Amid astonished students and shocked faces, two students in a news reporting class at Michigan State College got into an argument, punctuating their remarks with uncles and swings at each other. The truth came, as usual. It was a put-up job. After they were separated they were asked to write a news story about what they had seen.

Letters

Dear Madam Editor:
 Unaccounted as I am in writing letters to editors, I have after four years of being frustrated by the feeble campus press, decided to express opinions that were forced to the front by what was NOT in last week's Kernel. I do not attack YOUR policy alone, for the unfavorable hackadaisical attitude of certain organizations, because it is evident that the Kernel has continually gone out of its way to ignore a large percentage of what could only be termed "good news."

The Kernel did not find it necessary to mention (much less use a picture) what nationally known publications as Pic Magazine, Variety, Apparel Arts, and The Courier-Journal have found important enough to grace several of their widely read pages. Why? What are you trying to build? (This is directed to YOU since it is reasonable to hold the editor responsible.

I have just returned from Alumni Gym where I saw the Trouper's Show. For the most part, this program was a fine one as well as an entertaining one. However, towards the end of the show, it seems as if the participants forgot what they were, and who was watching them. They forgot that they were representatives of this University, and that they had many visitors with children in the audience.

The scene that I am speaking about, was entitled, "An Act." It started like it might be nice clean fun, but it soon changed. I don't want to sound like a prude, because at first I laughed just as hard as the others, but then I turned and saw a lady sitting next to me who was having an embarrassing time with her two young children who didn't understand certain terms, and implications.

The implications, the cussing and the general attitude in this act not only could have, but should have been cleaned up before being staged. If these two "Comedians" can only get laughter from the type of audience that was there tonight by such means, then I suggest that they be dropped from all future programs until they can emulate successful comedians of today who do not need such a spectacle of obscenity.

 A DISCUSSED STUDENT

DEAR EDITOR:
 The original plan for the source of SGA finances was the assessment of one dollar from every UK student. This money to be used as SGA saw proper. This, however, is no longer true.

The present SGA finances come from the general University funds and are allocated by the Board of Trustees just as are the funds of any other Department of the University. Student and faculty members of SGA draw up the budget for the Student Government subject to the approval of the Administration. This year SGA was allocated approximately $700. SGA will have a balance of $200 and this money will be returned to the general fund of the University.

QUERY: Does the SGA have any control over its own finances? NO. Should it have a control? YES, because SGA cannot possibly stimulate the interest of the students (Continued on Page Four)

Uniform Cut System Needed

One situation at the University that cries for a remedy it will probably never get is the cut system.

As the situation exists, there is no uniform system of penalties for absences from class. The number of permitted absences seem to be left up to the instructor.

And the attitudes of instructors vary widely, of course. At one extreme is the man who demands that all his pupils, faces and hands washed, be in their assigned chairs every day except in case of death (their own), because he would hate to have any of the children miss a syllable of the wisdom he is about to impart. On the other extreme is the man who feels that if his students do not find his lectures helpful they need not attend.

In between there are any number of ideas on the subject, held by instructors who don't care, instructors who eagerly and conscientiously report dilatory students to their deans, instructors who have a policy for each individual, and instructors who explain their theories at the beginning of each course.

Clear and thorough explanations save considerable mental anguish and wear and tear on the student nervous system—and if a penalty is imposed. Explanations are certainly an improvement over an enigmatic smile or a dark hint of swift, terrible, and unknown retribution.

It seems a questionable theory that a student's grade should be dropped one or two letters because, although his work is of high level, he found his instructor's lectures neither helpful nor interesting.

But if penalties are to be administered, they should be administered according to a uniform policy, a known and ordered system that leaves no doubt in the student's mind and permits no unexpected blow when he receives his grades.

The practice of adding a semester hour and a quality point to graduation requirements for cuts after or before a holiday is an archaic and outlandish practice followed by few institutions.

The practice is unfair to the students who live in eastern or western Kentucky and who find transportation very difficult. Moreover, money hardly flows freely enough among students on this campus for them to be able to charter planes to get them back in time before zero hour.

If a uniform system of penalties were established, "double-cut" penalties could be meted out to students absent before or after holidays, without the added burden toward graduation.

The ideal situation would, of course, be a system of unlimited absences for upperclass students, who know what college requires. But since this ideal will doubtless never be realized, at least a uniform policy could be set and a revision of the holiday penalty could be made.

SGA has little to do and could take some hopeful suggestions to the faculty. But the plan is interesting to speculate upon, anyhow.

Dr. Weeks Speaks To Chemical Society

PERSONALITIES

Harold Borden, treasurer, a former student in the University of Kentucky department of music made his debut in Carnegie Hall in New York, April 18.

Mr. Borden, who has studied voice in New York since his discharge from the Army, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Borden, of Winchester. His wife was the former Kathleen Hogan of Ft. Thomas, a graduate of the University of Kentucky department of music.

Andy Anderson, former University of Kentucky student and basketball star and at present a city commissioner of Lexington, has resigned as coach of the Latin High School basketball team in Lexington.

In his four years as coach at Latin, he has led the Knights to the finals of the diocesan tournament three times. This year his team had a season record of 12 and seven before losing to Henry Clay in the first round of the district tournament.

Carl Camenisch of Louisville with two other Louisville men has formed an advertising agency service to agriculture and industry in Louisville.

Mr. Camenisch has been agricultural director and account executive for Parson and Huff Advertising Agency in Louisville for the past four years, and prior to that served in the United States Army.

He was an organizer and is president of the Kentucky Black Walnut Company, Inc., of Stanford; former director of information of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, and has done editorial writing, advertising, production supervision for the Kentucky Farm Bureau News. He was also co-organizer of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Automobile Insurance Company, and later manager of 125 agents.

W. Russell Cox of Lexington resigned from the State Personnel Bureau May 1, to become assistant director of the National Civil Service League in New York.

Mr. Cox, a graduate of the University with experience in industrial personnel work joined the Finance Department last year. He has been aiding in plans to promote a merit system program.

Jean Bureau of Lexington, a student in the School of Nursing at Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, Md., will be graduated this June, and has already received an appointment to permanent duty in surgery at Johns Hopkins.

Stephen Spender, Poet Proves Literary Men Are Human, Too

By George Reynolds

Stephen Spender, one of the outstanding poets alive today, can be just as uneasy under the queries of an English professor as a palpitating undergrad.

In a lecture at McVey Hall last Friday, Mr. Spender explained his conception of creative writing to a capacity audience—and somewhat different conceptions were harbored by some front-row listeners.

Research Society Holds Annual Dinner

The University chapter of Sigma Xi, national research organization, held its annual dinner last night in the Bluegrass Room of the Student Union Building.

Guest speaker was Joseph K. Roberts, general manager of the research for the Standard Oil Company of Indiana.

Thirty-six new members of the chapter, two actives and 34 associates, were announced by Dr. Lee H. Townsend, secretary of the organization.

Dr. M. A. Romanowicz, professor of electrical engineering, and Prof. Samuel J. Jasper, a UK alumnus now teaching at Kent State University, were installed as graduate members.

New associate members, all active students, who were installed are: Ivan Stewart, Don Pearson Claypool, Mortimer Greif, Norman W. Hall, Prince Gordon Harrell, Richard W. Kibler, Harry Todd Miles, Peter Panzera, Curtis Howard Ward, Forrest Vaughan Williams, Marvin S. Cohen, Rufus Pittschie, Charles T. Maney, Clyde S. Calvert Jr., William C. Simpson, Louis Alfred Rayburn, Wayne L. Lawrence, Douglas E. Eastwood, Hermann E. Collier, Robert N. Paley, Raymond F. Warner, Marjorie Con-

Grant Knight asked, "Mr. Spender, I have no knowledge of Russian. If someone should read a good Russian poem to me, should I appreciate it?"

At another point, after a question by Dr. Herant Spivey, Mr. Spender admitted that every word brings to mind something for which it stands—though the impression differs with every individual.

"Much so-called music in poetry is absolute rubbish," Mr. Spender said, explaining that much obscenity has the same sequence of letters which supposedly create that music. "Anyway," he continued, "that's the way I feel about it. I haven't spoken to any of those professors and people."

Explains Poem With Picture

But when asked to describe the process of writing a poem, Mr. Spender explained one of his own by drawing a complete picture on the blackboard.

"Poetry tends to use words so that they become objects in a reader's mind that have no relation to outside objects."

One should never think of real objects, but of words only when reading poetry—the sensation exists only in the words, because everybody is an isolated individual whom sensations press in a series of unique experiences. Words become symbols only, and should not recall reality.

Poetry tends to do the opposite, using words for which others can be substituted without material loss.

But Mr. Spender admitted, when pressed, that the reader of poetry must have some idea of the language in order to appreciate the poem. The admission came when Prof.

Stulzer, Maurice W. Long, Raymond H. Hays, James O. Lewis Jr., Clement H. Bruce, Frank Adler, Bernard Berkowitz, William H. McCollum, C. C. McMurtry, Ruth Shapira, George Scherr, Louise Tale, and Charles L. Riggs.

Diplomat's Diary Among Books Recently Received By King Library

A set of books invaluable to political scientists and historical researchers has been received by the Margaret I. King Library of the University of Kentucky. Dr. Lawrence S. Thompson of the library revealed this week.

The books comprise the twenty volumes of "My Diary At The Conference Of Paris," by David Hunter Miller.

As confidential adviser to Woodrow Wilson and legal adviser to Col. Edward House, United States delegate to the Versailles Conference probably knew as much or more about the drafting of the Treaty of Versailles and other great documents of the period, including the Covenant of the League of Nations, than was possible for any single individual to know, said Dr. Thompson.

Know All Prominent Diplomats
There is probably not a single prominent diplomat or politician of the period at the close of the first world war not mentioned in Miller's classic diary. Miller was present at all the behind-the-scenes activity and "smoke-filled room" politics typical of the early 1920's. There was not a day that he lived that was not important to him from the standpoint of diplomatic history, Dr. Thompson explained.

It is difficult for anyone to know the workings of a peace treaty meeting, as illustrated by the fact that there has been no such conference since the close of World War II, but Mr. Miller no doubt knew as much or more about the work done than any other diplomat, said Dr. Thompson.

The value of the books is increased by the fact that UK is probably the only University in the South owning a set of the diary.

"Going formal" in the good old summertime was never so pleasant as now. Informal comfort is the reason — and the secret is in the revolutionary designing that turns thumbs down on conset like stiffness, hour glass outlines and weighty fabrics... The slogan, that "you can not have a great state without a great university," sounds rather empty when the students in that university are denied the privilege of training and gaining experience in the realm of self government. In a democratic state the students of today will be the leaders of tomorrow. Too bad.

The Spice Of Life

By Jobie Anderson

The Sigma and Chi boys went all out on their dance and "was a great success. Mary Montague is a sweetie of a sweetheart, and where can be found a better music maker than Ray Anthony?"

Shep Lowman had a long weekend. He didn't get his tux off until Sunday morning.

It's a sure sign of summer when Bruce Ferguson starts pushing his blue topped Model A around the streets.

Mack Mays! We know two little girls who have a crush on you! Do you?

The coming baseball game between the PIKA's and the Alpha XI's should be a thriller. The folks have a ten run handicap!

Engaged: Martha Forman and Bob Kretzner; Eleanor Castle and Ed Reese; Jane Turner and Clyde Hamm.

Some dreamy seniors at the prom were Chubby Smith, Dave Hatchet, and Rocky Kidwell. Was the look caused by the idea of leaving school, your date, or the dance?

Tilly McCarty says Zeke Witt is the most sarcastic boy she has ever known, but she still goes out with him.

Why is it that Art Price never acquires any gals around in his new town and country?

Bill Smith always wears collared shirts at the Rock House. Taking up preaching, "Wild Bill!"

Fred Nelson is an added fixture at the Delta Zeta house.

Last week was a tuffie for John Morrow.

Going stronger and stronger... Rabbit Wallace and R. J. Jackson.

Martha Gaunt and Bill Lackey; Cassie Smith and Dick Gaunt spent last weekend in the Ciney zoo.

Spring has sprung, the grass is green and Charles Pentecost has a new tie!!!!

We were all wrong about Gil Whitzenberg. He's strictly a field player. Nancy Ellet is next on the list.

The rain at Herrington Lake spoiled the Phi Psi take party but it didn't keep Jim Brownfield and Johnny Moseley away.

Mostly regular: Lois Johnson and Don Fovetic.

What young man had to leave a big dance to go turn the eggs in the incubator? School! School!

Since "Bubbles" had to go back to Eastern, George Conway spent a pleasant Sunday afternoon in the sack.

The Phi Sig river party was an other success. Henry White and Dick Pieman did a fine barbeque job.

Jimmy Gulley might join the army when Alice leaves for Europe. No telling where Uncle Sam might send him!

Pinky Saffel celebrated the SX formal by getting pinned the next night to Herman Kresler.

Has anyone noticed the similarity between Kelly Bruce and "Pear Shape"?

Constant we reckon: Dorothy Dale and Bob Smith; Eloise Lorch and Charles Rastin; Shirley Porter and G. L. Williamson; O. T. Smith and Ann McWilliams.

Politics are giving Lowas McClure such a rough time that he has to spend all his time around the AGR house. The weather is fine; why don't you give the outside world a try?

Bill "Cowboy" Crafton rode high at the prom last Saturday.

Pinned: Perry Milby and Landon Garrett; Bert Pollack and Virginia Ann Hall; Mary Lou Mathewson and Bill Spillman; Mickey Compton and Carl Faith; Carolyn Hill and Beek Caldwell.

Bill McClure had better stop mooning over Pat's departure of a week ago. There are lots of pretty girls around the campus this spring.

The best dressed content is getting better every year. We have quite a few sharpies on the campus.

Married: Hazel Forman and Sam Ruark; Mary Backman and Bill Branch.

If anybody has vacuum cleaners and bottled water for sale see Ida Manchines.

Wedding bells will be ringing in June for Adele Annar and Gene Cecil; Pat Hine and Wally Morgan; Betty Hensley and Chuck Willis.

Are Ray Porter's frequent visits to the DZ house to see his cousin or Lorrain Haria?

Don't "knock on any doors" gals. Go to 609 Astorford and ask for Tom (Old Fashion) Collins. He'll love it.

Joze Hays has the best fruit flies on the campus.

"Box lunch in a lunch box" is the Phi Kap slogan for their Sunday picnic.

"Well, we just can't cope with this any longer... See you at the Derby. Should be quite a run for the roses!"

Constant tusslers: Emily Anderson and Vic Statte; Virginia Ann Hall and Bert Pollack; Barbara Kirwan and Don Robinson.

Freddie Nichols and Edie Bishop are off the steady list.

Peggy Hughes and Lee Truman are a happy couple these days.

We nominate Sue Mae Bird and Ted Vinor for "strangest couple of the month."

Repinned: Kate Fleming and Dwayne Gullett; Barbara Holeman and Robert Earl Clements.

Question of the week: Who will be the "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi?"

The latest saying among the Phi Psi's is "Charlie, don't go for that."

Sunburn! Sunburn! Ouch, my achin' back! Here's one little gal who believes Bill Sinrall is half Indian.

Here's to another weekend of gay spring parties. How rural can we be?

Spiked Shoe Relays Won By Manual High

Bowman Hall, Kappa Delta, and Delta Tau Delta won the college events of the first annual Spiked Shoe Relays held Monday at Stoll Field under the lights. The event has been scheduled for Saturday but was postponed because of rain.

Bowman Hall won the independent 800-yard relay while the Post-Hall House was second and Bradley Hall, third. Kappa Delta, represented by members of the UK track team, won the severely 800-yard relay in the best time of the 800-yard runs, 1:36.7.

Delta Tau Delta won the fraternity 800-yard relay in the time of 1:29.2.

Manual Wins

Manual of Louisville was easily the powerhouse in the high school events as they swept four of the six events losing only the 300-yard hurdle medal to MML and No. 1 distance-medley relay to University High of Lexington.

University High won the two and one-half mile event in the time of 11:27.5 by a tremendous margin as Dwight Price, running the final mile, flashed a fancy 4:40 and finished more than 300 yards ahead of the second place team, Manual. Manual also finished second in the other event they dropped to MML.

Feature of the evening's program were two exhibition runs by Harrison Dillard, Olympic star from Baldwin-Wallace College. Dillard won the 100-yard dash over four UK runners by coasting in the last 25 yards.

Dillard Shines

Dillard won the 100-yard dash in .10 which is comparatively slow for the boy who won the 100 meter run at the Olympic games last summer. He also won the 120-yard high hurdle run but not only after it was run a second time Dillard stumbled after going over the fourth hurdle but was leading. Dallas sent on to win this heat. However, in the second heat, Dillard showed his great form which carried him to victory after victory during his college competition. He almost walked across the finish line, his time was a slow .16, over the heavy track.

Manual of Louisville also presented a pole-vaulting demonstration as an added attraction. John Hopp went over the bar at 11 feet, 11 1/2 inches before he quit.

The First annual Spiked Shoe Track Relays, sponsored by the University's track team, was held Monday night on Stoll Field before an estimated crowd of 2,000. Winner in the high school competition was Manual High of Louisville, which won four of the six events entered. UPPER LEFT are shown the six sprinters that raced in the 100-yard dash. They are, left to right, John Cobb, Dopey Phelps, Harrison Dillard, Johnny Mehaus and Ralph Genito. UPPER RIGHT shows the fraternity relay which was won by the Delta Tau Delta team in the time of 1:29.2 for the 800-yard event. LOWER LEFT is University High's Dwight Price as he crosses the finish line some 300 yards ahead of his closest competitor in the two and one-half mile run. Price, running the final mile for the winning U-High squad in 4:40, is rated as the best high school miler in the State. U-High's time for this was 11:27.5. CENTER, is the ex-Baldwin-Wallace College and Olympic standout, Harrison Dillard. LOWER RIGHT shows John Richter, president of the Spiked Shoe Society, presenting the winning trophy to Bill Price, of the KD society, after the trackmen representing the Kappa Deltas won in the 800-yard severity relay. Shown in the picture are Johnny Mehaus, left, one of the runners for the KD's; Miss Price; an unidentified trackman; Richter; and Ears Young.

Tennessee Foe Of UK Cindermen Here Saturday

Victory No. 3 of an undefeated season will be the goal of the UK track team when they meet their arch rivals, the University of Tennessee, at Stoll Field Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

The UK Wildcats now have two victories over the University of Cincinnati and Vanderbilt to add to last season's undefeated record.

The only marning of the 1948 season was a tie with Tennessee, the Wildcat for Saturday night.

Tennessee is reported to have its usual strong team and this meet will be the highlight of the Wildcats' season. The Kentucky Freshmen will meet M.M.I. the same night here.

Kentucky is expected to show most of its strength in the hurdle events

Track Star Harrison Dillard Won 82 Straight Events At B-W

By Earl Conn

Harrison Dillard, Olympic star from Baldwin-Wallace, said he got his "biggest kick" out of winning the 100 meters run at the Olympic games last summer. Dillard appeared at the University of Kentucky Monday night in exhibition runs in the 100-yard high hurdles, at the first annual Spiked Shoe Relays.

"Harvey Ewell was the toughest runner I have ever faced while Bill Porter from Northwestern was the toughest hurler I've met yet," Dillard said.

Dillard, who will be 26 on July 8, said he is leaving for California to appear in several matches, this month at Fresno, Los Angeles, and Modesto. He returned from South America a few weeks ago. He said he will also travel to Europe tentatively in the near future.

"I'll try to be in the 1952 Olympics in Finland if I am still in physical shape," Dillard added. He said that he doubted if he would try any professional hurdling for the only pro field is in Australia and "that's a long way from home."

Dillard, who received his BS from Baldwin-Wallace in December in business education said he would like to go into the men's clothing business after his track career is ended.

Dillard, who won 82 straight events before being defeated to set a new world's record, added that "I really went hot then as I dropped three in a row when I did get hot." The former record of 45 straight was held by Greg Rice of Notre Dame.

He said that Mel Patton of Southern California appeared to be off his form at the Olympic games and that Clyde Scott was a "great hurler although I never faced him in competition."

Dillard added that he regarded

Ray Mignerey has been the Wildcats' big man on the mound this year, with a 2-0 record. Last week he saved Roy Ford's win over Vanderbilt with 2 2/3 innings of hitless ball and the next day helped Willie Allen by ending the game with one pitch, quelling a three-run rally. He also subbed in centerfield in the first Tech series when John Crosswhite sprained his ankle. His booming triple tied the score late in the game. His wins this season have been one each over Georgia, Vandy and Tech.

Wildcats Meet Tech Here At 3 p. m. Today

By Kent Hollingsworth

Georgia Tech's Engineers tumble up from Atlanta today to demolish Kentucky's conference-leading 7-1 record. Coach Moseley's Wildcats meet the Tech nine at 3 o'clock this afternoon on Stoll Field in the first of a two game series.

This will be the Wildcats first game this year with Frank Moseley at the helm, as the backfield coach has been busy with the football team which concluded spring practice last week.

The Cats lacked Tech twice in the first two games of the season, but the Yellow Jackets have improved greatly since then and the Kentucky Stars might not be so prolific in their hitting. The Cats batted out 26 hits in the last two games against the Engineers.

Mignerey To Start

Ray Mignerey will start on the mound for Kentucky this afternoon, going after his fourth straight win without a defeat. Sunset Thompson will probably oppose him. Sunset lost the last game he pitched against Kentucky when he uncorked a wild pitch in the 10th inning and alert Johnny Mayes scooted across the plate with the winning run.

Either Willie Allen or Roy Ford will throw the ball off the hill in Saturday's game, that will start at 3 o'clock. Buddy Thompson, no relation to Sunset, will hurl for Coach

Tickets For Ball Game

Both even and odd student activity books will be good for admittance to the Kentucky-Georgia Tech baseball games here today and tomorrow.

The general admission price for adults will be 50 cents, with high school and grade school students to be admitted for 25 cents.

Today's game will start at 3 p. m., while Saturday the tilt will begin at 2 o'clock.

Pittsford's boys in the second game. Buddy Thompson struck out 15 Wildcats but allowed 12 hits in bowing to the Kentuckians in the season opener.

Tech was seriously hampered without the services of their slugging first baseman, Ted Shuebing, of Louisville, who was in the infirmary during the first series. Football practice also kept three other regulars out of the lineup. However the Yellow Jackets fly north at full

Lack of time and the large number of team competing have forced the cancellation of further softball roundrobin play and the initiation of two single elimination tournaments.

Bill McCubbin, IM Director, hoped to have the pairings in the two tournaments posted yesterday in time for competition to begin this afternoon.

All 27 teams will be given berths, with 14 going to one tourney and 13 to the other. The winners of each tourney will play for the University championship.

Four games are to be played a day, two at U-High and two at Alumni Gym. Starting times are 3:30 and 4:50 p. m.

Friday, May 13 is listed as the deadline for entrants in the singles his first consolation flight match before losing.

The Wildcats' team total of 310 in medal play earned them seventh place in team standings. Miami's 297 strokes was best in the team department. Top SEC foursome was Georgia Tech with 302; Western Kentucky tied for twelfth with 321.

Wofford College's P. J. Boatright was the tourney medalist with a brilliant 69 over the 6,554-yard course. Hal Spears of Georgia was the SEC medalist with 71—By Dudley Saunders.

DisKintucky Sports Review

— By Tom Diskin, Sports Editor —

Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant indicated Tuesday that he was well pleased with the recent spring football season of the Kentucky squad, which was concluded Friday night with the Blue-White intrasquad tilt on Stoll Field. He stated that "quite a few" players showed up well this spring, and named three gridirers in particular—Pat James, Nick Odilvak, and Bill Wannamaker—as showing noticeable improvement.

When asked about Odilvak and Wannamaker, both being listed at left end, the Bear said that both would remain at that position as it would require a change of size of play to move one over to the weaker right end.

Coach Bryant reported that the right terminal was still pretty undecided but "wouldn't be surprised" if Al Bruno got the starting assignment next fall although he must prove he is better than such other candidates as Don Frampton, Jerry Clairborne, Charlie Bradshaw, Charlie Beutler and the up-coming sophomore ends.

When asked about the scheduling of SMU, Coach Bryant said that he had had talk with Matty Bell, the Mustang's mentor, about a game after the NCAA meeting in California last winter. At that time, both teams had their 1949 schedules just about filled. But later, unforeseen circumstances arose which made it necessary for the Wildcats to drop Arkansas off their card for this fall.

Bryant, who was in Arkansas at the time, immediately began to scout around for another team and remembered his talk with Coach Bell a few weeks previous. He telephoned to Dallas and within the hour UK was placed on the SMU card for this fall, replacing another team that was unable to make arrangements with the Dallas school for this coming season.

Next on Bryant's busy schedule is a series of appearances in Arkansas, Tennessee and points south, Jonesboro, Ark. is one of his first stops. Later he is to move to Nashville, Tenn. for a talk at Vanderbilt University.

Meanwhile Coach Rupp is continuing to make the railroad happy with his extensive travels. This past week the Bear made in various cities in Tennessee. He is expected back in Lexington for the weekend.

Babe Kimbrough, sports editor of the Herald, estimated the turnout at the Blue-White grid game Friday night as 8500, while Laurence Shropshire of the Leader suggested it at 8000. We were somewhat surprised to see such a crowd turn out for the intrasquad game. It shows that interest in the Kentucky football team is quite high in this area. Many of the large universities in the nation don't attract a gathering like that for the annual intrasquad game even letting the spectators in free.

It wasn't too long ago that a

Ruth Boyden Heads Research Society

Miss Ruth Boyden, research assistant in home economics, was elected president of the UK chapter of Sigma Xi, national scientific research society, at a meeting Friday night.

Other officers elected were: Dr. Lyle R. Dawson, professor of chemistry, vice president; Dr. Vincent E. Nelson, associate professor of geology, treasurer; and Dr. Lee H. Townsend, professor of agricultural entomology, was re-elected secretary.

Dr. Charles Barkenbus, professor of organic chemistry, and Dr. J. K. Keel, assistant professor of geology, were elected to the executive committee.

Art Gallery Displays Work By Rannellses

A mother-daughter art exhibit is now being shown at the University Art Gallery in the Funkhouser Biological Sciences building. The paintings are the work of Mrs. Rannells, wife of Prof. Edward W. Rannells, head of the department of art, and the drawings were done by Martha Rannells, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Rannells. Miss Rannells is a student at University High School. The exhibit will close May 15.

Kentucky's COACH PAUL (BEAR) BRYANT, above right, has with Matty Bell, former coach of the SMU Mustangs, the Wildcats' football team. Bell was here in Lexington last Friday and Saturday as one of the lecturers in the annual UK grid clinic. Kentucky plays the powerful SMU Mustangs in Dallas on October 31.

Whites Beat Blue Team, 21-20, As Gain Kicks Decisive Points

By Bob Gorham

In a tooth-and-nail battle on Stoll Field last Friday night, the Whites edged out the Blues, 21-20, in the annual intra-squad game that climaxes spring football practice for Kentucky's Wildcats.

It was the talented toe of Big Bob Gain that provided the winning margin for the whites. Each team scored three touchdowns and each time Gain split the uprights for the extra point. Clarence Payne, looking for the team captain by the blocked extra point.

The approximately 8,500 Wildcat fans present saw some sparkling passing and field generalship on the part of Babe Parilli, who is Coach Paul Bryant's choice to replace George Blanda in the quarterback slot.

Coach Danny Dickerson claims that "people look at our tennis schedule to find out when it's going to rain."

Scheduled matches with Georgia Tech and Tennessee, last Friday and Saturday, respectively, ran true-to-form and were rained out.

Inclement weather has held the court crew to just two matches this spring, both of which resulted in Wildcat defeats.

The remainder of the tennis schedule: May 7 Xavier Here May 12 Xavier There May 14 Cincinnati There May 21 TPI Here accomplishments of the spring training grid, said he expects to field a team deeper in reserve strength than ever before. He said that the Wildcats will probably have a spectacular-type team, and that they will play a wide-open brand of ball with lots of passing.

"We definitely plan to play a wide-open game," Bryant said, "and we have some colorful boys who are capable of putting on a football show."

"We may not win a lot of games, but we'll look good even in those we lose."
