The method of recording sales is very inferior. Charge involved in the purchase of small articles is more than the price of the salesman, which, to say the least, gives a bad impression to the students.

YES, I KNOW

The world is full of trouble.
Yes, I know.
The world is but a bubble.
Yes, I know.
The world is full of trouble.
The world is but a bubble.

But in spring
Soft breezes blow
And green things grow.

Then in summer
One can lie
Beneath the skies.

In the grass
Beside a tree.
Or swim in sea.

Leaves in autumn
As they turn
From green and brown

Are worth watching.
And in winter
When weather's bitter.

Bare branches make
Lace designs
With twig outlines.
And sheets of ice
With drifting snow
Make the least glow
Though the world
Is full of trouble
As we know.

Phi Beta Discusses Plans for This Year

Phi Beta, women's musical and dramatic fraternity, held its first meeting of the year at Patterson Hall Tuesday afternoon. Plans for the following year were considered, and it was decided to present a formal musical, two vespers services, and later in the season, a minstrel. A report on the national convention of Phi Beta, held in Chicago this summer, was given by Mrs. Lola Robinson.

Miss Margie McLaughlin Describes Summer Tour Of European Continent

On a ten-weeks' trip, starting June 28, Miss Margie McLaughlin, assistant professor of journalism, completed her fifth tour of the continent. Accompanying her on the voyage were Miss Frances Hamrick and Miss Ann McLaughlin. The itinerary of the tour included visits to Italy, Germany, Bavaria, where, according to Miss Margie, the trip was climaxed by the Passion Play spectacle at Oberammergau; France, Switzerland, England, Ireland, and Scotland.

On the outward voyage the travelers stopped at Gibraltar, after sailing very close to the Azores and along the Portuguese coast. A two-day trip across the Mediterranean landing at Naples, completed the cruise of ten days. The narrow escapes of most long journeys were found in this case in the Italian visit. The earthquake of the early summer in southern Italy was missed by the party by six days. On their entrance to Venice, the travelers were greeted by a rainstorm which quickly turned to terrific hail. It was quite hazardous, as they were coming into the city in a public gondola as the storm broke. Their only protection was an occasional shelter afforded by the little bridges which cross the canals.

A motor trip through Switzerland, thence along the Franco-Italian Riviera, followed a trip through the Bavarian Alps from Cherbouurg to Paris completed the visit to the Continent. Indicative of the animosity that is increasingly becoming more apparent between the French and Italian governments, was the fact that, while crossing the border, the travelers were forced to undergo a search of their personal belongings. This was the only such occasion, a brief perusal of their passports being the only formalities in crossing other borders.

Miss McLaughlin commented on the fact that the condition of Italy has greatly improved since her first visit there five years ago. Everything is cleaner and more progressive, with the best prices to be found in all Europe.

Tradepeople admitted some pressure from the American economic depression, the whole of Europe seemed to be fairly prosperous, the year's crop being much better than those of America. Only in England was any great degree of unemployment noted.

After viewing the Passion Play on Sunday, August 3, Miss Margie personally interviewed Alois Lang, the present-day Christus. In the audience of 5,000 people, 4,000 were Americans.

In England the party spent three days and two nights in the Shakespeare country, where she saw a performance of Romeo and Juliet at Shakespeare theater, Stratford-on-Avon. According to them, the production was acted remarkably well. In London they witnessed an original cast of the Chicago play, "On the Spot", which, because well acquainted with Efram Zimbalist, the famous violinist, and saw Dennis King, whom they later met on the voyage home, in a London production of "The Three Musketeers".

The tour was completed with the return of the Olympic, leaving Cherbourg on September 3 and docking at New York harbor on September 9.

At Louisville there are 200 students enrolled in extension courses under Dr. F. W. Galloway of the English department and Dr. W. W. Jennings, of the College of Commerce. Prof. L. L. Dantzier, of the English department, and Dr. Paul Walp, of the political science department, are giving courses at Mayville. At Covington and Newport courses are being offered by Prof. W. D. Galloway, dean of the graduate school; Dr. Jessie Adams, of the College of Education; and Prof. E. Farquhar, of the English department.

KENTUCKY'S PREMIERE

Kentucky awaits the national premiere of its 1930 football team at the theatre on Stoll field Saturday night.

The smile of fate, forthcoming as it seems destined to be, sends us hurtling on our quest of the Southern conly, witnesses the debut of the best band in the South with its new life and blood, led, as it will be, by a new drum major and the newly elected sponsor, Miss Virginia Dougherty in fence championship. Saturday, simultaneous-ly, incidentally, the Kernel takes particular pride by reason of the fact that she is a valued member of its staff.

It is possible that so intense an anticipation of Saturday's event might blur the true conception of just what the occasion means to Kentucky.

The Kernel goes backstage for you. Dress rehearsal is over, and Coach Gamage's groomed eleven is ready to step before the footlights for its initial performance before the eyes of the country. Not merely the beginning of another football season. It is the second serious bid by Gamage for the southern title. Not only is a new cast to be given its first trial, but also the indomitable fighting spirit and clean sports-manship, not just the relatively weak Sewanee team to play, but a mountainous score to be rolled up if Kentucky is to gain immediate recognition from critics.

The coaches and squad have a heavy responsibility to shoulder. It means more than the premiere of the 1930 football season. There must be fulfilled the obligations left to us by the valiant Blue and White team of last year; and there is the realization that unless we win the conference title, the honor that we could have done them has, in a large measure, faded. That is the cruel pressure under which our football team this year must work throughout the entire season.

What Kentucky makes of tomorrow, whether it succeeds gloriously or fails, the nation will make of Kentucky. Our Wildcats will be fighting with the disadvantage of being rated one of the better teams in the country. Should they despite that, go dashing through the schedule to a dramatic triumph, no previous Wildcat team will have claim to so gallant a victory.

U. of K! Let's go!

BE CONSIDERATE

Our hitherto unimpeachable student body has acquired a habit that bids fair to become a tradition, but alas, an unwanted one. It appeared spasmodically last year, and unfortunately has re-appeared quite regularly during this week. We refer to that inauspicious habit of throwing empty cigarette packages, various paper containers and miscellaneous papers about the campus walks. About the environs of certain oft frequented haunts these unsightly papers and refuse assume mountainous proportions.

We are confident that these venial lapses on the part of the student body occur in moments of forgetfulness. But then, explain their regularity. For the information of those unenlightened offenders we remark that receptacles pre-ordained for that purpose, namely the depositing of refuse therein, can be found in the various campus buildings. If the public demands it, a personally conducted tour to prove the existence of these receptacles will be arranged.

Then again a few mischievous scholars have re-instituted that quaint old custom of ignoring the cement walks and taking to the grassward. In the course of time another ugly "cow-pard" will mar the university campus.

We earnestly exhort the student body to abandon both practices. Many may be uncon- scious of the fact but nevertheless it is true that visitors do inspect the university grounds. They come enthused at the prospect of seeing a beautiful place. Why disappoint them? A littered-up, and scoured campus is hardly con- ductive to attractiveness. Again, refrain from these plebeian habits which are so shocking to a sense of sobriety.—The Xaverian News.

SOUNDLESS SPIRIT

Wildcat hopes for a championship football year necessarily are hampered by recollection of a distinct lack of student "pep" in former years. Upperclassmen have deemed it the duty of ample supplies to funnel freshmen into doing all the cheering at athletic contests. The Kernel long has been inquisitive as to the origin of this unusual type of modesty in college students and has come to the conclusion that it is peculiar only to this university. All uni- versities of higher type appear to possess the quality which enables their students to lose in- dividual identities and merge into a howling mass for their respective alma maters whenever teams are waging athletic battles. Kentucky heretofore has been sadly lacking in such qual- ity.

True, the last few years have shown gradual improvement in student enthusiasm, particularly at football and basketball games. SuKy Circle, student pep organization, has been moderately successful in unovering and fanning dormant student spirit through the medium of pep meet- ings held the night before games. It has bred a spirit of familiarity between the cheer leaders and the student body which has added immeas- urably to the public exhibition of school spirit.

However, were it only for the opinion that outsiders gain of the university by its cheering and pep, there would be little ground for hold- ing the student body to its obligations of verbal- ly expressing its enthusiasm under the direction of cheer leaders. What "pep" is primarily in- tended to be, encouragement of the team that spends almost half its time on the campus prac- ticing the sport that students particularly care to see. If there were no reason for demonstrat- ing enthusiasm other than that the team repre- senting Alma Mater deserves it, the least that could be done would be to give vent to mighty exultation, and then express it whether or not it is felt. This is school spirit.

Formerly there existed a partial excuse for poor support and pep from the student body in the fact that the university boasted of consist- ently poor cheer leaders. The Kernel hopes such is not the case this year. It is inexcusable for a university of more than 3,000 students to submit from its ranks only mediocre members for any type of office.

SuKy this year is being held doubly respon- sible for student pep in as much as the univer- sity athletic teams in all sports show promise of developing into championship combinations. This year, to date, SuKy has been as desultory in action as former Kentucky pep has been conspicuous by its absences. There must be a reason. The forward trend of the university in all its fields demands reason for all inactivity.

Saturday night, The Kernel feels sure, will bring forth not only a masterful football eleven, but a new-born, dynamic Kentucky spirit. Such a contribution would add prestige as enduring to the university as a championship football team.

Where spirit: there triumph!

CAN YOU WRITE?

By The Editor: After the disinterest in letter writing manifested last week, we were of the opinion that, we would not be required to write anything this issue. Alas! Also alack! We were wrong to such an extent that that watery look in our eyes is even more pronounced than before.

One of the letters sent to The Kernel, one bore the signature of A Student, but also gave his name, address and phone number. It reminded us that we had forgotten to mention the fact that the name of the writer will not be used unless desired. However, such communi- cations must be accompanied by the name of the writer so that we can check it for purposes of determining authenticity.

Now that that is off our chests, we will get down to the letters we purpose to print in this issue. One of them is from the student men- tioned above and the other is from Kansas City. The former continues last week's discussion of the new military uniforms; the latter propounds an idea new and novel. In fact, it is so novel that we would engage in raucous laughter were it not for the references mentioned. We are sure that Coach Harry Gamage will appreciate the suggestion. Further, we are positive that, in case he does not appreciate it, we will be conspicuous by our absence whenever he en- deavors to discuss the matter with us in per- son. With deep breath, we take the plunge: Editor, Kentucky Kernel: Try to get Coach Gamage to challenge the women of the "Big Ten" to a post season game. It will be a good publicity stunt even if he don't get the game. Ask Miss Marie McLaughlin about it—also Helen King.

SIGNED: LARRY SEAMAN
Editor, Kentucky Kernel: After reading your editorial on new uniforms I am inclined to disagree with you on several points. Since I did not attend the University of Kentucky last year, I have nothing to say concern- ing the comparison of the two uniforms, but I would like to say that those of this year are far from being comfortable. I can only describe the feeling as that comparable to flannel underwear. Due to some mis- management, I was unable to find a suit that corre- sponded in any way to the measurements taken. In fact, the only thing that fits is the tie. I agree with you a regard to color combinations. Blue eyes and brown hair may correspond, but this combination, in the shades designated, is ill-fitted to a military uni- form.

SIGNED: A STUDENT.

THE TICKET SITUATION

Last week Prof. S. A. Boies, university athletic director, announced that the federal govern- ment purposes to assume full control of brok- erage of athletic tickets for football games on Stoll field this year, and that officers will ap- prehend anyone caught doing so. In this mat- ter the athletic department has bowed to su- perior authority, one fully capable of taking the situation in hand and punishing offenders.

Considering the situation in its proper light, no little alarm is felt when one realizes the variety of tickets giving admission to football games at Kentucky. In illustration, there are student, faculty, single, seasonal, press, player and courtesy tickets not transferable, and plain- ly so stated to be on the tickets themselves. In all of these it is possible for these holding them to cheat the university by loan, sale or gift; and for that reason the athletic department coun- tenances no placings of federal officers in con- trol.

It is doubtful whether the average person realizes the enormous expense endured by the school in promotion of athletics and caring for patrons of games. $15,000 already has been spent this year in anticipation of the open- ing of the football season at this university. This money has been spent, not for the sole benefit of the school, but that students and the people of Kentucky may have something tangible to which they can point with pride and admira- tion. Shall the purpose of such expenditure be foiled by heedless and needless manipulation of the tickets sold by the athletic department?

Of course it is unthinkable that anyone con- nected directly with the University of Kentucky should engage in the practice of cheating the school, and at the same time lay themselves li- able to prosecution by the federal government if apprehended. Only the sampling element would do it deliberately. But there is the re- minder that the punishment will be the same whether it is done deliberately or thoughtlessly, all of which indicates that full care and con- sideration should be given to the use of tickets to football games at the university this season.

BROKEN DREAMS

I built my hopes to highest skies, I watched my gilded castle rise, Its paths of gold, its peared pinnas Its gardens' flower-bordered lanes; Its turret rising highest sky Had seemed to all the earth to cry My hopes, my joys, my love for you, All that my heart hoped would be true.

Then after many lonely days I stood and saw our castle razed, And rent as ruin from the skies; There, see, in ruins now it lies. When years have mouldered it to dust Yet still is buried there my trust; "Of all sad words of tongue or pen, The saddest are these, It might have been."

Successful Year Is Foreseen at Murray

Two hundred and ninety-nine freshmen enrolled at Murray State Teachers' College and smashed all time records for first year registration at the college during the two days registration, September 19-20. In spite of the drought and economic depression of the state, an increase in freshmen enrollment of 52 per cent over that of a year ago was recorded. Three hundred seventy-eight students from 10 states had enrolled last Saturday and college officials were predicting a total enrollment of more than 1,000 students for Murray's eighth year. Wells Hall, the dormitory for women, which has a capacity of 325 residents, practically filled and the freshmen class has practically doubled its enrollment. If all other classes enroll the same number as a year ago, the total should be in the neighborhood of 1,100 students. With 55 husky candidates practicing daily for the Thoroughbred football team, Coach Carlisle Cutchin and his assistant Lehman Lusky of Vandell, are expecting to repeat the performance of 1928, when Murray captured the Mississippi Valley conference championship. SHELBY M. S. T. C. was placed on probation in S. I. A. A. last year, this will be the last season for the team to play in the Mississippi Valley conference. In their first night game, the Thoroughbreds will open their grid season September 26, at Carbondale, Ill. The first home game for the Cutchins will be with Delta Teachers College October 4. On Saturday, October 25, the college will play its homecoming game with the University of Kentucky "B" team at Murray. Cambridge, England, will send two debaters to clash with Murray orators on November 24. Prof. L. J. Herbin, Murray debate coach, is inviting all debaters of high schools in West Kentucky to attend this debate. Regular registration began September 22-23. Classwork opened September 29, and October 4 is the last day to register for credit. President Wells addressed the freshmen last Thursday and outlined the growth of the college. Dr. Hire spoke on the value of education on that night. Dean Carr explained the principles of registration to the newcomers Friday morning.

PEPPY'S DIARY

MONDAY: I did arise early this morning, much refreshed from sleep. After a frugal breakfast I did saunter forth in the hope of impressing some innocent RUSHEE with my delightful personality. But fate ruled otherwise, in that I fell under the spell of VIRGINIA DOUGHERTY, whose charm is like a rare old wine. Recovering somewhat, I did saunter slowly to the CHI OMEGA domicile where I was refused admission by the house mother who likes me little. Later to the order of the TRIPLE TRIANGLES where I did receive a more cordial reception but was sent to buy ice cream cones for the chapter. In the afternoon to the house of KAPPA where THEO TEBBS did pretend to joy in seeing me. Afterward to a public place where I did see many friends and fraternity brothers. DICK BREWER, SHELBY SPEARS, MARY MOORE NASH, and KIRK MOBERLY did look enough the same as this time one year ago. Many innocent FRESHMEN did try to look COLLEGIATE and miserably failed. After a bad dinner, early to bed and dream of days to come. TUESDAY: Arising late to a cold breakfast I did ponder deeply on DOUGLAS PARRISH, mammoth lineman of the enormous green team, and RED DAVIS, so deeply loved far beyond his age. SHIPWRECK KELLY did overlook to speak to me, and I was sorely troubled. Later to the S. A. E. house where JACK WOODS courteously did tell me where I might go. Instead to the CONVENTED COTTAGE of the ALPHA GAMMS where I did much enjoy an active with brilliant brown eyes and who did tell me that her lodge was going to see ALL THE CUTE GIRLS. Taking Electrical Convenience From Ol' Man River

THE total capacity of waterwheel generators built by General Electric in the last ten years is more than enough to supply light and power for twenty cities of one million population.

Installed in power houses along the waterways, these machines transform the strength of mighty rivers into useful electric energy for homes, for industry, and for transportation.

The vision and skill of college-trained men are largely responsible for the continuing leadership of General Electric in its service of furnishing machines and devices that provide the swift, sure convenience and the economy of electricity—on land and sea and in the air.

Numerous Students Take Advantage of Free Inoculation

Approximately 1700 students have received free of charge one or more inoculations for the prevention of typhoid and para-typhoid. Recommended by the military authorities, yet non-compulsory for anyone except Camp Knox, it is estimated that 70 per cent of all men in the R. O. T. C. have been given the shots. Many of those who refused the treatment secured it during the past year, either at Camp Knox or at the Dispensary, for this service is offered to any student while attending the university.

The treatment consists of three inoculations, one week apart, and will usually provide immunity for a period of three years, according to medical authorities. Students are urged to take advantage of this service at the present time because of the possible danger from a contaminated water supply when the heavy fall rains begin. Inoculations have been given in the Army, the training school, Mechanical hall, and the dispensary, under the direction of Dr. Chambers, Dr. Penny, and Miss Davis in Patterson hall under the direction of Miss Desha.

First Meeting of Y. W. Held Tuesday

Plans of Organization Discussed to New Members at Patterson Hall

The first meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association was held Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock in Patterson Hall. The work and plans of the organization were explained to the new girls and questionnaires were filled out preliminary to the formation of interest groups for discussion of campus, religious, and personal problems.

Subjects which will be considered in the groups, led by Agents with faculty help, are personality, finance, "After College, What?" marriage, single and double standards, careers and marriages, and religious questions. Groups in choir work, Girl Reserve work, music, dramas, social service, and current events, will also meet. All girls in the university are eligible to membership in the Y. W. C. A. Town girls who did not attend the meeting Tuesday may see Miss Margaret Lewis, secretary, in her office in the basement of the Administration building, or come to the Vesper Services which are held every Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the recreation room of Patterson Hall.

The officers of the Y. W. C. A. are Eleanor Swearingin, president; Virginia Ellis, vice president; Elizabeth Ann Ewing, secretary; Mary Allison Threlkeld, treasurer; and Eleanor Smith, chairman of the finance committee.

Big Blue Lapels, Little Tin Soldiers

By WILLIAM ARDERY
And now little tin soldiers, after long years of arduous delay they are here in all their militaristic glory. They are here in a glorious splash of blue against the usual background of khaki—dull, drab, uninteresting khaki.

The new uniforms are the final achievement, shall we say, of the military department. As it is customary in the department of the guns and the bayonets to keep step with the times—and that's not a too awful pun when one takes time to think about it—the new soldier suits represent the most modern development in what the well dressed street sweeper should wear. But we are so much in love with the lapels (pardon, please, the Kappa terminology) that we are almost willing to overlook the remainder of the uniform. We had even thought of propositioning the Big Brown men about letting us have a pair of lapels on credit but when we imagined how they would look on our orange pajamas we decided to wait until we had the money. It is hoped that in the near future the department will be able to acquire a white silk uniform to harmonize with the blue denim which has already been such a tremendous success.

Both Pocket and Desk Pen Now in One

Only Parker Duofold
SAVES PRICE OF A SECOND PEN

Offers This Combination
PEN GUARANTEED FOR LIFE

As a Pocket Pen

Getting the Parker Duofold is now like getting two Pens at the price of one. Attaching a tapered end converts it into a Desk Set Pen. Removing the taper restores it to a pocket Pen.

Either way, you save the price of a second pen. You have only one Pen to fill instead of two. And whether you write at your desk or on the go, you always have your favorite point.

You have a non-breakable Permalite barrel that holds 17.4% more ink than average, size for size—that is jewel-like in lustre, color, and beauty. And most of all—the famous Duofold bonus point that writes with Geo. S. Parker's 47th improvement—Pressureless Touch.

Same Pen Converted

Even at higher prices, other makers have been unable to match this classic. Now that it takes the place of a special pen for the pocket and another for the desk, its sales are soaring beyond all previous heights.

Go and ask the nearest dealer to show how the Duofold is changed back and forth from a Pocket to a Desk Set Pen. If you own a Parker, take it with you. If not, go anyway and see this revolutionary invention.

REVENUE OF COLLEGES REVEALED BY REPORTS

During the college year 1927-28 a half billion dollars flowed into the tills of colleges and universities in the United States according to the reports of 1,071 institutions reporting to the United States Office of Education.

One fourth of this came from the tuition and fee of undergraduate and graduate students; 22 per cent was appropriated by state and city governments; 1 per cent was given through private benefactions; 12 per cent was income from endowments; 10 per cent was gross income from board and room charges, and 12 per cent was obtained from other sources. Three and four tenths per cent was contributed by the United States government.

New York City has 1,200,000 school children.

Theta Sigma Phi To Survey Work of Women Journalists

CHICAGO—Arrangements for a nation-wide survey of women in journalism to include a study of journalism education were completed here recently at the biennial session of the national council of Theta Sigma Phi, honorary professional fraternity for women in this field.

The need of a thorough study was pointed out by Mrs. Susan Shaffer Dibelka, advisor to the Women's National Journalistic Register, Inc., the placement service conducted by the fraternity.

From statistics obtained in the office of the Journalistic Register, Mrs. Dibelka reported that women who are a journalism school graduate find it easier to obtain a position in each branch of the profession than that for which her college courses have trained her. This is because journalism schools prepare their students almost solely for newspaper work, while the great majority of positions available to women are in the fields of the magazine, advertising and publicity.

In spite of the number of years the women have devoted to newspaper work, and the variety of ways in which they have been tried and have been proved able to meet all tasks assigned them, newspaper women as a class seem no nearer today to being given the importance

World Leader Talks To N.E.A. Association

Columbus, Ohio. — International Education gave the yaw for intellectual rather than physical disarmament was advocated before the sixty-eighth annual convention of the National Education Association by A. O. Thomas, Augusta, Maine, president of the World Federation of Education.

Citing that America has pursued a policy of isolation "through the material property of several countries is of great concern to us," he warned that the future will demand international co-operation, and not rivalry, to maintain the standard of living of all people.

"The world," Thomas continued, "is faced to face with either co-operation or catastrophe. A world civilization is being built up with startling rapidity and commerce, travel, communications, the press, religious and educational agreements and world-wide charities must lead through imitation to a civilization of universal character."

He suggested development of the spiritual values of a world-wide civilization, declaring he believed this would prove a controlling influence in world progress and international goodwill.

The first of the convention committees to report were those on teachers' retirement legislation, on health problems and on tenure in office. Substantial progress in the development of retirement legislation was reported.

The tenure committee reported that surveys now under way will throw much light on the real value of tenure to profession and will give substantial support to public moves to provide adequate security in office for teachers. Continued progress in the development of health measures, in co-operation with the American Medical Association, was reported by the health group.

Chief among other speakers was Camillo Osas, president of the National University of Manila and Resident Commissioner from the Philippines to the United States, who appealed for complete independence for the islands.

Willis W. Sutton, superintendent of schools of Atlanta, Ga., and Dr. Joseph Foster, president of the West Virginia State Normal school, Fairmont, were nominated for the presidency of the association.

Cross Country Contest Run This Afternoon At 4:30

75 CONTESTANTS TO ENTER EVENT

With approximately 75 entries registered, the annual intramural cross country run will be held at Stoll Field this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. Only 12 fraternities have entered teams, but a list of independents has swelled the starting field to its present size.

The track men will be started around the cinder track on Stoll Field and will then follow an indirect route about the campus back to the field again. The men will be numbered as they come in and the fraternity having the lowest score will be awarded the team trophy. Individual awards will go to the first several individuals.

The first rounds of golf, tennis and horse shoe pitching also will end today, closing one of the most ambitious weeks in intramural history at Kentucky.

The cross country run last year was won by Thorne, Delta Tau Delta, who will be unable to defend his crown because of illness.

Entries in the cross country follow:

- Alpha Gamma Rho—Hanna, Gilbert, Wyatt.
- Alpha Tau Omega—Vaughn, Hilliard, Fribble, Culler, Boaz, Sanders, Shaefer.
- Delta Chi—Orrill, McConachi, Buchanan, Settle, Fanning, Elbio, Delta Tau Delta—Miner, Holmes, Scott, Moore, O. Coffman, C. Coffman, Kerchval.
- Kappa Alpha—Maguire, Parris, G. Williams.
- Kappa Sigma—Hibbs, R. Ball, C. Ball, Histel, Birzot, Murphy.
- Phi Delta Theta—Masse, Ferguson, Gatewood.
- Phi Kappa Tau—Darnell, Cavens.
- Phi Sigma Kappa—Bertram, Mahan, Baker, Hale, Neal, Millikan.
- Pi Kappa Alpha—Ewing N. Campbell, Monarch, J. Campbell, Cassidy, Jean, Tucker.
- Sigma Alpha Epsilon—Featherston, Harris, Dnnavent, H. Martin, Rhodes.
- Sigma Chi—Forsythe, Golson, George, Faber, Henderson, Dade, Tibbels.
- Independents—Chester, Vinson, Hocker, Goldstein, Zyskewicz, Gottlieb, Lowenthal.

Of all intramural events, tennis seems to be the most popular, all the Greek letter fraternities having entered contestants in this sport along with over 20 independents. In the tennis singles there are 104 entries and 44 in the doubles. Owing to the fact that there are only five courts available for contests the entrants have been hard pressed to finish their matches before the first round "dead-line."

Horseshoes have gained surprising favor, being second in popularity to tennis. Fourteen fraternities have taken part in this event, with 100 representatives in the singles and 52 in the doubles. There has been no trouble in furnishing accommodations for this sport, as there are eight courts and as many pairs of horsehoes for the contestants.

Thirty-two candidates entered competition in golf, representing twelve fraternities. The Pleadome course is being favored by most of the contestants.

It is the purpose of the intramural events to benefit all students wishing to enter competition. The intramural department under C. W. Hackensmith would like to have more of the non-fraternity men take an interest in the events and any freshmen who are interested may obtain information at the Men's gymnasium. Dormitory men are urged to elect captains for each sport and organize teams for competition in the early winter sports which start in November. These sports include volleyball, indoor golf, hand ball, and free throwing.

MARYLAND HAS FOUR MEN FOR EVERY WOMAN

An interesting fact which was brought to the attention of the president's reception held last Wednesday evening is that there are four young men to every girl in the newly-enrolled class of '34.

In the old days when this institution was known as the Maryland Agricultural College, was open only to men students; but since the time when women were first admitted and there were two co-eds enrolled, the ranks of the fair sex at the school have steadily increased in number. They can now be found pursuing their studies in all departments of the university from the College of Home Economics, of which they constitute the whole enrollment, to the College of Engineering, where they are very scarce, but not entirely missing.

A tribute to the ability of the Maryland co-eds may be found in the fact that, despite their small numbers, they are unusually active in university affairs, and annually capture enough honors and awards to equal or better the efforts of their masculine classmates. And in the sport world they have built up a program of interclass activity which enables every girl to avail herself of the opportunity of athletic participation, upon which many of the boys look with envy.

Perhaps one reason for the smaller number of women enrolled here may be found if we consider the situation of the student with limited finances who must earn part of his or her way. Employment opportunities for men at the university can hardly be called scarce, but for women they are difficult to find. Another factor which has prevented any great increases in the number of co-eds is the lack of extensive dormitory facilities. But this situation will be remedied before long, when the plans to provide increased space for the women's quarters materializes.

So it appears that the time is not far off when the thirteenth co-ed who already is the equal of her collegiate boy friend in activities and scholarship will soon begin to rival him in numbers—The Diamond Back.

The doctor's little daughter, though not very well, was quite as cheerful as usual.

"I'm a hundred today," she told her visitor.

"But you told me yesterday that you were only four."

"Oh, yes," replied the child, "but was birthdays. This is temperance."

TOURNAMENT OF ROSES

We cast our vote with the sports editor of the Crimson White, student publication of the University of Alabama, that the team that makes the westward journey to play in the Tournament of Roses on New Year's day should be the leading team in the Southern Conference.

When Pittsburg, boasting one of the strongest teams in the United States, and having a record to support the declaration, made such a deplorable showing on the West coast last New Year's day, the consensus of opinion was because that only Dixie teams were able to cope with the teams and climate of the far west. Pitt had a great team, but Pitt could not play its best brand of ball. Georgia Tech proved what the southern teams could do.

Nothing would please fans of the Big Blue more than to follow the Kentucky Wildcats to California. But we side with Alabama and pull for the South to represent this side of the Rockies this season. Be it Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia, North Carolina or any of the others.

BAMA'S FRESHMEN

Inasmuch as we have a two-year contract with Alabama, and insofar as we are always interested in the Crimson Tide whether or no, a notice about the Bama frosh in the Crimson White catches the eye:

"THE NEW FRESHMEN certainly look good. Fred Brown, brother of the famous Johnny Mack and Red, seems to have the speed and elusive hip motion which made the former Tide halfback the whiz that he was. Fred Moseley is another back who seems destined to become a great player for Alabama.

"The rat linemen are soothing sights for the connoisseur of football material. They are nearly all hefty and know what to do when they take their positions in the forewall. Alabama will have lots of room for them next year with most of the first team graduating."

WHAT ARE SUKY'S PLANS?

In past years Kentucky's organized cheering has been more or less a flop. Efforts of the SuKy Circle, if any, have been fruitless. The organization graduates an efficient class of peanute and candy vendors, meets annually to elect cheer leaders, and then sits complacently on its haunches until the dead of winter when it becomes time to bicker with the various fraternities and sororities as to which of their pledges will march across the gym floor to hear SuKy say: "Well done."

The band, independent of SuKy, shows an abundance of enthusiasm. At most big schools there is a section reserved for freshmen or a yelling squad. SuKy sponsors a pep meeting the night before the game which is largely attended, but on the day of the game the organization is louse.

Why not ask help of the R. O. T. C. again and have the companies march out in uniform? The uniforms are much more comfortable than they were year before last. Why not print copies of the yell so that the entire student body may learn them? And while we are asking—what happened to the beer keg ceremony last Thanksgiving day?

We'd like to see SuKy do something worthwhile, or, at least, something original—put some Southern Conference flags around the stadium—hold a funeral for Fuzy—do something.

Executives of the Southern Conference, in session at Atlanta last Sunday, voted to ban all-star charity football games among players of the Southern Conference. College authorities desire to have students back in school at the appointed time for ending the football season.

The only exception to the ban is in the event of a member of the conference being invited to participate in the annual New Year's Tournament of Roses game in California.

We cast our annual vote in favor of the return of the freshman-sophomore tug o' war.

More than 25,000 college men are taking part in football in the United States this fall.

TENNESSEE FACES SUSPENSION

Fate has been unkind to the University of Tennessee in the Southern Conference. Linked hand in hand with Kentucky, the Old Woman twice has kept the Volunteers from taking the football crown—and now Tennessee is in trouble again, brought on by herself.

Because Coach Bob Neyland, volunteer coach, assembled freshmen football candidates at Knoxville in late August, issued uniforms, and gave instructions, Tennessee is faced with suspension from the conference. The conference rules are that freshmen are not to report for practice until school starts, thus putting all conference schools on an equal footing in their "rushing."

The executive committee of the Southern Conference, in session at Atlanta, ruled that Tennessee must show cause at the annual meeting at Chapel Hill in December why they should not be suspended from the organization for violation of training rules.

The Sewanee Tigers hold nine victories over Alabama and Kentucky. Kentucky has been able to turn trick but once. Sewanee alsahas won the Southern Conference football championship and Kentucky has not.

Maybe it was the kick on the nose, maybe it was the blood, maybe he was good all the time—withstanding all the "maybes," the

GOLF TEAM WILL NOT PLAY THIS FALL

There will be no university varsity golf matches this fall, although next spring there will be a number of men out, putting and driving, to get in shape for some inter-collegiate matches then. Professor J. C. Jones, coach, is planning several Southern Conference matches in addition to a match with Ohio State and Indiana.

With the records that the old men have been making, and the belief that there is some real material among the new aspirants, there is no reason why Kentucky should not carry away plenty of honors on the greens and fairways. Kenneth Larmee, who was captain of the team last year, will be back. Larmee has won the Southern Club championship in addition to being champion of southern Kentucky at the Middleboro meet in 1928.

Hogan Watson, the "putting sopher," will be on hand after a summer of marked success in golf. He was medalist in the Blue Grass invitation meet at the Ashland Club and was a finalist in the meet at Middleboro.

Billy Meredith, another sopher, has proved his ability only a few days ago when he was given a medal for breaking "seventy-five" at the Ashland Country Club. By the time these sopheromeres are sent to Kentucky they may be on the golf map.

Freddie Hardwick, who will be out next spring, has been showing some of his long drives.

Bill Lusky, another man who will be aspiring for more fame on the "grass," carries a record to be exceedingly proud of. He was state intercollegiate champion at Louisville last year.

Kentucky coaching staff has decided that Windy Aldridge, 190-pound young feller from Benham will play tackle in the place of All-Southern Pete Drury this year. The selection was made last Monday in a contest between Aldridge, Tuttle and Seale.

Sewanee will not scare the Wildcats, but the radio mike did. Furquer, Williams, Spicer, Rose and Toth made short talks over the WFAA remote control studio last Tuesday and we think that as speakers, they are good football men.

Wisconsin Installs New Check System

MADISON, WIS.—Further steps in the simplification of the student check problem for Madison business men were taken recently with the introduction of pre-certified checks by several banking houses to the traveler's check. It is issued in a certain denomination, and is signed by the student at the time of purchase and then counter-signed in the presence of the person cashing the check.

Issuance of the pre-certified checks is another attempt to solve the check problem of students attending the University of Wisconsin. Because of the reluctance of Madison banks and business houses to cash personal checks for strangers, and because the pursas's office at the university does not cash or accept checks in excess of the amount of the university fees, hundreds of students from all parts of Wisconsin about to enter the university each fall find themselves financially embarrassed and often severely inconvenienced.

The system of pre-certified checks is expected to solve much of this problem, since business houses are thus relieved of identifying the student, and there is no danger of the checks being returned because of insufficient funds.

BASKETBALL PRACTICE

Adolph F. Rupp who signed a two-year contract to coach the Wildcat basketball team at present is helping Coach Pribble with the Kitten football squad, but hopes to start cage practice as soon as possible.

Mr. Rupp was graduated from the University of Kansas in 1923. From there he journeyed to New York City where he received his masters degree from Columbia. He coached basketball, football, track, and wrestling at Marshalltown, Ia.

Coach Rupp was basketball coach at Freeport (Ill.) High school since 1925 where he achieved remarkable success, his teams winning 81 per cent of their games in four years. In 1929, Freeport won 18 games, losing five, and took third place in the state tournament. Last year they won 20 games and lost four, losing in the sectional meet after winning the district and conference championships.

Coach Rupp won national recognition as a basketball player. While at Kansas he played under Dr. Forest C. "Phog" Alene, one of the great teachers of basketball and was a member of the championship team of 1922 which won 15 titles and lost one. He played on the 1923 "Ever Victorious" team that ended the season undefeated after chalking up 11 victories. This remarkable season started a string of 34 consecutive victories and six championships at Kansas U. incidentally, Coach Rupp, who is six feet tall, was the shortest man on the "Jaywalker" quintet.

Coach Rupp is an advocate of the fast break system which will be a complete change from the type of basketball used by the Wildcats for the past three seasons. The new method declined to make any predictions for the coming season as he has never seen any of his material in action, nor does he know how they will perform under the new system. Some of the outstanding basketballers will be busy on the gridiron until after "Turkey Day," but Coach Rupp hopes to start official practice about October 15. These sessions will be held three times a week until after the close of the football season.

Several outstanding candidates who do not take part in football will be on hand for the pre-season drills. Among the gridiron members who will report later are Carey Spicer, captain of this year's team; Ellis Johnson and Darrel Darbey, former Ashland luminaries and members of the intercollegiate American team of 1928; George Yates, elongated center who is expected to fill the shoes of "Spooks" Millward; "Coony" Foster, member of the yearling outfit last year; and Jake Bronston, the lad who showed Atlanta fans how the guard position should be played in last year's tournament.

Coach Rupp is not married. He is 29 years old and comes highly recommended by such well known basketball authorities as Coach Craig Ruby, of Illinois; Dr. Allen and Dr. J. M. Naumann, University of ansas; Wayne K. Otto, Chicago Herald-Examiner; Douglas Grant, Freeport Journal Standard and others. These men were free in their praise of Coach Rupp and predictions for a brilliant future.

KENTUCKY FROSH GAIN FIRST VICTORY

The University of Kentucky's freshmen football team gained a 7-0 decision over the Kentucky Wesleyan frosh last Saturday in a game played at Winchester. It was the first game of the season for both teams and showed flashes of football ability on occasions but for the most part was a listless game with numerous errors and misplays by both teams.

The Kittens, however, played a much better game than the score would indicate, maintaining possession of the ball most of the time and keeping the play well into the Wesleyan territory. The Kittens crossed the Wesleyan goal line for four markers only to lose three of them due to penalties. The entire Wesleyan team played well and showed considerable strength on offense. Kentucky Back, Duff and Kercheval were best. Duff with only three days practice, proved a tower of strength on defense and should develop in to one of the best men on the squad by the time the Greenies meet their next foe.

Throw out the Wesleyan game for the frosh got started on the wrong foot, and remained out of step throughout the entire game. The first year men show promise in returning to the usual calibre of freshman teams that have represented the university in the last few years.

Who do not take part in football will be on hand for the pre-season drills. Among the gridiron members who will report later are Carey Spicer, captain of this year's team; Ellis Johnson and Darrel Darbey, former Ashland luminaries and members of the intercollegiate American team of 1928; George Yates, elongated center who is expected to fill the shoes of "Spooks" Millward; "Coony" Foster, member of the yearling outfit last year; and Jake Bronston, the lad who showed Atlanta fans how the guard position should be played in last year's tournament.

Southern Conference Season Opens; Kernel Begins Selection List

By TOSNY ROSE

Most of the Southern Conference teams opened the 1930 football season in a very unimpressive manner. The scores for the most part were unusually close for practice contests. Three conference eleven were defeated by their so-called weaker opponents: Davidson College winning from North Carolina State, 12-0; Mississippi College defeated the Mississippi Aggies 14-0; and Auburn lost to Birmingham-Southern 7-0.

The biggest upset of the week was South Carolina's overwhelming victory over the highly-touted Duke eleven. The Blue Devils were defeated by the score of 22 to 0. North Carolina barely eked out a victory over the scrappy Little Wake Forest team. Last year North Carolina had one of the greatest scoring teams in the country, and were expected to go even better this year.

The following conference teams had trouble in winning their first practice game: Sewanee, 14, Tennessee Poly, 0; V. M. I., 13, Richmond, 0; Washington and Lee, 15, Roanoke, 0.

Hampdon-Sidney, 0; and V. P. I., 9. Other Southern Conference members ran rough-shod over their opponents: Alabama 43, Howard 0; Georgia 31, Coker 0; Maryland 60, Washington College 0; Florida 45, Southern 0; Virginia 48, Randolph-Macon 0; Louisiana State 71, Louisiana Tech 0; Clemson 32, Wofford 0; Tulane 84, Southern Louisiana 0; Vanderbilt 39, Chattanooga 0.

This week there are five Southern Conference games. Kentucky, the first game that has a bearing on the title race should win easily from Sewanee. Alabama will have a nice work-out against Ole Miss. This game should give us a line on what the Crimson Tide's new backfield can do against fair opposition. The Florida Gators should have a field day against the weak North Carolina State eleven.

The hardest game of the week will be between South Carolina and Georgia Tech. The Gamecocks are already serious contenders for the conference crown due to their impressive victory over Duke last Saturday.

Monday. Tech should have a better team this year than they did last season, but it is their first game of the season against South Carolina. Therefore it will be no upset if the Georgia boys are on the short end of the score. This should be a real battle.

North Carolina will tie up with V. P. I. in what should be an interesting affair. Although North Carolina made a very poor showing last Saturday against Wake Forest, they should be pointed for this game against the Virginians. Carolina should win by a decisive score. The Duke-Virginia crash is a toss-up; should win by a decisive score. The Duke has a much better team than can be judged by their showing against South Carolina, and Virginia is unusually strong this year. Therefore a close game should result, the breaks should decide this contest.

There are three inter-sectional games carded for Saturday in the Southern Conference. Vanderbilt will clash with Minnesota at Minneapolis; the boys from the south should win. This contest may be a close one, but the Western Conference eleven has the advantage. Maryland goes home to play Yale in their annual affair. Maryland always puts up a brilliant fight against the Elis. This would be no surprise to see Maryland bring home the bacon.

The other Southern Conference teams have easy games, more or less, with outsiders: Clemson may have a hard time beating the Citadel; Georgia will have a work-out against Mercer. Auburn plays Springfield; Louisiana, should win from Southwestern; V. M. I. will have an easy time with St. John; Washington and Lee meets Richmond in an easy affair, and Tennessee should score a handy win over Centre.

Our selections in the Southern Conference are as follows:

RALPH WRIGHT, TACKLE

BAMA TO MEET OLE MISS ON SATURDAY

UNIVERSITY, Ala., Oct. 2.—With a 49 to 0 verdict against Howard College tucked away, Alabama must now get down to the serious business for their first conference tilt in the Howard contest and Coach Wade will have a busy week ahead of him ironing them out.

As usual Alabama's defense was good. The line was stopping Howard plays easily, and occasionally breaking through to smear a play behind the line of scrimmage. The backs also showed well, especially in breaking up passes. The Bama offense was not working smoothly, and will have to be polished up for the Mississippi game. The forward passing in particular was ineffective, only one pass being completed during the game by the Tide. Against Mississippi, Alabama will need all her strength, as the visitors appear to be stronger this year than they have been for several seasons past. Any team that can score 10 touchdowns against Ole Miss must have something, and that is exactly what Ole Miss did in her first game.

The visiting crew is coached by two former pupils of Coach Warner, Stanford, and will introduce the high powered Warner scoring system in the Southern Conference.

John Jones. He is John Jones, General Manager. He is Mister Jones this and Mister Jones that and yes, sir, Mister Jones. He is The Boss. His opinion is highly regarded. He influences the lives of dozens of men. Is it to be wondered that such a man hates the thought of retiring from business to become just plain John Jones without a title, without power, often without even a hobby to console him? There is yet a third successful man and fortunately, we discover him often. He is the man who has found work which brought him not only bread, butter and a ration of cake, but joy. He has not striven for power or for possessions but chiefly for the joy of doing a thing he loved to do. He has found that "that internal satisfaction which every man can get from doing his absolute best." When he reaches his twilight years and gets out of harness, he has laid by enough to provide food, clothing and shelter for himself and those dependent upon him. He has a sense of having brought to completion a good job. He takes upon a full time basis a new one, his hobby, whatever it be. He has earned and enjoys his leisure. He knows how to loaf and invite his soul. He knows the pleasure of books, of companionship of always full, vivid, stimulating. He little simple things. Life for him is as earned the highest form of success.

Success Is Divided Into Three Sections

Possession of Things, Power or Joy Determines Types

Success, as is generally measured in this fair land of ours where opportunity beckons to every ambitious man and woman, is of three sorts. There is, first, the type of success represented by the possession of things. The second is manifested by possession of power. The third is neither of these. The first type of success is most apparent among the extremely wealthy. Mr. Blank, having earned or inherited more coin of the realm than he can spend upon the maintenance of his home, continues to wait to stand out among his fellows. Perhaps, he takes up yachts in a big way or it may be hospitals or libraries. The chances are that the public benefits through his generosity—museums, college endowments, research foundations, parks, art collections—but the fact remains that he is known as a man who owns things, even if he ultimately gives them all away. Our second successful type is a hard worker. He is one who, other than not, lives in a modest suburb in a modest house on a modest scale. At home he is just John Jones of Pleasantdale. But, when he gets off his train and steps into his office—ah, that is something else again. There he is not

STYLE THAT HAS GONE COLLEGE

University men are still firmly favoring the box type of Topcoat. We show various versions of this coat: single or double breasted, plain back, belt back, notch or peak lapel, hard weaves, camel's hair or fleeces.

A Suit with the new departure of a single breasted type of coat. This three-button model is eminently fashionable this fall in college circles. We show it in smart tweeds and dressy flannels.

A smart 3-button model with the new notch lapel. Distinguishing features are the obvious tendency toward the more fitted effect.

RESERVES MAY BE DISBANDED

Lack of Material Causes Coaches to Doubt Possibilities

By E. A. TURLEY

For the first time in years the University of Kentucky may be without the invaluable service of a reserve football team. These are the words handed out by Coach Peter Potter when interviewed by a Kernel reporter.

To football fans this will be a dreadful blow, for it is an old saw that says that a varsity football team is no better than its reserves. The reason given for the probable disbandment of the team, Coach Potter said is the lack of material which makes it impossible for the athletic directors to secure more games than they now have on a very vacant schedule. For years past authorities on the great collegiate pastime have given the reserves of Kentucky their due credit for helping in making Kentucky's teams among the best known and most feared in the South. But through a lack of spirit it seems that the reserves will remain disbanded while the freshmen will be left to furnish the varsity a mediocre type of competition, and also to fill the gaps made vacant by the disbanding of the reserves with such teams as the Notre Dame reserves, and the Murray State Normal. There is no reason why Kentucky should not be able to support a reserve team this fall. One Southern Conference rule which states that a sophomore entering the university for the first time and not being eligible for freshmen football due to his scholastic standing is eligible for only two years of varsity football after he has participated in a reserve game, has been modified to the extent that the player is eligible for three instead of two years of varsity competition which gives the player one more year in which to make the varsity. This new ruling should encourage me from other schools to go out for the reserves

UNIVERSITY HIGH HAS SNAPPY TEAM

With nineteen ambitious and scrappy little candidates fighting for places on University High football team, Coach Pete Kemper believes that University High will have its greatest team in years. Kemper has arranged an ambitious schedule for his boys, and some of the state's best teams will be met.

The season was officially opened last Friday at Falmouth with a 9-6 victory for the local boys. This afternoon Ferguson High will contest the university bids on Jeff-Davis field at 2:30 o'clock. The line-up for the first team includes Hillard and Bishop ends; Robertson and Anderson, tackles; Olney and Heird, guards; Jack Baker, center; Little, quarterback; Griffith and Louder, halfbacks; and Captain Glass, fullback. Other candidates who will see action are Fisher, Yankey, Welch, S. Longley, R. Shipley, and Fugazzi.

The line will average 145 pounds and the backfield is much lighter. Little, at quarterback scored all the points in the Falmouth victory. Hillard, Robeson, Little Jack Baker and Bishop were prominent in the team's victory last week.

The schedule for the season shows the following opponents will meet University High. Next week, Springfield High, the home of Shipreck Kelly, the Galloping Ghost of the Big Blue, will meet Kemper's boys. Then comes Eminence, Kentucky School for Deaf at Danville, Cynthiana, Harrodsburg, Versailles and Corbin.

"Shipreck" Kelly Leads in Runs as Blues Down W's

Shipreck Kelly's 60 yard return of Ellis Johnson's punt, bringing the score to exactly 19 points climaxed the forty minute game between the Blue and the White representatives of the Wildcat football squad on Stoll Field Saturday afternoon. The Blue trial for points after touchdown failed but the 19 points were just 1 more than the meagre safety scored by the White team in the second period.

Throughout the entire first half neither team had an advantage over the other. Late in the second quarter the White team scored its only two points of the game when a bad pass from center went over the head of Young Phipps, who had dropped back to punt out of danger. The ball rolled over the end lines and was declared a safety by the referee.

In the third quarter the Blue team hammered the White line at will until the well known "Shipreck" got loose for his spectacular sprint. Jack Phipps, tore through the White line for thirty yards and first down. Bo Meyer then sped of-where before he has been hemmed in by an unjust ruling. Coaches Potter and Drury are issuing their last call for material, and unless this call is answered nothing but failure can be the answer to the 1930 edition of reserve football at Kentucky.

Here are Some Changes in Grid Rules This Year

Before the 1930 football season opens for the Kentucky football fans it may be of interest to note the changes in the rules for this year. Football is such a complicated game that the fans cannot appreciate the game unless they are familiar with the rules. Therefore we will try and make these changes as clear as possible.

The changes in the rules this year deal with backward passes and fumbles, shift plays, the color of uniforms, and the pressure of the ball.

Last year on a backward pass (except one made by the snapper back), when the ball went out of bounds, the fumble rule applied. That is to say that either side could recover it. This year the rule states: "On a backward pass or a fumble, if the ball goes out of bounds between the goal lines, it shall belong to the team whose player last touched it in the field of play or zone; at the point where it crossed the side line." This year's rule merely gives the ball to the side whose player was the last to touch it in the field of play.

In 1929 the effectiveness of the shift was limited by a new rule which demanded a definite pause between the time of the shift and the passing of the ball by the center. This year's rule demands that the players must come to a stop of at least one second after the shift.

The new rules also state that teams must refrain from wearing uniforms and helmets which are so similar in appearance to the football that the opposing players are put to a disadvantage.

The pressure of the football must be between 12 1/2 and 13 1/2 pounds. This is of little interest to the people in the stadium but it is a great help to the punters and passers. An over-inflated ball is very hard to kick and pass, therefore the punters and passers should profit by this new ruling.

These are the few changes in the rules for 1930. The rules committee has about decided that changing a large number of rules each year only hurts the game instead of improving it.

tackle for thirty-five more yards and the first touchdown of the game. His dropkick sailed between the uprights and the score was 7 to 2.

The Blues scored again in the early part of the fourth period when Bickel, who had replaced the injured Meyer, slipped off right tackle and ran thirty yards to the White five yard marker, Phipps, on a delayed buck, carried it over. Kelly failed to make his try for extra point.

Varsity Track Men to Run Distance

A cross-country team that will represent the university during the present fall season started work Monday after holding a meeting on Saturday. The turn-out was small but Bernie Shively, in charge of cross-country, expects more out within the week.

The squad will be under the direction of Jerry O'Bryant, last year's letter man and varsity track distance star. The varsity squad consists of O'Bryant, J. R. Miner, H. N. Miner, Gibson, Baker, Gottlieb, Mahan, and Twaddell. The freshmen reporting include Vincent, Myers, Burnes, Boaz, Yenna, Tucker, Browner and Wilten. The freshmen will be granted numerals for their work and will be excused from gym work in two weeks.

As yet there are no meets scheduled for either squad but meets with Berea, U. of L. and the U. of Cincinnati will be arranged. The varsity squad will compete in the Y. M. C. A. cross-country meet at Cincinnati and the Y. M. H. A. The freshmen competition does not cross-country meet at Louisville, exclude them from the intramural cross-country Saturday.

The local rialto fairly shown this week with a program of well balanced movie-fare at the principal cinema houses. Indications are strong, however, for next week's presentations to eclipse the present bill-offare. "Moby Dick," the outstanding attraction of this week, has drawn much favorable comment while "Bright Lights," a surprisingly good picture, seemed to attract few duets. "Follow Through" was saved by Jack Haley and Zelma O'Neal and, in our opinion, they had to overcome the effects of Nancy Carroll and Charles Rogers, the stars. We absolutely refuse to call the last named person "Buddy."

Of especial interest to Kentuckians is the announcement that Elizabeth Maddox Roberts' novel, "The Great Meadow," went into production last week with Eleanor Boardman and John Mack Brown in the leads. MGM assigned Charles Brabin to direct the filmization of the Kentucky work.

One cannot think of "The Band Man" without recalling the late Holbrook Blinn, who immortalized the character on the spoken stage and in a silent picture. First Na-and it is said that Colman gives a splendid performance in this George Fitzmaurice directed picture. We will never forget "Bulldog Brummage" in which Colman establishes himself as a talking picture artist of the first magnitude.

The sound of stagecraftsmen's hammers emanating from the Outing-Club building is a sure sign of the fact that the university's little play-house will soon embark upon another season. "The Royal Family" opens on October 2. Won't it be good to see a group of live actors again?

"Top Speed," advertised by First National as a comedy as fast as its title suggests, opens at the Strand Sunday. Joe E. Brown, of the cavernous mouth, and Bernice Clire have the leads. Jack Whiting, see musical comedy star, Frank McHugh, the drunken reporter in "Bright Lights," Laura Lee, Rita Flynn, and Edmund Breese are other members of the cast. "Top Speed" which is a musical built-around automobile racing, was directed by Mervyn LeRoy, Hollywood's youngest successful megaphonist.

Pitkin Club Holds Afternoon Meeting

Dr. Howard Morgan, of Maxwell Presbyterian Church, to Be Club Speaker

A meeting of the Pitkin Club, university students' luncheon club, was held Monday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock for the purpose of choosing a speaker for the coming year. Dr. Howard Morgan, of Maxwell Street Presbyterian church, was chosen. The club will begin its weekly meetings the latter part of October.

Meetings of the club are held every Wednesday during the school year, at 12:00 o'clock noon, each meeting being a luncheon, followed by an address by the speaker on some phase of the subject selected by the club for the year. The membership is limited to 75, and members are chosen from a list of applicants by a secret committee.

Those interested in belonging to the club may send their names to the office of the Y. M. C. A., to be placed on the waiting list. If chosen they will be officially notified of the next meeting.

Sneers Snickers Scandal
By WILLIAM ARBERY

As we probably have said many times just a little of that rare fluid which is popularly alluded to as "sporting blood." And, by a strange coincidence, those people usually mentioned in this column, who do not like us. The people who do not like us are those who are too conceited to appreciate the fact that this column is written solely for the purpose of entertaining our beloved ed and ettes. We do not consciously attempt to uncover facts which will ruin the reputation of those who are prominent enough to be mentioned in this column. We feel no animosity toward any student or group of students on the campus. But those who do not know this already can never be made to understand it.

Kind informants have generously warned us that several students are planning an old fashioned tar and feather party, with ourselves as the guests of honor. How perfectly deplorable that we should be tarred and feathered in our own pajamas or just plain evening attire?

The fact that eligible ettes would rather affiliate with a marriage bureau than a sorority was conclusively demonstrated last week when Kappa Kappa Gamma pledged 23 of the fairest freshmen flowers on the campus.

It was Kipling, we believe, who agreed with us in saying: "A woman is only a woman until a good cigar is a smoke." So the Kappas!

Formerly the band has been rated by cordial observers as only slightly higher in the scale of intelligence than the students of the college of Engineering. After the sponsor election Monday, however, we are inclined to believe that there is no organization at the university which possesses as much real intellectualism as the Big Blue horned rooters.

With Virginia Doubayser as sponsor the band can fall to appear at the football games and still maintain its reputation as the "Best in Dixie."

Our fan mail is rapidly increasing. Yesterday we received a post card saying, "Column rotten—where is the screw?" We have the writer of that card might try after a date at the Delta Zeta house. Where are the sneers and snickers?

We have been holding out on our beloved ed and ettes—we really like the "Moonshiner." Congratulations to the staff and kindly note that they are the first that have ever been extended by this popular young writer.

When we try to write this beautiful example of Wit, Wisdom, and Wags, we are always reminded of our illustrious predecessors—Clarence Barnes and Martin Glenn. There may have been others but our memory only serves us as far back as the great May Queen election of 28.

Tennesseans Come For Wildcat Tilt

The Tigers played and won with the Jacksonville Teachers College, and Tennessee Poly. have been ironed out by coaches Harmon and Scull. The Tigers are certain to present a smoother working machine than when they met their earlier foes. Among the more glaring faults that handicapped Sewanee players in their earlier games was their inability to block for the carriers. A general looseness in the handling of the ball, resulting in many fumbles for the Tigers. The lack of a strong and offensive drive that was so noticeably lacking in other games, due to the slowness of the backs and interferers in getting started from scrimmage, has been eradicated in the long practice sessions held this week. The takes and cut-back plays of the Tigers have been smoothed out and should show to much better perfection in the game with the Wildcats Saturday.

The Tigers came out of their scrimmage practices this week with practically no injuries and will be in first class condition when the two teams meet. The team as a whole will be able to display to a much greater advantage than in earlier games the big Indian blocks that the coaches have instilled in their system of play.

In Phillips at fullback and Sterling at quarter, the Tigers have two of the most consistent backs in the South, both on offense and defense, and should be able to show the mighty Cats a thing or three before the final whistle on Stoll field Saturday night.

In Captain Simson at center, Bean at left tackle and A. Stimson at right end the Sewanee Tigers will present three linemen that should be able to cope with their opponents in the strong forward wall of the Cats. The Tiger team as a whole is one of the best that has represented the university in several years, and although a comparatively young team, most of the regulars being sophomores, is expected to upset several leading teams of the conference before the season is finished. The Tigers will present one of the heaviest and best balanced teams ever to represent the university. The probable lineup and weights are as follows:

Left guard: Patton (44), 200
Center: Stimson (39), 175 pounds
Right guard: Anderson (37), 205
Right tackle: Blair (30), 190
Right end: A. Stimson (21), 180
Quarterback: Sterling (42), 172
Left halfback: Jefferies (31), 172
Right halfback: McClure (26), 170
Fullback: Phillips (28), 190

Blue and White Expected to Win

pounds from end to end. The team average would be near 190 pounds. There seems to be room for argument as to just what constitutes the first string backfield. Gamage has been using Kelly, Johnson, Spicer and Jack Phipps most of the time, but Dick Richards and Urbaniak also have seen considerable service.

Interest centers around "Shipwreck" and Johnson, halfbacks. Kelly has been running wild ever since practice started, and should have a sensational year. Kelly's varied talents include blocking, kicking, passing and running—and how he can run. The Strinfield blond is first choice for the fastest back in the South.

Johnson will be making his debut for the varsity. His reputation as the outstanding prep school athlete in the United States has not spoiled him in the least. Johnson is another backfield assembled in one man. He can kick, pass, and run in a way that should receive attention from sports scribes anywhere. The band will be present, as will the Man O' War post American Legion drum and bugle corps. The bugs will be present. In fact, everyone will be there except poor old Fuzzy.

President McVey Speaks to First Religious Meeting

President Frank L. McVey spoke last night at the first of the weekly religious meetings held in the men's dormitories. These meetings are conducted by the Y. M. C. A. and plans for them were made last Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Senior cabinet of the Y.

At that time, Bart M. Peak, Morton Walker, Joe Rattenbender and Robert L. Rudolph were elected as delegates to the state Y. M. C. A. meeting at Louisville, October 9 and 10. John Jones was made alternate. The Freshman cabinet held an organization meeting at the same time under the direction of Robert Stewart, upperclassman in charge in charge of freshman Y. activities. Chester Yegna and William Acosta were elected temporary president and secretary, respectively. Yegna, Acosta and Robert Fennell were placed on a committee to map out a program for their weekly discussion meetings.

Bart Peak will speak at the next meeting which will be held Tuesday evening. The subject will be: "What Is the Y. M. C. A.?"

Tennis Prospects Are Bright at U. K.

Tennis prospects at the University of Kentucky are brightest in years, according to Prof. W. W. Downing, coach of the tennis squad. Only three members of the 1930 varsity squad were lost through graduation. They are Captain Rawlings Ragland, Frank Davison, besides Clay Brock, student manager.

Coach Downing builds his hopes for a successful season upon Captain-elect Earl Senf, Cary Spicer, versatile all-around athlete, Joe Kee, and Bruce Farquhar. Of the freshman squad three are eligible for competition. They are Bishop, ranking number one player, Foster and Klein.

Ineligibility and failure to make a standing will keep many prospective candidates out, according to Coach Downing. Hamerley, member of the varsity squad two years ago, and DeCaris, sophomore, will be back with the team this fall. The big gap left by graduation of Ragland will be hard to fill, but most of the boys have kept in trim during the warm summer months and have improved in their playing ability. No definite schedule has been arranged but a cup through the South during the Easter holidays is being planned. Only the strongest teams in Dixie will be met.

Out of a total of eleven games last season the Wildcats won seven, lost three, and tied one game. Victories include Berea (2), Sewanee, Tennessee, St. Xavier, Cincinnati, (2) and Georgetown College. Three of the nation's best teams were able to topple the Big Blue. Vanderbilt nil, and Kentucky in the Southern Conference meet, and Georgia Tech was tied, Cincinnati and Colgate of the City of Detroit defeated the Cats.

A selective fall tournament is being planned next week for all eligible freshmen and varsity candidates. A cup will be given to the winner. Unlike other tournaments the winner will not be decided by elimination, but by a percentage of wins. The tournament will depend upon the water supply, as the water for sprinkling the courts is now being taken from Clifton pond.

Former U. K. Man Writes First Novel

"Morning Sorrow", a first novel by John Rothenstein, London, England, and a former member of the faculty of the University of Kentucky is to appear soon. It is to be published by Constable of Orange Street, Leicester Square, London, England. Mr. Rothenstein has also edited sixteen newly-discovered letters from Oscar Wilde, which are to be issued shortly by Coward Macclann. Mr. Rothenstein lives at 13 Airle garden, Campden hill, London, and was at one time assistant-professor of art history at the university.

REQUESTS MUST BE FILED

In accordance with an order of the University council all requests for the use of Memorial Hall and other auditoriums and lecture rooms in the university buildings must be filed in the office of the Dean of Men. This regulation was adopted in order to avoid conflicts in the time and place of the various meetings held at the university.

Southern Conference May Suspend Vols

Coach Bernie Shively in filling that vacant place in the Wildcats' line which has been so hard to plug this year. Drury was one of the best tackles that the university has ever had. He weighs close to 200 pounds and was a very fast tackle. He was named by many Southern sports writers as All-Southern tackle last year.

Local football fans will find many new changes in the stadium on Stoll field Saturday night when Sewanee and the Wildcats open the season. According to Doctor Funkhouser, the press box will be rebuilt so that its capacity will be doubled. This change will be made in order to make room for the increasing number of sports writers from other parts of the country. Due to the wide interest that will be taken in the Wildcats' game this season, many critics will be in evidence at each game. The press-box which now has a capacity of 28, will probably hold 50 when completed. There will be also a special room made for radio announcers so that the noise of the spectators and from the press-room will not hinder the broadcast of the games.

Loudspeakers similar to those used last fall to describe the games play by play will be used Saturday night, and if they prove satisfactory they will be used at all games to be played on Stoll field this season, according to Doctor Funkhouser.
