Kernel Will Sponsor Campus Scrap Drive; Tentative Plans Made

Trophy To Be Given Group Collecting Most Scrap Metal

The Kentucky Kernel has enlisted. Joining with other state newspapers, the Kernel will sponsor a scrap drive on the campus October 9 to 27. All University organizations will be drafted to assist in the collection of scrap metals on the campus and in fraternity and sorority houses. Tentative plans for the campaign include the publishing of bi-weekly figures on poundage turned in by the various organizations. A trophy will be awarded by the Kernel to the organization having the largest poundage per capita enrollment. Each organization will be entitled to one vote for every ten pounds of scrap turned in to determine how the money realized on the total sales shall be donated. Votes may be cast for any welfare or charitable group, and the entire proceeds will be donated to that group receiving the largest number of votes.

See today's editorial, "Bring Scrap for the Big Scrap."

Should the University as a whole achieve the largest poundage per capita enrollment of scrap metal in the state, the $250 prize being offered in the state campaign would be added to the proceeds to be donated to charity. Individual prizes of $100 each are being offered by the state to the Kentucky girls' boys' organizations having the largest poundage per capita enrollment and to the Kentucky individual having the largest poundage.

Organizations wishing to contribute scrap should call the Kernel office to report. Maintenance and organization trucks will pick up the scrap, weigh it, and deliver it to the downtown depot, where each group will be credited individually for all donations. Though the drive will not be formally launched until October 9, all organizations are requested to begin gathering immediately.

A poster will be placed in the Great Hall of the Union building to advertise daily contributions and the mounting total.

Highlight of the scrap drive will be a Kernel sponsored dance Saturday, October 17 in the Blue Room of the Union building. Complete plans for the affair, and the orchestra will be announced later.

2,756 Enroll

Final registration figures for the fall quarter show an enrollment of 2,756 students at the University. This total, reached September 30, last day for enrollment for class credit, shows a decrease of 491 over last year's figures.

KERNEL STAFF ASSIGNS BEATS

THE KENTUCKY KERNEL

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY
LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1942

IT SHALL NOT HAPPEN HERE!!

STEP NUMBER ONE after the dictator takes over a country is to SQUELCH THE PRESS. Dictator-directed publications take their place. Newspapers are only puppets under the dictator's grinding heel. BUT IT SHALL NOT HAPPEN HERE! Here in FREE AMERICA the PRESS is FREE. So long as we have a FREE press we shall have a FREE people. Let's be alert to the things we can do at home to keep the dictator from our door. Let's continue with renewed energy to do everything we possibly can to maintain ALL FOUR FREEDOMS—freedom of speech and press, freedom of religion, freedom from fear, and freedom from want.

PROCLAMATION

To All To Whom These Presents Shall Come:

WHEREAS, the newspapers of the United States, which Kentucky newspapers have been an active and integral part, have ably and continuously demonstrated their leadership in the maintenance of the democratic way of life, in the preservation of the Four Freedoms, which are dear to the hearts of every free citizen of a free country, in the courageous leadership in the social and economic life of community, state, and nation since the founding of the first Colonial newspaper in 1704, and, more particularly, since the founding of American nationality in 1776, and WHEREAS, this leadership has been most evident in the trying days of our war effort to combat the hosts of those who would destroy the nation and the people of the nation, and who would destroy our Freedoms of which not the least of these is the freedom of speech and press, and WHEREAS, our nation's newspapers have given unstintingly of their time and space and effort that will lead to the final, triumphant, and ultimate victory, and WHEREAS, the nation's newspapers with Kentucky newspapers in the van, are sponsoring a nationwide scrap metal drive to start next month as a demonstration of their leadership in this war effort.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, as Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, hereby proclaim October 1 to October 8 as

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK IN KENTUCKY

AND call upon every citizen in the state to join with the newspapers in celebration of this Week in a suitable manner, and to join with the newspapers in the scrap metal drive to its successful and complete end.

Done at Frankfort, Kentucky this twenty-fifth day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and forty-two, and in the fifth year of the Commonwealth the one hundred fifty-first.

Blue Feathers To Mark YW Membership Drive

Campaign Begins Here On Monday

Traditional blue feathers, marking those who have joined the University YWCA, will be seen on the campus during the annual YW membership drive Monday through Wednesday of next week. Ruth Wheat, membership chairman, is in charge of the drive.

Tables will be set up in the post office and outside the grill at the Student Union building. Girls may sign their pledge cards at either place and get their blue feathers. The membership fee of one dollar must be paid either at the time of joining, or later, or may be taken out of the registration deposit, Miss Wheat stated.

The YWCA offers numerous activities such as social service, camp service, Y's Owl, Dutch Lunch, economics and labor, inter-racial, and class club activities.

This is the only organization on the campus which is particularly set up with a religious purpose and which is inter-denominational. Such an organization tends to help the college student in developing a fuller and better personality and a well-rounded life. Miss Rosalie Oakes, YWCA secretary, stated.

Girls who have been assigned to work in the sorority and cooperative houses and dormitories are Chi Omega, Martha Koppitz; Kappa Delta, Ruth Bradford; Alpha Delta Pi, Carolyn Spicer; Delta Delta Delta, Eloise Bennett; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Ann Carter Peltz; Zeta Tau Alpha, Elsie March; Delta Zeta, Wilayah Graves; Alpha Xi Delta, Betty Prazier; McDowell house, Frances Kendall; Shelby house, Myrtle Binkley; Hamilton hall, Dorothy Angle; Patterson hall, Helen Frances Davis; Patterson hall annex, Ann Boies; Boyd hall, Marjorie Palmer and Mary Elizabeth Sigall; Jewell hall, Mary Jeanne Lancaster, Margaret Graham, and Susanna Reynolds.

Work of the "Y" has already begun with the University YM-YW Freshman club. This group met Tuesday night with Dorothy Collins, freshman advisor, in charge. Jeanette Graves, YW president, and Bob Davis, YM president, spoke to the group. Miss Oakes talked about the National Student movement and Bart Peak, secretary of the YM, spoke on "A Freshman Faces College."

Evening Classes To Be Offered

Evening classes in romance languages and mathematics will be offered at the University starting October 5. Louis Clifton, director of the extension department, announced.

The classes will meet from 7:30 to 10 p. m. on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. They will continue for a period of four weeks with an extra or fourth meeting in one week. Afternoon classes will be held from 1 to 3 p. m. Monday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday for four weeks.

To be offered are three credit courses in beginning Spanish and plane trigonometry. There are no prerequisites for Spanish, but trigonometry requires one and one-half units of high school algebra and plane geometry.

Spanish will be taught by Dr. Hobart Ryland and Dr. Alberta Wilson Sever; trigonometry by Professor M. C. Brown and Professor J. C. Evans.

The tuition rate is $4 per credit hour, payable at the time of registration. Persons who cannot conveniently pay then may give a post-dated check as of their next pay day.

Generals Set For Demotion Saturday Night

'Cats Play Under Lights At First Home Contest

Eleven Generals will be buck private following tomorrow night's gridiron opener under the arc on Stoll field.

This is the supposition advanced by Al Kirwan and his unitary Kentucky Wildcats as they awaited the Washington and Lee game scheduled for 8 o'clock tomorrow night on the local turf.

The Generals from the Old Dominion, however, have advanced suggestions that they had one to believe they intend to shoot the works against Kentucky, win, lose, or draw.

Tactician Jerry Holstein, the youthful lawyer-coach at the Lexington institution, announced in a terse communique yesterday.

"We don't intend to play a defensive game against Kentucky—our offense will be the key to our defense."

Our sophomore backs looked good last Saturday against West Virginia, and we believe that we will have a better chance if we play a wide-open offensive game.

The youthful barrier may not be far from wrong.

In his team's opener last Saturday, the Generals fought tenaciously against the rugged West Virginia Mountaineers to lose by a 21-7 count.

In dropping the Mountaineer decision, the blue-shirted Generals looked the part of a classy ball club. They blocked well, kicked well, passed well, and even though well—quite a feat for a sophomore ball club.

Kentucky evened the ledger last Friday night in Cincinnati when they dropped the Xavier Musketeers, 28-19, in a game that never reached the question mark stage.

Attacking via all routes, the Kentuckians displayed a remarkable pass offense, completing seven out of eight, and their ground game was never in doubt against the Muskies.

Pull away Phil Cutchin, who to date has started left halfback, who to date has set the south on fire with his foot, whose game will be in the trap tomorrow night with his educated right toe and his precision throwing arm—which all adds up to an interesting session.

The big junior halfback is the sparkling of the team, and the story line appears to be so goes "Cutch," so goes Kentucky.

Cutchin will be running behind one of the best lines that Bernie Shively, the genial UK athletics director, has ever put together.

Closer Cooperation With Administration Shown At First Meeting of SGA

Legislature Creates Legal Department And Liaison Board

By NORMA WEATHERSPOON

Close cooperation between the Student Government, associations, and the University administration, and a better internal organization of the legislature are indicated by the business transacted at the legislature's first meeting, held Tuesday night in the Union building.

A bill introduced by Marjorie Axters, men's vice-president of the SGA, was passed to create a liaison board which will foster good will and cooperation among the various groups located on the campus. This board will consist of a student representative, two student members, and two faculty members appointed by the SGA and president and approved by the legislature.

An invitation from President Herman L. Donovan for the student legislators to come to his home, Maxwell place, for an informal meeting next Monday indicated that effort is being made to eliminate any friction between students and the administration.

A legal department of the SGA was created by a bill introduced by Marjorie Axters, agriculture representative, as the first step towards a more efficient organization of the legislative body. This department, which will conduct investigations of matters such as last year's contested presidential election, will consist of one student legal counselor, two student assistants, and one faculty advisor to be chosen by the legislature.

These students should be taught and selected representative, was selected as the legal counselor. Other members were not chosen at the meeting.

Referred to a committee was a bill introduced by Marjorie Axters, women's vice-president, designed to establish the Women's House. This bill was referred to a committee of the Student Government association.

This council composed of representatives of women living in dormitories, sorority houses, cooperative houses, organized rooming houses, and private homes, already does not function as a part of the government proper.

Freshmen will wear the traditional white caps until the Thanksgiving holidays, according to the legislature's ruling. These students should be taught that wearing the blue and white of the University is an honor, not a degradation. Jim Collier, SGA president, explained.

Carroll Robie, Lexington sophomore, was appointed clerk of the legislature and John Egan, Ft. Thomas freshman, was named assistant clerk. Joan Taylor, arts and sciences representative, was elected treasurer of the group.

Plans for publishing a student directory were discussed. This SGA sponsored guide will probably be available about the middle of October.

Attendance of the representatives at all meetings was emphasized by Collier as imperative if the government is to function properly. Any member who misses three meetings in succession is automatically dismissed, according to the SGA constitution. Student government is serious business and "no top," Collier stressed.

Representatives absent from the first meeting were Margaret Erskine, commerce, and Elizabeth Chapman, arts and sciences.

L. T. HAROLD WINN, former managing editor of The Kernel, visited the campus this week. Lieutenant Winn, who received his commission at Fort Benning, Ga., will report to Camp Wheeler, Ga., October 3. He graduated from the University last June.

CADET LYNN C. BARRETT, former University student, has completed his pre-flight training and is now a basic cadet at the Army air forces flying school at Bainsville, Ga.

L. T. GEORGE NOLLAU, who graduated last June from the University, is now visiting on the campus before reporting to San Antonio, Texas, for flight training. NOLLAU was on Saturday night with an open house at the chapter house.

Kentuckian Pictures

Individual pictures for the 1942-43 Kentuckian will be taken in the basement of Memorial Hall beginning Monday, October 5.

ALL PICTURES, sorority, fraternity, and senior classes, and other organizations, will be taken according to the following alphabetical schedule: Monday, October 5, A through C; Tuesday, October 6, D through F; Wednesday, October 7, G through I; Thursday, October 8, K through M; Friday, October 9, N through Q; Monday, October 12, R through S; Tuesday, October 13, T through V; Wednesday, October 14, W through Z; Thursday, October 15, Miscellaneous; Friday, October 16, Miscellaneous.

Because of emergency conditions the photographers can remain on the campus only ten days. It is therefore imperative that all students who wish to have pictures made, report to Memorial Hall at the proper time.

Because of a rigid schedule of publication this year, no provision whatsoever will be made for late pictures.

It Is For Your Sake

Students and older people alike have been speaking harshly of the government and the newspapers for not bringing vital military news before it is stale.

Here is the situation in a nutshell. No information that could benefit the enemy in any way can be published.

If they think that they have destroyed five battleships, and only two are sunk, then their next move may bring disaster to them.

"They" say that the enemy countries know all the vital facts before the news is released. Perhaps they do, but we don't know that.

It is essential that certain basic facts be understood. The first of these is that the outcome of the war is a matter of vital personal concern to the future of every American citizen.

When a paper publishes the news that Lieut. James Henry Calahan, Service Battery, 42 F.A. Bn., sixth armored division, was killed in Egypt, the entire world knows where that division is.

A Code of Wartime Practices has been issued to the newspapers of the nation, and each one is expected to follow them to the letter.

The specific information which newspapers, magazines, and all other media of publication are asked not to publish except when such information is made available officially by appropriate authority, falls into the following classes.

1. Troops. The general character and movements of United States Army, Navy, or Marine Corps units, within or without the continental limits of the United States - their location, identity, or exact composition, equipment, or strength; destination, routes, and schedules; assembly for embarkation, prospective embarkation, or actual embarkation.

The request as regards "location" and "general character" does not apply to troops in training camps in continental United States, not to units assigned to domestic police duty.

2. Ship movements, cargoes, etc. The identity, location, and movements of United States naval or merchant vessels, of neutral vessels, or vessels of nations opposing the Axis powers in any waters, unless such information is made public outside continental United States.

3. Production. Specifications which subverters could use to gain access to or damage war production plants. Exact estimates of the amount, schedules, or delivery date of future production, or exact reports of current production.

4. Ship sinkings, damage by enemy attacks. Information about the sinking or damaging from war causes of war or merchant vessels in any waters, unless such information is made public outside continental United States.

any waters, unless such information is made public outside continental United States, and its origin stated.

Information about damage to military objectives, including docks, railroads, air fields, or public utilities, or industrial plants engaged in war work, through enemy land or sea attacks on continental United States or possessions.

In reporting such attacks, counter-measures or plans of defense should not be disclosed, except through appropriate military authorities.

4. Attacks by air. To the end that any air attack on continental United States may be reported in an orderly fashion, consistent with the highest requirements of national security, the following course of action before, during, and after an air raid, is suggested:

A. Before a raid. It is desirable that no warning or report of an impending raid be published except as given out by designated representatives of the Army Defense Command.

B. During a raid. It is requested that news dispatched, transmitted or published at the beginning of a raid, prior to official announcement, be confined to the following: (1) the fact that a raid has begun, without estimating the number of planes; (2) the fact that some bombs have been dropped, if fully established, but without effort to estimate the number; (3) the bare fact that anti-aircraft guns have gone into action.

After a raid is ended and the all-clear sounded, it is requested that nothing be transmitted or published except communiques which will become available promptly and periodically from the designated representatives of the Army Defense Command.

C. After a raid. There is no objection to publication of general descriptions of the action after the all-clear is given, provided such accounts do not (1) play up horror or sensationalism; (2) deal with or refer to unconfirmed versions or reports; (3) contain any estimate of the number of planes involved or the number of bombs dropped except as given in communiques; (4) make any reference to damage to military objectives such as fortifications, docks, railroads, ships, airfields, public utilities, or industrial plants engaged in war work; (5) make any mention of the exact routes taken by enemy planes; (6) describe counter-measures of defense, such as troop mobilizations or movements, or the number or location of anti-aircraft guns or searchlights in action, except as officially announced.

Nothing in this request is intended to prevent or curtail constructive reporting of such matters as feats of heroism, incidents of personal courage, or response to duty by the military or by civilian defense workers.

5. Planes. Disposition, movements, missions, new characteristics, or strength of military air units of the United States or the United Nations, unless such information is made public outside continental United States and its origin stated; scope and extent of military activities and missions of the Civil Air Patrol; movements of personnel, material, or other activities by commercial air lines for the military services, including changes of schedules occasioned thereby.

6. Fortifications. The location of forts and other fortifications, the location of coast-defense emplacements, anti-aircraft guns, and other air defense installations; their nature and number; location of bomb shelters; location of camouflage objects; information concerning installations by American military units outside the continental United States.

7. Production. Specifications which subverters could use to gain access to or damage war production plants.

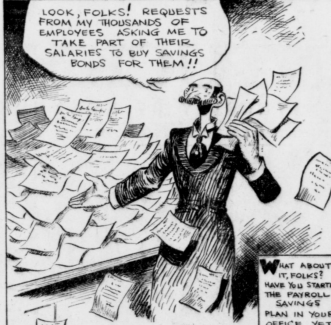

Exact estimates of the amount, schedules, or delivery date of future production, or exact reports of current production.

Exact amounts involved in new contracts for war production, and the specific nature or specifications of such production.

Nature of production should be generalized as follows: tanks, plane parts, motorized vehicles, uniform equipment, ordnance, munitions, vessels. Generalize all types of camps to "camps" or "cantonments."

Any information indicating industrial sabotage. In reporting industrial accidents, no mention (Continued to column six) close to open warfare, and a wealth of hilarity. Add the unforgettable skating scenes, the excellent supporting cast of Felix Bressart, Fritz Feld, Osa Massen, and Joan Merrill, the music of Sammy Kaye, and the list of hit tunes, and it will prove an evening of entertainment for the whole family.

Moving down to the Kentucky, one finds a change from the light comedy of "Iceland." Beginning today, Warner Bros.' new picture, "Desperate Journey," will bring to the Lexington screen the story of the crew of a bomber which is shot down in Germany.

The action never lags and suspense holds one right in his seat. The story will suit the youngsters and the males of all ages, and the good looks of Errol Flynn and Ronald Reagan will bring the girls and women to the theater.

Raymond Massey is at his best as an officer of the Navy, and Alan Hale is one of the bomber crew.

Complete Coleman, Arthur Kennedy, and Ronald Sinclair add to the complexion of the cast.

Politics, Ever - Present

THE FREE LANCE By Bob Warth

Politics, democracy's great gift to the common people, is like lightning, an ever present visitor in peace and war. It is commonly supposed, and presumably believed, by sundry uninitiated souls that the shady aspects of the political game, often merely thrown together under the euphemistic title of "playing politics," is strictly a peacetime phenomenon.

During such times the average voter becomes so inured to the various techniques, subtle and otherwise, of robbing the public till that such proceeds are commonly accepted as an inevitable part of one's environment - just as one fatalistically accepts the basic facts of birth, marriage, propagation, and death.

Indeed, more often than not, the plain citizen considers it a legitimate operation if not a sacred duty, to swindle the government whenever opportunity presents itself.

The war has brought many changes to the political scene, of which today's comment is but an introduction. The proprietor of THE FREE LANCE will consider it his duty to delve further into the subject in future issues.

Bring Scrap, For The Big Scrap

If we don't get into the scrap we may lose the war. This is what administration leaders and speakers are saying. What a lamentable statement this is if it should come to be true.

A nation-wide newspaper drive began September 28. More than 1800 newspapers in most every state will lead the intensive drive to hungry steel mills turning out weapons against the Axis.

We need everything metal that is worn out, obsolete, or unessential.

The Kernel this week is appealing to all campus organizations for their help in cleaning the campus including a search through fraternity and sorority houses and buildings and barns on the agriculture farm in an attempt to do our bit in the newspaper scrap metal drive.

As all of you know, this scrap drive has been going on for months but in the recent weeks it has dropped to sagging depths.

Any news stories about weather occurrences within the state of publication, and outside the state for an area not to exceed 150 miles from the publication, may be published; news stories about weather occurrences, especially extremes such as blizzards, snowstorms, hurricanes, tornadoes, and floods, for areas other than the foregoing, will be appropriate for publication only when specifically cleared through the Office of Censorship.

Effects of weather conditions on sports events are appropriate for publication when used briefly to describe the condition of the grounds, or as reasons for postponing matches, such as "muddy field," "wet grounds," or "game called because of weather." Specific mention of such conditions as "rain," "overcast," "windy," or "clear" should not be used.

9. Notes of rumors. The spread of rumors in such a way that they will be accepted as facts will render aid and comfort to the enemy. The same is true of enemy propaganda or material calculated by the enemy to bring about division among the United Nations.

10. Photographs and maps. Photographs conveying the information specified in this summary including ports of embarkation, embarking troops, harbor views of convoys, military air fields in continental United States completed after December 7, 1941, or emergency airfields no matter when completed, harbor defenses; inland waterway locks.

very difficult to recover from the pieces and greatly impairs the quality of the metal.

Let us suggest - If you have scrap and do not wish to give it away why not sell it and buy defense bonds and stamps with the money obtained. Or carry it to the nearest scrap pile - still better let us know about it here at the Kernel and we will make arrangements for it to be picked up.

Let's not let it be said that the University didn't make an attempt to do its part in the drive aimed to defeat the Axis. The University Administration has offered us all support possible to make this campus drive a success.

From a neighboring paper we would like to borrow this bit which hits the spot. Read it and think of our scrap metal drive.

Caskets draped in the national colors will be going up the winding river-level railroads into the mountains this side of Tag River, and down the less serpentine roads into the more level lands of the Penmyrie and the Purchase, and over the roads that traverse the Bluegrass and the Beargrass.

Nature's early autumn peace brooks over concealing, hemp-cutting, black-eyed Susans and morning glories along neglected roadsides which, being neglected, now deck themselves with greater loveliness than professional decorators desire. But there is no other peace. Our boys will be, are, coming back to us, under the folds of the flag. The least those of us who are not in uniform can do is to do the most we can do, not in uniform, J. C.

IT IS FOR YOUR SAKE - (Concluded)

Consolidated temperature tables covering more than 20 stations in any one newspaper.

Any news stories about weather occurrences within the state of publication, and outside the state for an area not to exceed 150 miles from the publication, may be published; news stories about weather occurrences, especially extremes such as blizzards, snowstorms, hurricanes, tornadoes, and floods, for areas other than the foregoing, will be appropriate for publication only when specifically cleared through the Office of Censorship.

Effects of weather conditions on sports events are appropriate for publication when used briefly to describe the condition of the grounds, or as reasons for postponing matches, such as "muddy field," "wet grounds," or "game called because of weather." Specific mention of such conditions as "rain," "overcast," "windy," or "clear" should not be used.

9. Notes of rumors. The spread of rumors in such a way that they will be accepted as facts will render aid and comfort to the enemy. The same is true of enemy propaganda or material calculated by the enemy to bring about division among the United Nations.

10. Photographs and maps. Photographs conveying the information specified in this summary including ports of embarkation, embarking troops, harbor views of convoys, military air fields in continental United States completed after December 7, 1941, or emergency airfields no matter when completed, harbor defenses; inland waterway locks.

11. General information disclosing the new location of national archives, or of public or private art treasure.

Premature disclosure of diplomatic negotiations or conversations.

So there it is. The reasons why the newspapers must wait so long to print news. And each one of these items was placed there with a definite purpose.

The newspapers are following the policy given to each individual - "Lose talk will cost lives."

COURAGE COMES IN ENVELOPES

Being apart from familiar surroundings and loved ones is a hard, it says morale. But all that aces - the day is bright and the job is light - when letters arrive daily, penned in familiar handwriting! That's a Sheaffer pen's duty in this war.

Sheaffer's TRUMPH is the newest Lifetime pen. We began developing it four years before the entry of the United States into war. At that time TRUMPH was undergoing final rigorous tests by land and sea. It has been used throughout 1942. Fortunately, practically all of the materials in TRUMPH are of least critical nature. Mean and wanted in all walks of life will value this essential gift, now and always.

Note: Feet all pens carefully. Sheaffer's SERIP is made in the rubber and other critical parts of pens - makes all pens write better and last longer. W. A. SHEAFFER PEN CO., Fort Madison, Iowa.

KERNEL SPORTS

The Sporting Way

By BAXTER MELTON

"Big John" they call him—that 235-pound left tackle of the Wildcats. And Clyde Johnson lives up to that monicker, both in stature and on the playing field. He's a power to reckon with on the gridiron.

Hefty Clyde played his high school football at Ashland, where he won two varsity letters before matriculating at the University. That premier winter sport, basketball, also beckoned to "Big Stoop," who played on the Tomcat varsity quintet three seasons. In this, his senior year, Johnson promises to garner the fame that has been near throughout his collegiate career.

After holding down a tackle post on the 1939 frosh eleven, Clyde took over a berth on the varsity squad in 1940 when injuries prompted Coach Al Kirwan to promote "Big John" from the Z Club. Since then Kirwan's worries in that department haven't been enough to talk about.

Johnson's top performance came in this year's season opener against Georgia two weeks ago in Louisville. He was a very important part of the line that shoved the Sinkwich Serranade all over the field for better than three quarters. Sports scribes who watched the game touted him as a good bet for All-American honors.

The Ashland native, who reaches six feet, six inches, got his greatest thrill in last season's Alabama skirmish. Yep, the 'Cats got clawed, 30-0, but nevertheless Johnson had lots of fun in the contest, because "I got more than my share of tackles," he smiles.

As to outstanding backs, huge John says that he has run up against plenty of them. Jack Jenkins, Vanderbilt blocking back, rates as tops in his book. Jimmy Nelson, former Alabama sensation, gets a close second. As for Frankie Sinkwich, he's plenty good, Clyde agrees, but Jenkins and Nelson rate above him.

What does he want to do after graduation? Well, he did plan to coach, but now he's slated to play on Uncle Sam's team. How about pro football? Johnson isn't very anxious to enter the play-for-pay business, but hints that a fat contract might offer enough inducement.

Hard luck continues to handicap Randall Hammer, 'cat half, in his bid for a starting position. Hammer, who is from Tompkinsville, broke his right shoulder during Tuesday's practice session. This year he broke the left one, so it looks like Hammer will again have to adopt that old cry of Brooklyn Dodger fans, "Wait till next year."

BIG INTRAMURAL PROGRAM SEEN BY GULLETTE

Emphasis Placed On Sports By War Will Cause Boost

The 1942-43 school year will see the biggest intramural sports program ever carried on at the University of Kentucky. Arthur Gullette, new director of intramurals, Gullette, who coached at Kentucky Wesleyan college before coming here, believes that the emphasis placed on sports activity during the war emergency will cause a big boost.

Touch football will open the intramural season October 6, with a busy docket scheduled from then until the end of the spring quarter in June. The number of sports listed for each quarter is about the same.

During the fall quarter students will compete in touch football, volleyball, boxing, wrestling and possibly bowling. Plans are under way to include the kegling sport. The winter schedule lists basketball, ping-pong, handball, badminton and shuffleboard. The spring quarter, which usually sees the intramural program hit its fastest tempo, schedules golf, horseboes, archery, track, softball, fencing and tennis.

Golf and tennis, which are usually included in the fall program, were dropped this year, since unfinished cards of other years and the late registration date this year indicated less leisure time for completion, according to Mr. Gullette.

Economics Project To Draw Educators

Harold S. Sloan, executive secretary of the Sloan Foundation, and Dr. Harold F. Clark, Professor of Education at Teachers college of Columbia university, will come to the University on October 15, 16, and 17, to go over the program of a project in applied economics. This program is being conducted under the direction of the Bureau of Education Service in the College of Education.

They will be in conference with Dean W. S. Taylor, of the College of Education, Maurice F. Seay, professor of educational administration, and Leonard E. Meece, assistant professor of educational administration.
