CLASS REUNIONS

The officers of the Alumni Association last fall announced that a system of class reunions had been adopted and that during Commencement this year certain of the classes of the University would hold reunions.

This week local committees from the different classes are being formed and these committees will arrange a program of events for the homecoming.

This is the first ambitious program of reunions that has been attempted by the Alumni Association of the University of Kentucky and much remains to be done as yet.

The officers also wish to explain that while certain of the classes are returning to anniversary reunions, every alumnus is urged and expected for the annual homecoming.

If you are a member of one of the above classes write to your intimates among your classmates and urge them to meet you on the campus during Commencement.

K. E. A. ANNOUNCEMENT

The annual University of Kentucky banquet will be held during the meeting of the K. E. A. this month in Lexington. The committee has announced that it will be Thursday evening, April 18, at the Kentucky hotel.

ASHLAND ALUMNI ESTABLISH CLUB

Large Attendance at First Formal Meeting of Kentucky Group; J. Sneed Yeager Heads Group.

Another active alumni club has been added to the list. Alumni living in Ashland, Ky., and vicinity have reorganized the club there and already have begun a program of activities.

The first meeting of the newly organized Ashland Alumni Club was held at the Ventura hotel in that city on the evening of Friday, March 22. It was in the form of a banquet and more than 30 graduates and former students were present.

Dr. G. Davis Buckner, president of the Alumni Association, was the principal speaker and officers for the club were elected. The officers for the newly reorganized Ashland club are as follows, J. Sneed Yeager, president; Harry B. Dixon, vice president; Mrs. E. G. Leachman, secretary, and W. P. Eaton, treasurer.

After the dinner, Dr. Buckner talked to the club and outlined some of the immediate aims of the Alumni Association and told what the alumni as an organization are trying to do for the University of Kentucky.

His talk was interesting and was thoroughly enjoyed by all the members of the Ashland club. A meeting of the new officers of the alumni club will be held in the near future and a program of meetings will be arranged.

There are approximately 100 graduates and former students living in and near Ashland and all of them are interested in the reorganization of the Ashland Alumni Club. The officers of the club plan to make an effort to get all graduates and former students active in the club.

Ashland is ideally located for the first large and active alumni organization in that section of Kentucky. The officers of the Alumni Association plan to make it a key organization in their efforts to organize all the alumni of Kentucky into clubs. A large number of the Ashland alumni have been away from the University but a few years ago and they combine the enthusiasm of loyal Kentuckians with their close association with the University and its affairs. The Ashland club promises to be one of the most active and largest of the several alumni clubs.

WHICH

By John Richard Moreland
If I could make you
Sings of love
And cry them in the street
Would you buy one, O passerby,
And find it sweet?

If I could make you
Sings of grief
And sell them in the mart
Would you pause long enough to hear
An echo in your heart?

Or will you let me

Cry my wares,
And in the teasing throng
Be blind to all loves little boys?
Be deaf of sorrows song?

DREAMS THAT COME TRUE
I am sitting alone in my room tonight
Dreaming and smoking my old cob pipe
I smoke and dream, and dream until I get a plot, and get a thrill
I am in the writing kane, you see:
And the pipe-dreams usually bring to me Scenes of carnage where the red blood ran.
And the dreams all come from a bright Blue can.
It's just a can of Edgeworth-out—
Fragrant as doves—sweet as a nut;
Of all Fate's kindly gifts to man
Is this gift of dreams from the bright Blue can.
I sit me down at eve, to smoke;
And soon am wrapped in a magic cloak;
It has banished trouble, it has banished pain,
And the sad old world is young again.

BLUE RIDGE

Within a few weeks, students of the University will turn to thoughts of a summer vacation.

It is located in the heart of the rugged mountains of North Carolina. It stands at an elevation of twenty-seven hundred feet above sea level.

With all its charm and loveliness, Blue Ridge cannot be cataloged, for it is born of the clean, rare air of the hills, of the freedom of great mountains,

The Kernel feels that Blue Ridge will be a place of inspiration this summer. A splendid program has been arranged which will offer the student unusual opportunities for self expression in regard to the racial situation, industrial problems and international relations.

The Kernel is in full accord with the ends sought by the institute. Its service to University officials is high. The delegates who are here are to be praised, for they are taking part in the greatest work in the world.

THE REGISTRAR INSTITUTE

The seventh annual institute for registrars, which is being held at the University this week for the purpose of promoting efficiency in the registration departments of Southern universities, will close tomorrow.

College presidents, deans, registrars and graduate students come to the University each year to attend the meeting and discuss problems of administration and registration.

The Kernel is in full accord with the ends sought by the institute. Its service to University officials is high. The delegates who are here are to be praised, for they are taking part in the greatest work in the world.

gether. The Kernel hopes they have enjoyed their visit to the University and that they will look forward with pleasure to the convention next year. It is certain that the University will await the eighth annual institute with a greater degree of appreciation than has heretofore been expressed.

KENTUCKY ON THE AIR

The University of Kentucky now takes its place on the air. In addresses by those who are authorities on various subjects, the work of extension is carried forward. The extension work is as important as any to which the University devotes itself.

COLLEGE COMMENT

Last semester a lip reading class was started at the University of Nebraska for students who were hard of hearing or totally deaf. The course has proved so popular that students with perfect hearing are enrolling for the course.

Georgia Tech received $76,000 as her part in the Rose Bowl game at Pasadena New Year's Day. A good football team pays, and pays, and pays.

A group of non-fraternity men at Northwestern University have banded together for the purpose of weakening fraternity politics on their campus. It takes little to combat lie.

Johnny Brickles, varsity football man at Wittenberg College, recently declared there were 19 letters in the alphabet. Another prominent student and a lady faculty member of the college said the alphabet contained 24 letters. Now you guess.

Two active members comprise the new law sorority, Kappa Beta Pi, which was organized by the women law students at Iowa State recently. Rather exclusive, eh?

The co-eds at Waynesburg College have revolted, and this year's prom is to be held without men; half of the girls are to appear in male attire. It all happened because some of the boys at the college brought "outside" girls to college affairs.

It now seems the honor system is a failure in American colleges. The Yale student council has finally convinced the faculty that the honor system cannot be enforced under the social and educational conditions which now exist at that university.

William Oullen Bryant Kempf, perpetual student at Columbia University, is dead. Kempf, who was 72 years old when he died, was a freshman at Columbia University in New York City in 1868, three years after the close of the Civil War.

A senior at Auburn has invented and recently received a patent for an attachment for a portable phonograph which will enable it to be played in any position.

THE KENTUCKY KERNEL

Music, Stage and Screen

By Edwards M. Templin

Strollers. The most attractive dramatic presentation for this week is "Square Licks," a comedy mystery play by James F. Judge, which opened last night at the Cuyumi theater for a three-day run.

Strand, Today and Tomorrow. "Hit of the Show," drama that will live along with "Variety" and "He Who Gets Slapped," opened yesterday at Strand. There is a soul-stirring masterpiece that wipes away the make-up that hides the ugliness of the people who live the rest of us.

Letters to the Editor. Lexington, Ky., March 26, 1929. Dear Sir: As a Kentuckian, I read with considerable chagrin the news articles appearing in The Lexington Herald and the Louisville Courier-Journal regarding the organization of a Liberal Club at the University of Kentucky.

Strand Next Week. "The Awakening" will be offered at the Strand theater the first half of next week. "The Night of Love," "Magic Flame," and "Dark Angel," with her super-act, Ronald Coleman.

Ben All Today and Tomorrow. The thrill of the race track, with its colorful horse flesh, pouring the turf; a jockey riding for honor and love; a maiden praying for his success, are all carried into you in "Silks and Saddles" playing at the Ben All the last part of this week.

Attention, Sororities, Fraternities. I have for sale on East Maxwell street, an attractive two-story modern brick home. It has ten (10) rooms and two complete baths; extra large well lighted attic; hot water heating plant, large vegetable garden, garage. The saving of one's heat bill over a gas-heated house would be from $30 to $40 per month. Nice lot, attractive shrubbery.

CONQUERING THE CASCADES. SNOW falls every month in the year where the Great Northern crosses the Cascades. Steep, tortuous grades increase the difficulty of the railroading problem.

LITERARY SECTION. (MARGARET CUNDIFF, Editor) THE MORNING STAR. When the brilliant diamonds of the night Begin to fade into the mists of morn, One lone star so bright That it pierces through out the haze, Shines from out the sky Upon the slumbering world below. With gladness from on high Merrily it twinkles on Until the glory of the rising sun Chases all the shades away. It then departs from view— Its duty done.

PROF. J. B. KELLY INSPECTS FARMS

Engineering Section Head to Study Electrification of Rural Districts in Ohio by Survey.

Prof. J. B. Kelly, head of the farm engineering section of the University equipment station, is going to Ohio to study the electrification of farms near Maryville, Ohio. His trip came as a result of interest in the use of electricity shown by both farmers and utilities companies in Kentucky.

Thirteen farms are being served by a power line six miles long running out of Maryville. Nine other farms can be added without extending the line. The line cost $1,383 a mile, including transformers paid for by the power company.

The total cost of installing electricity on the farms, which means wiring the house and other buildings, ranged from $246 to $409 per farm, paid by the farm owners.

The farms, which are devoted to livestock raising and dairying, range from 100 acres to 197 acres. Electricity is used to light the houses, barns, farm buildings, and yards. It is also used to operate household equipment, and to run motors to drive milking machines, grinders.

Comparatively few original ideas are ever invented by the student body of this institution. Instead of exerting initiative and originality by "starting" things we are content to passively await the time when we can endorse and approve the ideas that have been promulgated and developed on other campuses. However, the modern epoch of radio and television enables us to acquire first-hand information of the events of the entire college world. Because of this revision of communication it took Kentucky only about a quarter of a century to learn that in almost all large colleges and universities there is an annual event which functions under the name of the "Junior Prom."

The following is an excerpt from the will of a rich jeweler which has recently been probated in New York state: The first Junior Prom of the University will be initiated

3. To my valet, I leave the clothes that he has been stealing from me regularly for the past ten years. Also my fur coat that he wore last winter while I was in Palm Beach.

4. To my chauffeur, I leave my cars. He almost ruined them while I was living and I want him to have the satisfaction of finishing the job.

5. To my partner, I leave the suggestion that he take some other clever man in with him at once if he expects to do any business.

The bell rang. Slowly he rose to his feet and shook his clinched fist at the smiling blue sky. The sun shone brightly and the birds sang blithely. For all the rest of the world there was laughter, happiness and pleasure, but not for him. The world lay as a broken toy at his feet. His thoughts were heavy laden. All was dismal. There was no justice. For the first time this semester he had come to class prepared and the professor had "out."

Y' CONFERENCE WILL BE HELD AT BLUE RIDGE, N. C.

University Delegates From Ten Southern States to Attend Meet

CAMP IS LOCATED IN MOUNTAINOUS REGION

Students Will Get Acquainted With Some of World's Greatest Thinkers

The Southern Students Conference of the Y. M. C. A. will be held at Blue Ridge, North Carolina, from June 14 to 24, with the Blue Ridge Association as hosts, according to a recent announcement from the local Y. M. C. A. officers. To this conference will come representatives of every type of college in the Region, including State colleges, technical schools, medical, dental, law, theological, and other professional and denominational schools.

Until 1911 the conferences were held in a number of places in or near the mountains of North Carolina and Tennessee. In 1912 the Blue Ridge Association opened its doors and was dedicated to its career of service to the South, by the conferences of the college Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. Since that year this spot has become a sort of shrine for the students of the South.

If present interest is an indication of the number of delegates who will be at Blue Ridge this summer, it is fair to predict that at least 100 schools and colleges will be represented. Several colleges from different states report that they will have unusually large delegations.

The conference is a definite part of the year's program of every local student Y. M. C. A. There the administration of the retiring student officers closes with an account of its achievements. Then also the new administration of the elected officers begins with the training of the new student leaders and the laying of definite plans for the coming year.

PROFESSOR WEBB TO LECTURE

The monthly meeting of the Pre-Medical Society will be held in the Science building Thursday night, April 11, at 7:30 o'clock. Professor Webb, head of the department of physics, will speak on Kentucky Archeology.

Three Ballot Boxes Will Be Open on Campus From 9 to 4 o'clock

The University Y. W. C. A. will hold its annual election Wednesday, April 10. Three boxes will be placed on the campus from 9 to 4 o'clock at McVey hall, the Administration building, and the Boyd hall office. The results, according to the usual custom, will be announced at the woman's annual banquet Thursday, April 11.

The nominating committee, which is composed of the members of the cabinet who are seniors, have presented the following nominees:

President: Alice Spaulding, Bernice Byland; secretary: Elizabeth Hensley, Christine Blakeman; treasurer: Elizabeth Cramer, Evelyn Cooley; finance chairman: Annette Newlin, Rosana Ruttenecruter, Eleanor Swearingen.

The new cabinet, together with this year's cabinet, will hold a camp training conference at Camp Daniel Boone, May 10, 11, and 12, with the installation of new officers the following week.

Mild, yes; but there's no Scotch in the flavor!

A well known golf pro recently returned from a vacation in Glasgow, his home town, relates a current golf magazine. "Well," he was asked, "how did the boys treat you back home?" "Verra reluctantly," said he. Well might some smokers likewise reply if asked about their cigarette, we imagine. Mild, of course (most cigarettes are, today), but "verra reluctantly" when it comes to delivering taste and body and character.

Chesterfields were blended to supply just that "body" which so many "mild" cigarettes lack. For in addition to that desirable blandness there is a distinct "edge" to its smooth, mellow flavor which is just what the smoke appetite craves.

Mild—yes; just that mildness which everyone wants—but something more, something plus—character: The character that makes Chesterfields par for cigarettes. They satisfy!

HAS GAMAGE FOUND A FULLBACK?
 Coach Harry Gamage is looking for a fullback. In the past, Coach Murphy had Frank Smith, John Ross, Ab Kirwan, and Frank Phipps. Coach Winn had Curtis Sanders and Birkett Pribble. Last season Gamage made a light lineman, Ollie Johnson, into a fullback, marking time until a new candidate appeared to join the list of immortals mentioned. Now three candidates have appeared from different sources but Mr. Gamage's search is only half ended. Which of the three is HIS fullback. Jack Phipps heads the list. He appeared on Coach Pribble's freshman team last season. Backing up the line on one team Jack faces his older brother, Tom, in the same position on another team and thus the brothers are fighting it out, possibly in the same vehement manner they fought for the most cover on cold winter nights in childhood. Then, they are mutual rivals of an old nemesis, Otto McElroy, the third candidate, and his Morganfield Guerrillas battled the Phipps and their Tomcats to a 9 to 0 tie in high school in a game which was to decide the scholastic championship of Kentucky. Now the "triumvirate" or the "eternal triangle" in football remains intact. One of these three boys will be the "end of the rainbow" for Coach Gamage next fall when he finishes his search for a fullback.

THE FOOTBALL SITUATION
 Will Ed Covington is playing third base on the baseball team and leaving his moleskins to the care of the "lesser lights." With the departure of the illustrious captain from the football fold, I do not hesitate to name Warner Ford as one outstanding ball carrier during the spring football practice. Handicapped during the last two years with an injured knee which still bothers him, Ford has still turned in two remarkable performances. When the Wildcats upset V. M. I. in 1927 it was Ford who made most of the long runs which contributed to a 25 to 0 victory. In 1928 against Carson-Newman, he made one of the longest scoring runs of the season, running 85 yards to a touchdown. If Warner could develop an ability to tackle, part of Coach Gamage's backfield problem would be solved. Cecil Urbanak, a Pribbleite, bears a remarkable resemblance to Ford in many respects. Both boys run hard, weigh the same and are the same height. Shipwreck Kelly and Dragstore Hahn, Bo Meyer and Carey Spicer comprise two more fine sets of halfbacks. Behind an experienced line any of these backs will be hard to handle. The football squad is the largest in Wildcat history. Give Coach Gamage the same number of players next September 1 with an eligibility stamp on them and the Southern Conference may be electrified by another great team.

A TURN AT BASEBALL

Coach Pat Devereaux's greatest perplexity appears to center about his pitching staff. By various means the entire staff which rallied around Coach Major last season has divided down to nothing. Charley Wert and Lefty McGary were graduated. Raymond Rhoads was killed in an accident last summer. Now Coach Pat has been forced to look over his squad and find the men with the strong arms and see if he can make pitchers out of them. Two of the best prospects obtained in this manner were Will Covington and Paul McBrayer. One or two players from the fresh team of last season have reported for the pitching job.

'Y' WILL SEND MEN TO BLUE RIDGE CONFERENCE IN JUNE

What significance has Blue Ridge to students? Why should all students try to go to Blue Ridge at least one summer during their stay in college? Where is Blue Ridge located? What are the expenses? And how long does one get to stay there? These are some of the questions students ask concerning one of the most inspiring and greatest "get together" points in the south for college students. At Blue Ridge one gets the associations with college men from all Southern colleges. There they get a broad viewpoint of life not to be had elsewhere. University of Kentucky students should attend because Kentucky is rated as one of the greatest Southern colleges, and at Blue Ridge that rating is either strengthened or weakened by Kentucky's attendance. Blue Ridge is located on the Blue Ridge mountains of North Carolina, 16 miles from Asheville. In that cool and inviting atmosphere, a great gathering is to be held on June 15-25 for the purpose of studying some of the problems of the college campus activities. Those students who go from the University will have the privilege of staying in the "Kentucky Cabin." All students who are interested in Blue Ridge should call at the "Y" office and talk it over.

FESTIVAL TO BE HELD HERE SOON

Fourth Annual High School Music Tournament to Convene at University Next Week.

Friday and Saturday, April 12 and 13, have been set aside for the fourth annual Kentucky high school music festival at the University. Louis Clifton, of the extension department, is in charge of the festival.

District tournaments will be held throughout the state and each finalist in the respective regions will compete in the festival which will be held here. Music departments of all high schools and junior colleges are eligible to send delegations to the meeting.

Three bronze plaques will be presented to the winners in the band and orchestra contests. The trophies are given by the music supervisors national conference and the National Bureau for the Advancement of Music.

The orchestra and band concerts will take place Saturday. Saturday morning has been set aside for the orchestra contests. At 12:30 all of the bands, including the University band, will march down Rose street to Main, from Rose to Lime, and out Lime back to the University gymnasium.

After returning to the gymnasium the mass band will play the Poet and Peasant overtures and On On U. of K. The regular band contests will immediately ensue. Judges for the music contests will be J. Henry Francis, supervisor of music at Charleston, W. Va.; Mark Hindsley, director of Indiana University band, and Elmer G. Sulzer, of the University.

UNIVERSITY EMPLOYS TWO ASSISTANT INSTRUCTORS

Two men have been offered positions as assistant instructors of public school service at the University and will come here next semester to assume their duties. It was announced by authorities Saturday. The new professors are Maurice F. Seay, principal of Danville high school, and Paul D. Gard, teacher in the Louisville high school. While working here the two men will take courses toward their Ph. D. degrees. Professor Seay is a graduate of Pennsylvania College.

"A year or so ago, the makers of OLD GOLD ran some ads on the disturbing effect of coughing in theatres. As an actor, I was grateful for those ads. I am more grateful now that OLD GOLD has invited stage folk to help them bring 'first aid' information to our unhappy friends the 'theatre-coughers.'

"My own advice is that prevention is the best aid. The kind of prevention that smoking OLD GOLDS gives. Harsh tobacco irritates the throat, and that causes coughing. Changing to OLD GOLDS soothes the throat and removes the cause of the 'cough tickle.'"

The score was tied during the greater part of the first half but in the second quarter a pretty field goal by Williams and free throws by Wilson and Day put the Alpha Sigs into a four point lead...

In his freshman year he played guard on the football team, guard on the basketball team, and third base on the baseball team. In his sophomore year at Kentucky, he performed as an end on the grid team, forward on the basketball squad, and as a shortstop on Coach Devereaux's nine.

Gilb was shifted to the fullback post by Coach Gamage the following year. He was used as general utility man on the hardwood outfit and with the appearance of another spring became guardian of the key-stone sack for Coach Major and was the pivot man of the fast double-play combination of Jeffries to Gilb to Cole.

It was a lucky day for old Kentucky last fall when the best ancient rival, Washington and Lee, by a score of 6 to 0, but it was a lucky day for Elmer Gilb, then the star quarterback on the victorious team. He had been playing the grand old game of football for six years and had never before made a touchdown.

Back in 1926 in the Centre game of that year, Gilb had been prevented from making his first score by a matter of inches. If his attempt had been successful it would have been the tying or possibly the winning score. But Fate was still unkind to the doughty warrior. It happened this way:

Jenkins, famous for his forward passes, had dropped back to throw the pigskin to either of the two ends, Schulte or Gilb, with only a few minutes remaining in which to play. As soon as Jim Pence had spiraled the oval back to Jenkins...

Gilb has given us a great lesson in perseverance, playing three years in high school, three years in college, and a part of the fourth before finally making a touchdown. But, what a touchdown it was!

MANY PROBLEMS TO BE STRESSED AT BLUE RIDGE

Students Are Concerned With Relation Between Jesus and Real Things

DAILY PROGRAM HAS VARIETY OF EVENTS Discussions to Involve Racial, Industrial, International Relations Problems

It was the opinion of the group, which met at Knoxville, Tenn., in December to plan the Y. M. C. A. Blue Ridge conference for June 5-14, that the two main things that the students on the whole are concerned about are "understanding ourselves" and an understanding of Jesus in relation to real things in life.

The committee had letters from a number of associations and these two things were mentioned over and along with suggestions that we need more help on the racial situation, industrial problems and international relations.

We saw the approaches of all these evening meetings hanging around two main points: Ways in which the fullest and finest growth of persons is being thwarted and ways in which this growth could be made possible. With this foundation, we feel that there can be a very conscious and real holding together of the entire program.

The daily program may look like this:

7:30 a. m.—Breakfast. 8:30 a. m.—Worship. 9:00 a. m.—Platform hour. Development of personality of Jesus. 9:30 a. m.—Platform hour. First four days on understanding ourselves, followed by interest groups on men and women, personality development, faith, religious perplexities or the integration of self in relation to God.

11:45 a. m.—Workshop hour. 12:45 p. m.—Lunch. Afternoon free for rest, recreation, interviews, etc. 5:00 p. m.—Appreciation hour, or studio hour, optional. 6:45 or 7:00 p. m.—Step singing, pageants, etc.

7:30 p. m.—Evening platform hour. First evening, orientation on "Why We Are Here," and a general outline of the program. Second evening, introduction of the series on Jesus. Third through sixth evenings, series of studies on resources for growth and development, such as books, hobbies, use of leisure time, etc. and on Sunday the morning sermon to be on the place of God in life, with relation to the growth of individual personality and in larger and richer social relationships.

Seventh evening, race and industry. Eighth evening, international relations. Ninth evening, closing ceremonial.

We saw the approaches of all these evening meetings hanging around two main points: Ways in which the fullest and finest growth of persons is being thwarted and ways in which this growth could be made possible. With this foundation, we feel that there can be a very conscious and real holding together of the entire program.

Intra-mural Free Throw Tournament Opens Wednesday

Artists who perform behind the little mark called the free throw line will be given an opportunity to demonstrate their prowess in the annual intra-mural "free throw" tournament which will begin next Wednesday, April 10, according to announcement by M. E. Potter, director of intra-mural sports.

All entry lists for the tournament must be handed to Coach Potter by Tuesday, April 9. Each team will be composed of eight men who will take 50 throws each. The average of the highest six men will be taken to determine the winning team. Cups will be presented to the winning team and to the individual high scorer.

Intra-mural tennis will begin within the next two weeks, Coach Potter said. Fraternities are requested to begin lining up their tennis material.

Poor Girls Are Given Party at Blue Ridge Meet

At the Blue Ridge Conference last June the Kentucky and North Carolina delegates to the Boys' Conference, in accord with the usual hospitality of these states, gave a party in honor of the P. W. G.'s (poor working girls). The Kentucky cottage was selected as the basis for the frivolity and fun. A similar party will be a feature of this year's conference.

The cottage was gorgeously decorated in the colors of Kentucky, Berea, Duke, U. N. C., N. C. State, and a few others. Pennants from all the different schools were attractively placed on the walls of the cottage. The P. W. G.'s, with their escorts were made to feel as much at home as possible amid the overhanging decorations and chaperones.

Soon after the guests had arrived the fun of the evening began, headed up by Liston Pope of Duke, and Phil Aswerus of Kentucky. Weird singing was one of the features. From one section of the cottage came the enchanting words of Ravana.

When they died down, their echo began to come forth, much to everyone's surprise. Mr. Hill, of Alabama, and Mr. Wulfec, treasurer of the conference, were the perpetrators of this weird act, answering each other's words from a distance, resembling an echo.

Boys and Girls Work at Camp During Summer

At Blue Ridge each summer a certain number of girls and boys are employed to work in the dining hall, offices, and cottages. These girls and boys are a select group, representing the best to be found in the colleges of the South, and it is nothing unusual to find a girl or boy wearing a Phi Beta Kappa or Phi Kappa Phi key working in the dining hall or sweeping up the rooms.

The Southern Y. M. C. A. college students have first choice of positions for work at Blue Ridge during the summer, and after as many of them as desire to accept work, then the remaining positions are allotted among the other Southern colleges. Kentucky has had several men to attend the Blue Ridge Conference and work at P. W. B.'s.

The P. W. G.'s (poor working girls), and P. W. B.'s (poor working boys), are organized and have their regular initiation each year to take in new members. Those who go to Blue Ridge and who do not belong to the organization see that they are missing something worthwhile even though circumstances prevent them from being members.

There are many different tasks performed by the P. W. G.'s and P. W. B.'s at Blue Ridge. Besides working in the dining hall, kitchen, and cottages, some as lobby boys in the main building known as Robert E. Lee Hall, others as gatekeepers at the entrance to the grounds, others as life-guards at the lake, and some in the laundry. It is to be remembered that while all this is going on the P. W. G.'s and P. W. B.'s are going to school, which, of course, is their main reason.

GUIGNOL WILL PRESENT FIFTH PLAY, APRIL 29

"The Flight of the Duchess" Is Translated From the Italian

AN ELABORATE STAGE SET WILL BE BUILT

Frank C. Fowler Will Direct Production; Large Cast Is Announced

By Melvina Pumphrey

For the fifth production of the year the Guignol theater players will offer the dramatization of Robert Browning's poem, "The Flight of the Duchess." It will open April 29 for a week's run. The play which was adapted from the famous poem by Ludovico Camelli, has been translated from the Italian by Prof. W. F. Galloway of the English department, especially for the use of the Guignol. It consists of a prologue and three acts and includes a large cast.

The main stage set represents the great hall of Castle Lavenburg in Germany with minor alterations introduced during the action, which together with the costumes, will give a picturesque atmosphere new to the Guignol offerings.

Director Frank C. Fowler, who has already firmly established his reputation on the campus through his competent handling of the theater's previous productions, will undoubtedly add a new star to his crown with the presentation of this difficult drama.

The cast for the play is announced as follows: The Archbishop, S. K. Workman, instructor in the English department; the roles of Conrad and Mateo will be taken by Melvin Nollau, senior engineer, and Simontia, Carolyn Speyer, of Lexington, known for her performance in "The Cassilis Engagement"; Angeline Jeannette Kimberlin, arts and sciences, who gave such a notable characterization in Gioconda; Maire Robert, John Roodman, of the campus Y. W. C. A., who has creditably appeared in Guignol productions in the past; Leonardo Wood, Freshman from Mott, N. D.; Ransom, William Durbeck, Pi Kappa Alpha; Rozanna, Katherine Davis, of Lexington, an Alpha Xi; Esther, Helen Moore, arts and sciences senior; Lucia, Louis Dudley, arts and sciences senior; Claire, Garnett Shouse, Tri Delta, arts and sciences sophomore; Duke of Berg, William Pearce; Duke of Gelderland, J. C. Lamb, arts and sciences senior; Baron Hildesheim, either Ramey or Nollau; Baroness Ratzburg, Katherine Davis; Baron Kammier, William Durbeck, and Count Hoyr, Richard Carran, first year law student.

Dr. Reeves Delivers Concluding Lecture

Teacher Training Series Terminated With Educational Guidance Discussion

Dr. Reeves, professor of education at the University and head of the bureau of school service, delivered his sixth and concluding special lecture on "Diagnosis, Immediate Instructions and Educational Guidance," last night at 8:30 o'clock in McVey hall.

Dr. Reeves emphatically stressed that "Regardless of the care which the educational institution may take in its actions upon students, the fact still remains that students who obtain admission not because of proper preparatory work, not because they are intelligent, not because of intellectual traits, or other reasons, have great difficulty in their college work."

"Some of the most important reasons of their failure are: (A) Lack of intelligence; (B) character defects, including lack of determination and purpose; (C) temperament; (D) inferiority; (E) outside demands, including those of social, natural and wholly for monetary reward; (F) poor studying habits; (G) wrong high school preparation; (H) wrong ideas concerning college life.

"It has been demonstrated that reading habits constitutes many reasons why college students fail. Colleges and universities of the United States are working diligently upon the problem of salvaging the largest number of students from the disaster of scholastic failure."

PREMIERE OF "SQUARE CROOKS" IS BIG SUCCESS

Conspicuous among the assets of the play are the stellar performances of Ruth Bonnin and Andrew Hoover as Kay and Eddie Ellison. Miss Bonnin, Alpha Sigma Delta, gives a vivid characterization of the vivacious and beautiful Kay. Her versatility is seen when she changes from being lovable and sympathetic toward Eddie to reembrace with him when he is elected president of "his" and his weakness for sleep.

Andrew Hoover, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, carries off the honors with Miss Bonnin. He proved his ability in "The Dagger," a Guignol production, and his excellent portrayal of Eddie stamps him for future success. His interpretation of the nonchalant Eddie is a treat for any lover of good drama.

Verna Law typifies perfectly the Irish landlady, and furnishes much of the humor of the play. Miss Law's appearance in Guignol productions have marked her as an outstanding actress, and as Bridget O'Rourke she gives another brilliant characterization.

Alice Spaulding, Zeta Tau Alpha, known for her charming interpretations in Romanay among Guignol plays, gives a finished performance as Jane Brown.

The role of Larry Scott is capably taken by Leonard Weakley, Delta Tau Delta. This young man has also been outstanding in former Stroller plays, having taken leading roles in "The Truth About Blyards" and "Duke."

Earl Cella, Kappa Sigma, looks and acts perfectly the role of Mike Ross, the hard-boiled gunman, who is at the root of the trouble in the comedy.

Ann Caywood Talbott, Chi Omega, gives a delightful interpretation of Sorrow, Mrs. O'Rourke's maid. Miss Talbott handles the comedy of the O'Rourke boarding house.

Waller Jones, Phi Delta Theta, impersonates in a vivid manner the flagrant detective, Harry Welch. James Dorman, Kappa Sigma, is effective as John Clancy, his aide.

Carolyn Latta, Delta Delta Delta, gives a realistic portrayal of Mrs. Philip Carston, society leader and owner of the lost pearls. Dorothy Jones will take the part of Mrs. Phillis Carston at the Saturday presentation.

"Square Crooks" was well received in southeastern Kentucky where Strollers made a successful tour last week-end.

PSYCHOLOGISTS HOLD MEETING

Twenty-fourth Annual Meeting of Southern Society of Philosophy and Psychology Convenes at U. of K.

The twenty-fourth annual meeting of the Southern Society of Philosophy and Psychology, originally scheduled to be held at the University of Missouri, was held at the University Friday and Saturday, March 29 and 30, in the lecture room of McVey hall. About 150 scientists from every part of the South were present.

The program began Friday morning at 8:30 with an address of welcome by President Frank L. McVey, which was followed by various discussions of psychological problems. The rest of the program on Friday consisted of a reception at Maxwell Place in the afternoon, and a banquet at 6:30 in the evening in the gold room of the Lafayette. Other addresses were given and a council meeting was held. The program on Saturday included as a special feature a trip through points of interest in the Blue Grass.

The most talked-of speaker of the entire session was Dr. Max Meyer, who was recently ousted from the University of Missouri because of a controversy over a sex questionnaire. Dr. Meyer refused to discuss the situation and confined his talk to technical lines, but his standing among his colleagues was vindicated when he was elected president of the society at the business meeting Saturday morning.

Other speakers on the program included Dr. J. C. Barnes, Maryville College; Dr. Noel B. Cuff, Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College; Dean Hilda Threlkeld, Hamilton College; C. R. Griffith, University of Illinois; L. H. Lanier, Vanderbilt University; W. B. Smith, Tulane University; W. R. Wilson, Ohio State University; V. M. Sims, University of Alabama; Joseph Peterson, George Peabody College for Teachers, and others prominent in the field of psychological research.

REMOTE CONTROL RADIO STATION OPENED AT U.K.

The new means of communication are quite as necessary to a university as to a newspaper or a business organization of wide-ranging connections. What the University has to say on many subjects through the members of its faculty and staff should be interesting and valuable. Each day, five times a week, and once each week in the evening, programs of talk and music are to be given by the University to the radio audience over Station WHAS.

"The University is a great agency and should be used in these times. It has many means of finding out about things. The state supports it and as an agency of education it can give and should give to the people of Kentucky."

"What is the program to be? In general it projects itself into the years. When the matter of the program came up for discussion it was amazing how many things suggested themselves for consideration. A discussion of the state—its history, industry and institutions—is a topic that stimulates the imagination. Agriculture, like the brook, could go on forever; the problems of political science are many indeed and one of much interest to the citizens. Here again are brooks, plays, music, art and story. Then the work of the engineer and what he does all over the world and the doings on the campus of the University, in class room, library and on athletic fields might well be told over the radio. The problems of education are of interest to every boy and girl and to each parent. These questions extend from the nursery school to the graduate school and professional concern every one of us and they possess an interest that should make them fascinating.

"As president of the University, I invite all to cooperate in making this a great vital agency for good." At noon five days each week between 12:45 and 1 o'clock, programs will be broadcast from the extension station. Three of these days, Monday, Wednesday and Friday, will be used by the College of Agriculture; on Tuesdays the broadcast will be heard from on Thursdays. The program on Wednesday nights, between the hours of 10 and 11 o'clock, will be devoted to music by the University band, glee clubs and orchestra.

The heavy end of a match is the light one.
