

MINUTES OF THE UNIVERSITY SENATE - MAY 11, 1936

The University Seante met in the Lecture Room of McVey Hall Monday, May 11, with President McVey presiding.

The minutes of April 6 were approved as read.

The Committee on Duplication of Work presented the following new courses and changes in courses which were approved:

College of Arts and Sciences

New Courses

Sociology 20a,b. - Tutorial Work for Sociology Majors. One credit per semester.

Art 42. - Painting and Sculpture in the United States. One semester. One lecture and weekly problems. One credit. To be presented in a series of illustrated lectures. It is planned to schedule this class for late afternoon or evening hours and alternate it with Art 41, Architecture in the United States, also a one credit course; already authorized.

Journalism 90a, b. - Tutorial Seminar (Seniors only) One credit per semester.

Anthropology and Archaeology 110a,b,c. - Field Work in Archaeology. Three credits each. This course is designed for students specializing in archaeology and wishing to obtain a knowledge of the laboratory practice conducted in the field. It would probably be given only in the summer to a very limited number of students. It may be that a student would wish to accompany field parties for more than one summer. For that reason we have used the subscripts a, b, and c.

Romance Languages 201a,b - Literature of the French Reanissance. A course starting with Francois Villon and including such writers as: *Marot, Rabelais, Calvin, Montaigne, Ronsard, DuBellay, Belleau and Regnier. To be given in French. Three hours a week. Three credits each semester.

Romance Languages 80a,b. - Tutorial Seminar. To prepare seniors for the Comprehensive examination. Required of all majors in Romance Languages during the senior year. One hour a week. One credit per semester.

Romance Languages 15a,b. - Intermediate Italian. Prerequisites: Rom. Lang. 4a,b. Three credits each semester.

History 194 - The United States in the Pacific and the Far East Since 1898. This course studies policies which resulted in annexation of Hawaii and the Philippines, the announcement of the so-called "open door" policies and the integrity of China, with their historical development. It concludes the Stimson doctrine of non-recognition. Three credits.

Minutes of the University Senate - Continued, May 11, 1936

History 138 - British Social History During the Tudor Period 1485-1693.

A study of British life, manners, and customs in town and country. Particular emphasis will be placed upon the age of Elizabeth, with political events subordinated to social changes. Lectures, discussions, and reports. Two hours a week, two credits.

(It is intended to offer these courses for the first time in the summer session of 1936).

History 142. Advanced History of Kentucky. The development of Kentucky as a western commonwealth. Emphasis on the economic and political phases from the 18th century to the present time. Carefully planned reading is expected, with writing of papers based upon some research among documents. Two credits.

History 180. - History of the New South. The evolution of southern life and society, agrarian politics, relationships with other sections, industrial growth and new leadership. Three hours per week. Three credits. Prerequisite: History 5b or History 10b or equivalents.

History 290 - History of Japan. A critical survey of Japanese history from the earliest times to the present day with emphasis on the modern period. Prerequisite: History 190a or 190b or 194. Three credits.

History 171 - The Eighteenth Century in Europe. A study of the benevolent despots, their times and circumstances, their significance in modern Europe. Prerequisite: History 4a or its equivalent. Two hours a week; two credits.

Art 60a,b - Seminar in Art. Open to major students only. One credit a semester.

Sociology 123 - Social Treatment of Delinquency. An examination of possible and actual methods of dealing with the delinquent, including institutional care, juvenile court, probation, parole, etc. Three credits.

Sociology 124 - Methods of Social Investigation - A study of the several methods of investigation and research employed in the fields of sociology and social work. Three credits.

Sociology 125 - Collective Behavior. A sociological interpretation of group life and of certain aspects of social life, including the building up or shaping of public opinion or social control. Three credits.

Sociology 126 - Social Legislation. A study of the essential content of the law dealing with social welfare matters, together with the general principles involved in its enactment. Three credits.

Changes in Courses

Art 30a-b - Introduction to Art. (To replace Art 2a-b, Art Structure, which has been reserved for students in Home Economics and conducted as a studio course supplemented by lectures). A new course will be a lecture course supplemented by notebook and library work, thus enabling us to serve a larger number of students with the same facilities we have now. Two credits per semester (Open to freshmen).
