to the Strollers Dramatic Club and to students in the Journalism Department, an invitation to hear a talk on "The Theatre, and Play-Making," to be given at the Ada Meade Theater next week.

The exact date has not been decided on, but the lecture will probably be given on the morning of October 17. It will be announced later.

A valuable prize is offered to the student of the journalism classes, who do the best write-up of the talk.

Mr. Enoch Grehan, head of the journalism work, says he will double Mr. Gurnee's prize. Let the dramatic club and the journalists show their appreciation of this interest in their work by turning out in a body to the lecture.

MINING SOCIETY MEETS— TOM ROBINSON PRESENT

The first meeting of the year of the Kentucky Mining Society was held Tuesday evening in the Mining Building. The following officers were elected:

W. H. Noel, President.
S. J. Caudill, Vice-President.
Christopher Eyl, Secretary and treasurer.

Interesting talks were given by Mr. S. J. Caudill and Mr. H. C. Thompson about their experiences in the coal fields last summer.

Mr. Thomas Robinson, of the '14 class, was at the society meeting. He has been employed as mine foreman by the Darby Coal Co., of Darby, Va., where, since his graduation, he has increased the output of the mine from 5,000 tons to over 6,000 tons. Mr. Robinson's excellent record attracted the attention of the North East Coal Co., and Tom has been called to Auxier to take charge of one of their mines there.

HENRY CLAY SOCIETY.

The Henry Clay Law Society met last Monday night as usual, with President Morris presiding. After the gavel sounded for order, business began by electing a secretary, a sergeant-at-arms, and hearing the reports of the different committees.

Report of the committee which had been appointed to select rules to govern the house was accepted by the society to take effect at once. The rules reported and accepted were those adopted at the last session of the Kentucky Legislature. The society itself has been turned into a legislative body and has taken on the dignity which necessarily belongs to a body of that character.

Mr. B. T. Rountree, a member of the last Legislature in this State, was elected speaker of the house and immediately took up his duties. He was the popular choice of all the members regardless of politics, and his service for the evening proved that he was the man for the place, and a master of such ceremonies.

The Biological Club met in the Agricultural Building Friday evening, October 2nd, under the direction of Prof. McFarland. The evening was spent in organization and in perfecting plans for the future. Mr. A. C. Young was elected president by acclamation. The remainder of the officers will be elected at the next meeting, Friday, October 16. The remainder of the program will consist of an address by some member of the faculty. Students from any of the colleges who are interested in scientific work along the lines of biology and natural history are invited to become members of the club.

The Transylvania University football team defeated Maryville Monday afternoon at the baseball park by the score of 67 to 0. The Maryville boys showed the effects of the hard game played on Saturday with Kentucky State, while the T. U. huskies kicked, passed and ran with the ball and scored almost at will. The report is that T. U. will have the best team that has represented the University for several seasons past.

H. W. Davies, business agent of the University, arrived in Lexington last Wednesday from Washington, D. C., where he held a conference with President Woodrow Wilson in regard to the coal miners' strike in Colorado. The commission for mediation of the strike is composed of Mr. Davies and W. R. Fairley. They have for their secretary H. B. Davies, the son of H. W. Davies, who is now in Denver, Colorado, with Mr. Fairley, where they are trying to bring about a peaceful settlement.

Out at the University of Colorado they have hired a coach for the co-eds and athletics for women seem to be on the boom there. The University of Colorado is noted for its progressive-ness.

A test of the materials to be used for the new roads in Lewis County has just been completed in the new road-testing laboratory of the Civil Engineering Department of the State University. In this laboratory it is possible to determine by various machines the strength and wearing qualities of the material to be used. Lewis County is the first to take advantage of the Good Roads Bill passed by the last Legislature, by which the State agrees to pay one-half the cost of construction of roads if the county raises the other half. Dean Rowe of the Civil Engineering Department, says that it is only a question of time until the other counties take advantage of the law and begin building roads.

The debating council of the University of Kentucky has received a challenge from the University of North Carolina, for an inter-collegiate debate between these two universities. The council of Kentucky University, composed of Professors E. F. Farquhar, J. T. C. Noe, Charles P. Weaver and Judge Lyman Chalkley, framed a reply to the challenge and discussed means to get debates with other universities, probably those of Tennessee and Indiana.

Dr. William Anderson, director of the Department of Physical Education at State, announces that arrangements have been completed for a track meet to be held October 31, on Stoll Field. The meet is only for the students of this University who have not made places on one of the 'Varsity teams. This new feature has aroused considerable interest among the students.

Freshman at Transylvania University will wear green caps this year in accordance with the dictates of the Seniors. The Seniors will carry canes and wear monocles as a mark of class distinction.

A School of Journalism has been established at the University of Montana, at Missoula, Mont., the purpose and course of study of which are similar to those of the recently established School of Journalism at the University of Kentucky. The aim of the school as set forth in the catalogue is "to teach a man so that he will be able to get into a newspaper office with knowledge of what he is to do and how best to do it, without the notion that he can effect an immediate revolution in methods and without the intention to run the office."

The football game on Stoll Field between the State Freshmen and Lexington High School, originally scheduled for November 14, has been changed to October 30, at which time the Orange and Black boys have fond hopes of putting it over the "freshies."

High School is scheduled to play Georgetown, Monday, October 12, and Manager W. H. Prewitt is trying to arrange games with Covington High School and Woodward High, of Cincinnati, for some time during the season.

About three hundred students of the College of Agriculture of Kentucky State University spent Monday afternoon at the trotting track as guests of the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association through the courtesy of President Ed. A. Tipton. The students were in charge of Professor J. J. Hooper, professor of animal husbandry.

Prof. E. F. Farquhar, of the Department of English, has been requested to deliver several addresses before various educational bodies over the State during the next few days. On Wednesday he will deliver an address before the Teachers' Institute at Richmond. Both afternoon and evening, on Thursday, he will address the Medical School, at Louisville, and on October 16 he will address a convention of several counties at Springfield.

Mr. Roy H. Thomas, of the class of 1913, graduated from the department of history, who was last year a popular and successful teacher in the Fulton High School, is now instructor in history and economics in the Shenandoah Military Academy, in Winchester, Va.

LAW NOTES

LEXINGTON AFTER FEDERAL COURT

Members of the Law Department are quite interested in the efforts to establish a Federal Court in Lexington. Attorney Harry B. Miller, a graduate of the College of Law last year, has been actively at work for several days in circulating a petition among the local lawyers in behalf of the project. The Lexington merchants will also give their assistance and the Kentucky Senators, James and Camden, will be asked to use all their influence in establishing a Federal Court in Lexington.

THE KENTUCKY LAW JOURNAL.

The Kentucky Law Journal will be edited this year by Mr. I. M. Nickell. With the invaluable assistance of Judge Lyman Chalkley, whose work has made the publication a success in the past, the law students have heretofore published a very credible journal. It is everywhere commented upon favorably.

Mr. Nickell will undoubtedly "make good" as editor. Mr. J. N. Farmer is assistant editor and Mr. B. L. Nesbit, business manager.

Mr. J. W. McDonald, of Mayfield, Ky., has registered in the College of Law. Mr. McDonald spent one year in the Arts and Science Department in 1906-1907.

The friends of Mr. B. T. Rountree will be quite interested to know of his recent marriage to Miss Virginia Ditto, of Brandenburg, Ky. Their friendship dates back to May, of 1912, when Mr. Rountree represented the University in the Kentucky Intercollegiate Oratorical Association, held at Georgetown College. Miss Ditto was a student at Georgetown College at that time.

They are at present residing in this city at 348 Harrison Avenue.

JAPANESE FLOWER GARDEN.

Time is never very fleeting in bringing about desirable improvements on the campus. For years a beautiful pool decorated the northwest corner of the college green, which was lately drained for specific reasons. Since that time we have gazed at the weedy pool with increasing nausea. It is difficult to imagine that the present surroundings are an improvement over previous sanitary conditions.

Last year a report was circulated that the authorities had planned to make a sunken garden, but still weeds only blossom and willows wave in the breezes. A garden would add great attractiveness to the sunken spot and to the whole campus in general, yet the location is so valuable to set aside for flowers flourishing in that expensive setting.

At a little expense this pond could be filled, adding very much in appearance and sanitary conditions of the campus. Then after a few years the vacant spot would be in order for some site worth while.

In the meantime, during the settling period, the plain could be planted in flowers or set off for tennis courts. Later, when greater expansion comes to the University, here could be stationed some building that would reflect honor upon the Commonwealth and bring dignity to the University.

NOT PINING, BUT—

I do not pine for human gore,
Yet boldly I assert
I'd like to slap the brainless yag
Who calls a girl a "skirt."

I pine not to bring others woe—
I trust I'm not so mean;
But I would like to swat the bo
Who calls a girl a "queen."
—Houston Post.

I pine to see no injured gink
Clutch at himself and wall;
But I'd like to boot the cruel galoot
Who calls a girl a "frail."
—New York Evening Sun.

I am not prone to violence,
But I should like to maul
And kick and muss the inane cuss
Who call a girl "some doll."
—Judge.

I am not prone to heart attacks
But it fills my heart with pain,
And I'd like to kick the brainless mick
Who calls a girl a "jane."

In this column we will play no favorites—favorites sometimes come in behind a long shot, anyway, and we played one of "them" things once.

Very likely Alfred Britain is no relative of Great Britain nor is George Cherry good to eat, but its a cinch that Gatewood Ireland has friends in Cork.

W. H. Dix says Julius Wolf cheats the shoe dealers every time he buys a pair of shoes, as he gets ten dollars' worth of leather for four dollars' worth of currency.

Professor Melcher has announced that yelling will not be permitted in chapel. If this "goes," and Lieutenant Underwood succeeds in his efforts to settle the Senior-Freshman embroglio, the students will soon have nothing to do but to study, attend classes, and do a little crocheting in the evenings.

R. E. Hundley has been elected president of the Junior class and his only thought now is to lead the Junior "Prom" in the "first 'biled' shirt and dress suit I ever had on."

The Seniors are discussing the adoption of their corduroys. Patt Hall wants a girl on the corduroy committee, but of course the girls will wear theirs in the form of dresses, for there are not enough Suffragettes in Patt Hall to make a majority.

Business Agent H. Davies conferred with President Wilson in Washington last week. Keep tab on the papers for an item about college students being charged an additional matriculation fee to help raise that $100,000,000 revenue deficiency.

In the first two games of the season, State has piled up a total of 167 points and has not been scored on. We wonder if there is anything in the old adage that "coming events cast their shadows before."

Did you notice how the Maryville left end, the little pigeon-breasted gink with the ebony-crested pompadour, avoided the scrimmages and played safe? Don't blame him, as he might be a practical exponent of "Safety First."

A Mechanical named Waterfill qualified for the track team last week when the Seniors started to run the clippers through his beautiful locks, but being a Freshman of course he was not supposed to know that track practice does not start until spring.

The difference between "Squirrely" Tuttle and other football players is that the other players wait for a gap in the line while "Squirrely" carries his own gap with him.

In the Maryville game, "Sheriff" Hawkins several times urged Doctor Pryor to "start to the rescue before the player died," but that was all right as he had no classes under the Doctor.

There is something harder to bear than the reverse of fortune. It is the ingratitude of man.—Napoleon.

UNION SOCIETY HOLDS ITS REGULAR SESSION

The Union Literary Society of State University met in regular session in the society hall, Saturday night, October 3.

The first number of the program consisted of Scripture reading and prayer by J. T. Gouch. Daniel Roberts followed with an address on "The Use of Knowledge." Mr. Roberts discussed the subject mainly from a practical viewpoint. He held that the only solution for the problem of intemperance and immorality was more knowledge.

The society was unusually fortunate in having Prof. W. E. Butt address the body on "Why a Freshman Should Join a Literary Society." It was the opinion of all old members that Professor Butt's talk was as "seed sown upon good ground which brought forth a hundred fold," for at the close of the meeting many Freshmen presented their names for membership.

The question for debate was: "Resolved, that the hen that laid the egg has a better claim to the chickens than the hen that hatched the egg."

The affirmative was represented by Messrs. J. O. Kelley and A. C. Young and the negative by Messrs. H. F. Felix and L. R. Nelson. The speakers on both sides were versed in the poultry business, and their arguments were logical and driven home, but the judges, after some hesitation, agreed that the parentage of the chicken should be placed to the hen that laid the egg.

At the close of the business session Messrs. Charles Bourland, E. Y. Allen, June Lewis and W. D. Her were initiated into the society.

PATTERSON SOCIETY HAS FINE PROGRAM

European War and Freshmen's Hair Subjects of Rousing Speeches.

Patterson Society showed its great progress Saturday evening, by having a larger number present than in any of the previous meetings this year. The program was rendered with great enthusiasm.

Among the most interesting numbers of the evening was Mr. Heinman's talk in behalf of Germany. Mr. Heinman is thoroughly convinced that the policy and attitude of Germany in the present war is right. He says that Germany was forced by ties of duty to enter the war and that the American press has been a little unfair to her.

At the close of Mr. Heinman's talk and in the absence of the speaker who was to defend the Allies, a bold young man rose from the middle of the audience and asked if he might be permitted to speak a few words in behalf of the Allies. The young man was Harry Powell, a Freshman. Though Mr. Powell was not a member of the society he was given the floor and asked to talk as long as he wished.

Mr. Powell's talk was made without former preparations, yet it was vigorous and filled with patriotic enthusiasm. He made a hard fight in behalf of the Allies. He said that he believed that the Kaiser of Germany and Frances Joseph, of Austria, would have to answer for the frightful effects of the war.

The debate, "Resolved, that the Freshmen's hair should be cut," was well handled by the four debaters, E. P. Wilkerson and J. F. Rash for the affirmative, and E. L. Fowler and J. T. Jones for the negative. The contest was close and was decided in favor of the negative. The judges were B. D. Sartin, O. R. Willet and G. F. Wilson.

SENIOR CLASS HOLDS ANNUAL ELECTION

Work of Former Meeting is Concluded and Good Choice Made.

The Senior class met Friday noon for the purpose of electing officers other than president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, as these officers had already been elected. The entire class was in attendance and President Park presided in the chair.

Mr. W. S. Berkshire, a Senior law and an orator of renown, was selected as class valedictorian.

The honor of class orator, which is a very desirable one, was won by Mr. J. E. Bolling.

Miss Elizabeth Moore was selected for historian. She is intimately acquainted with most of her classmates and adequately prepared to fill this position.

For class grumbler, Sam ("Buck") Courtenay was unanimously elected, not that he always has a grouch, but because he knows the trials and tribulations of a student and can appreciate the position of one who is forced to grumble.

Frank Kennedy was elected Giftorian.

The office of class prophet will be held by Miss Christine Hopkins. This is perhaps the most interesting of all offices, but by no means the easiest to fill.

No nomination was made for class poet, an honor to be accorded at some future date.

EDISON DAY.

October 21st is designated as Edison Day. It is the thirty-fifth anniversary of the day the noted inventor gave the incandescent lamp to the world, and its observance will be nation-wide.

The invention of the incandescent lamp, wherein the filament is heated to incandescence by the heating effect of an electric current, was the first great step in the solution of modern lighting problems.

The succeeding history of the incandescent lamp is of absorbing interest, from the first carbonized bamboo filament to the present tungsten of remarkable efficiency. Efficient light is, perhaps, one of the chiefest engineering problems before the world today. Thomas A. Edison's contributions to modern lighting methods are more notable and valuable than those of any other engineer.

The observance of Edison Day is a tribute unique in our history, but one of unquestionable merit.

On Tuesday morning, through Professor Anderson, the members of the Senior class were recipients of large photogravures of Mr. Edison, presented by L. C. Bridges, of the class of 1910. Mr. Bridges is now an illuminating engineer with the General Electric Co., at Harrison, N. J.

PROF. McCONATHY SPEAKS TO A. I. E. E.

At the last meeting of the A. I. E. E., held October 13th, at 11:30 o'clock, the organization enjoyed a brief talk by Prof. W. J. McConathy, of Louisville, Ky.

Professor McConathy is a native of Lexington, having left this city at the age of eleven. He studied in the primary department of Transylvania University and received a common school education. He was the first to agitate manual training in the schools of this country and was directly instrumental in the founding of the duPont Manual Training School at Louisville.

Prof. McConathy's speech was brief but of exceeding beauty of thought and expression. He is an aged man of impressive appearance and he lent the fire of a consummate conviction to his words.

A random resume of the Professor's admirable talk follows.

"You who can possess yourselves of a collegiate education are highly privileged. You are representatives of culture, refinement, high aspirations and noble character. And these are greater than scientific knowledge. A developed mind is admirable, but nobility of character is more to be desired. Ignorance and virtue is preferable to knowledge and sin.

"A man is born without a mind and he must build his intellect by personal effort. This can be accomplished only by means of a thorough physical and spiritual equipment.

You have your destiny in your own hands. It lies in the capacity of your brain. The joy, peace and satisfaction of your declining days will be exactly proportional to the reverence and love you have offered to your maker. A religious affiliation is essential. I prophesy that your own exact science will ultimately reveal to the world the truth of religion. There is but one dependence and that dependence is in a spiritual God.

"Go out from this house in the strength of that spirit which says I will use my gifts aright."

SENIORS INSPECT FRANKLIN TEST CAR

On September 25th, the Senior class as a body, proceeded from the hall to the Phoenix Motor Car Co. on Main Street, being conveyed thither in a motor vehicle furnished by the company. The purpose of the visit was to inspect the engine of the Franklin test car, which had just completed a notable trial run. The inspection was under the direction of instructors Duncan and Wilhoite.

The Franklin is a six-cylinder, air-cooled car, manufactured by the Franklin Automobile Company, of Syracuse, N. Y.

The test car used was a six-thirty touring car, carrying as passengers, Mr. Hamilton, of the Phoenix Motor Car Company, driver, Mr. Wm. Phillips, sales manager of the local company, Mr. Townsend, of the Lexington Herald and Mr. Walker, the latter two being official observers.

The car was run 220 miles before beginning the test. On the test the engine was run for eleven hours without stopping. Official time for test was 9 hours and 30 minutes. Distance covered being 104.7 miles. The entire run was made on low gear. The fuel consumed was 8 gallons of gasoline and the lubrication, 5 pints of Quaker State Medium Oil.

The car weighs 2750 pounds on the road and sells, completely equipped, for $2,150.00. The body is constructed of aluminum and the frame of good.

At the conclusion of the test the hand could be placed upon any part of any cylinder without discomfort. The carbon deposit was very slight and the condition of the engine was perfect.

This test furnishes more or less conclusive evidence that the air-cooling system is superior to the water-cooling system for motor cars.

Engineers agree that if the air-cooling system will cool satisfactorily it has the distinct advantages of being simple, efficient and non-freezing. The test indicates that it cools very effectively and satisfactorily. z his old left tackle job and with more practice should regain his 1913 form handily. "Wrasty" Wright, the baseball captain last spring, took Karl Zerfoss' place at the end of the first quarter and played a good game, his tackling being sure and showing plenty of nerve.

Although easily defeated Maryville had three good men in the line-up. Eond, the left end, was a sure and hard tackler, as "Turkey" will acknowledge, and handles passes well. Butler, at left half, several times hit the line for pains and with a better team behind him should prove a star. Quarterback Floyd also acquitted himself well and showed good form in open field running. Bryson also deserves mention as at times he played strong.

NOTES OF THE CONFLICT.

"Bill" Bailey was right in the game. He tackled all over the field and his interference for a Wildcat back was pretty to see.

There is no game scheduled until October 17th, when the big home game with Mississippi A. & M. College will be played.

Practically the whole Varsity team played the entire game. Coach Brumage believed in giving his men a hard workout, as he had a two weeks rest ahead of him.

The Cincinnati Post says, "A new soubriquet has been given George Little, very coach of University of Cincinnati. He is called 'On the Hop' Little."

Little seems to have developed a good team at the Queen City and should give the Wildcats some scrap when they meet on October 31st, at Cincinnati. Who's going?

Doctor Anderson, who took Mr. Rasmussen's place as director of the gymnasium, has his classes going well. He intends to have a track meet the latter part of the month for the benefit of the men who take gymnasium.

HIGH SCHOOL "GRADS" IN STATE UNIVERSITY

Sufficiency and Attractiveness of Courses Offered Appeal to All.

The sufficiency and attractiveness of the courses of study offered by State University this year are shown by the large number of graduates from the Lexington High School attending this session. Thirty-five out of a class of fifty-four are already enrolled in some one of the departments. For the boys the Mechanical and Agricultural courses divide honors as to popularity. Each of these received seven of the young students. Besides these courses there are also courses in law and journalism, besides the regular classes in the College of Arts and Sciences.

The journalistic course, although a new one in State University training, promises to be a popular one and opened the semester with 25 students.

The Course in Home Economics deserves all the enrollment which it received. Four of the young women are now engaged in this study, while most of the others are engaged in the study of kindred sciences.

In athletics Simpson and Rodes have already shown how valuable they will be to the Freshman football squad this year by their work on the gridiron so far. Rodes was the plucky quarter on High School last year who carried his team to victory many times, and with his trusty toe booted many a place kick over the bar for the winning point. Simpson is playing his regular steady and star game at guard this year that he did on High School last year.

Those of the class of '14 who are attending this year and the courses they are taking are as follows:

Mechanical—Thornton Davidson, Willis Downing, Jack Herndon, J. D. Turner, William McDougle, Harry Milward and Charles Gordon.

Agricultural—Everett Bleidt, Pelham Faulconer, Clay Simpson, Tilford Wilson, Dick Pilcher, Mortimer Muller, William Rodes.

R. E. Hundley, Franklin Corn, W. J. Harris, and S. J. Caudill, were nominated for president. On the first ballot Mr. Caudill and Mr. Corn were eliminated and on the second Mr. Hundley was elected by a large majority.
