SOMETIMES
Across the fields of yesterday
He sometimes comes to me,
A little late just back from play—
The last I used to be.

And yet he smiles so sweetly
Once he has crept within,
I wonder if he hopes to see
The man I might have been.

Here's why-Luckies do not dry out

why-Luckies are All-Ways kind to your throat

The difference between cigarettes is the difference between what goes into them and how they are put together.

Luckies use only the clean, center leaves, for these are the mildest leaves—they taste better. That's why farmers are paid higher prices for them. And Luckies get the benefit of the famous process—"It's toasted"—for your throat protection.

And every Lucky is round, firm and fully packed. That's why Luckies "keep in condition"—that's why you'll find that Luckies do not dry out—an important point to every smoker.

Yes, Luckies are always in all-ways kind to your throat.

Varsity Netmen Sink Cincy 5 to 4

Coch Downing's varsity tennis squad journeyed to Cincinnati Thursday afternoon and took their tennis match from the University of Cincinnati by a score of 5 to 4. It was the first win in tennis that a Kentucky team has been able to take from the Queen City school since the teams began playing in 1925.

Those making the trip were Coach Downing, Jenkins, Bishop, Yost, Tullock, Moore, Bush, Weed, Stahl, Randall and Manager Coese. They left Lexington Thursday morning and returned in the evening. Scores of the single matches follow: Fox defeated Jenkins, 6-2, 6-3; Uible defeated Bishop, 6-4, 6-1; Austin defeated Yost, 7-5, 6-4; Tullock defeated Buchholz, 9-7, 6-3; Moore defeated Baxter, 6-2, 6-2; Rush defeated Laidke, 6-4, 7-4.

In the doubles, Fox and Uible defeated Jenkins and Weed, 6-1, 6-2; Moore and Stahl defeated Austin and Saunders, 6-4, 6-3, and Yost and Tullock defeated Shapiro and Ratmer, 6-4, 7-5.

Two games and a tentative match are included on this week's program for the tennis squad. They meet Chattanooga on the home courts tomorrow at 2 p. m. and the University of Tennessee here at the same time Saturday. Final negotiations for the match with the University of Louisville, Thursday at Louisville, have not been completed.

Peter Pan Play Is Well Received

(Continued from Page One) Mr. Fowler, realizing the necessity of giving to the public a variety of types of entertainment, has employed successfully during the current season sophisticated comedy in "Mrs. Moonlight," period drama in "Oedipus Rex," mystery in "What the Gulls Knew," the eternal triangle in "The Animal Kingdom," and fantasy in "Peter Pan." The Guignol boasts a most successful record, and "Peter Pan" easily stands on a par with past productions. It undoubtedly will be rated by many as the most enjoyable play of the season.

The curtain rises on a darkened stage as the author, played by David Salyers, sits to the left of his drawing room, and reads the story—that of a small boy who wishes always to remain a child. As he ceases reading, the curtain of the inner stage rises and the action takes place, the first scene being the nursery of the Darling family in London. Mary Dantzier and Frank Willis, as Wendy Darling and Peter Pan respectively, show most outstanding performances. There is a sparkle to their characterizations that makes them vibrant, and they interpret their roles so vividly as to make them irrepressibly convincing.

Elizabeth White Fithian, who, along with LeRoy Miles, forms the non-student element, is excellent as Captain Hook, the bare pirate chieftain. His characterization is capably presented and is refreshing and spontaneous. Bruce Shepherd is the best of the pirate band and introduces humor into all of his scenes. The other pirates are Jamie Drennen, Carlisle Ames, John Davis Hagard, Gordon Symphon, and Bill Hutton.

With the exception of Peter, Wendy, and Captain Hook, all of the roles are comparatively small and it is rather difficult to comment on each individual. All play their parts splendidly and there seems to be no instance of mis-casting. LeRoy Miles and Ernestine Lyon as Mr. and Mrs. Darling, and Virginia Robinson and Tommie Nichols as Michael and John Darling enact their roles effectively.

With the dog nursemaid in the children, played by Frances Kerr is quite amusing. Tinker Bell, the fairy that is Peter's constant companion, is presented by means of a spotlight and her voice by a tiny bell. Ruth Kay Schneider and Thelma Goodrich are the "off-stage" Tinker Bell. Liza, the maid, is played by Sara Louise Cundiff. The lost boys of "Neverland" (who happen to be all girls) are Gertrude Stien, Clara Hughes, Lenarius Caswood, Kitty Mhan, Helen Rich, and Betty Moffett. These happy, carefree, frolicsome children become inhabitants of the "Never Land" when they fall out of their perambulators when their nurses' backs were turned and were not claimed in five days. The two Indians, Tiger Lily and Great Big Little Panther, are played by Celestine Partridge and Jane Tumbler. The crocodile, arch-enemy of Captain Hook, is Thelma Goodrich.

The main prize to be given to Mildred Schaffner, costume mistress, and her staff, in as much as their costumes are authentic and add tremendously to the interest of the show. Much credit also must go to Ruth Kay Schneider who is assistant director, and to Edna Brumagen who is in charge of properties.

High School Tennis Tournament Closes

(Continued from Page One) the first start, Friday, Clark county was the opposition in the second round and was defeated by 7-5, 6-3 counts. The champions advanced to the finals by defeating Eminence 6-1, 8-6.

Last year he won the singles championship of the Central Kentucky conference and teamed with Tom Brown, took the doubles championship of the conference. These same two boys also won the Junior Bluegrass doubles tournament for two consecutive years.

Twenty-one teams were originally entered in the tournament but the field was cut to 17 when four of the teams failed to send representatives. At the conclusion of the matches Saturday afternoon, Coach Downing presented the three winners with small silver loving cups. In his presentation speech, Coach Downing announced the winners of the three previous tournaments, congratulated the winners of the present contests, and thanked all of those who had cooperated to make the fourth tournament a success.
