Medical School Architects Are Named By Trustees

Meriwether, Marye and Associates have been named as local architects for construction of UK's new Medical School.

Consulting architects for the school, to be located on the Experiment Station Farm bordering Rose Street and the Nicholasville Road, are the firm of Ellerbe and Co., from St. Paul, Minn.

The 39-acre site which is to be the home of the Medical School, was approved by the Board of Trustees after it was strongly recommended by Dr. Vernon Lippard, dean of the Yale University School of Medicine, Architects, and Medical Foundation and University officials.

President Herman L. Donovan, in announcing the approved location of the school, said that surveys had been made of two or three possible sites.

"However," he said, "after careful consideration it has been decided that the area just south of the Animal Pathology Building, bordering Rose Street and the Nicholasville Road on the west and the farm road leading from the Animal Pathology Building on the east, south to the intersection of a lane joining this farm road and the Nicholasville Road, is the most desirable location."

"At present there are a few buildings within this area that can be moved without too much cost."

Dr. Donovan added, "They are all temporary buildings with the exception of an old residence that has long since served its usefulness and should be wrecked."

Dr. Donovan also said that to compensate for the land which would necessarily have to be used for the expansion of the University plant, a 204-acre farm located about four miles from the Experiment Station on the Nicholasville Road was recently purchased.

Present plans for the Medical School call for it to be all housed under one roof in a six or seven-story building. If the proposed appropriation for the school passes the Kentucky General Assembly, the first class is expected to enter in 1959, and the hospital will be completed by 1961.

The appropriation is at the present up for vote, being a part of Governor Chandler's budget for the coming two fiscal years.

UK Representatives To Aid In Naming New President

Members of the UK faculty will meet Monday to outline the procedure to be followed in selecting 10 representatives of the University to assist in the naming of a new president.

The list of the 10 representatives, to be named from teaching, research, extension and administrative branches of UK, will be submitted to Gov. A. B. Chandler at the earliest possible date.

From this list, the governor will select three names. These three, along with three already-named members of the Board of Trustees, will comprise the newly-formed committee for the screening of candidates for the presidency of the University. Dr. Ralph Angelucci, Robert P. Hobson, and Harper Gattton are the committee members from the Board of Trustees. Vice President Frank D. Peterson, secretary of the Board, will serve (Continued on Page 10)

Will Take Position As President Emeritus

By MARNEY BEARD

Dr. Herman L. Donovan will step down as UK's president on Sept. 1, 1956 after more than 15 years service to the University.

Donovan, who became president on July 1, 1941, announced his plans to accept a change-of-work status at a Board of Trustees meeting Tuesday.

Under current University regulations, there is no retirement plan, but all faculty members and administrators are required to accept a position entailing lesser duties upon reaching the age of 70.

Although Dr. Donovan was only 69 on March 17, he requested the Board of Trustees to grant him a change of work assignment in September because "I realize that age is taking its toll and I no longer have the energy I once had. My loyalty and devotion to my Alma Mater will not permit me to coast along for another year. I have no desire to fade out."

In a letter to Gov. A. B. Chandler, chairman, and members of the Board of Trustees, Dr. Donovan listed two reasons for requesting a change-of-work status one year earlier than was required.

These were, he said, that "I am honoring a request a committee of the faculty made some years before that when I planned to relinquish my duties as president of the University, I would give the Board and the faculty notice of my retirement from the presidency some months in advance. This I am now doing."

The other reason, he said, is quite as valid. "Time is required to make a careful and diligent search for a new president. A board should have sufficient time to select a new president and thereby avoid the necessity of selecting an acting president. If a long interval exists between two administrations it frequently becomes a period of unrest for the faculty and the institution drifts without a program."

Dr. Donovan's new assignment under his changed status will be that of president emeritus and professor of history of education. He will also serve as chairman of the UK press committee. His salary will be $10,000 a year plus $5,000 a year expense account. $4,200 of his salary will come from the regular UK retirement policy and the remaining $5,800 was authorized by the Board of Trustees to come from the Haggin Fund.

Dr. Donovan, in his letter to the Governor, stated emphatically that "I have no desire to take part in the selection of my successor and I shall deliberately refrain from active participation in the matter. However," he added, "my 28 years of experience as a college president . . . lead me to the conviction that as a matter of duty to the University to which I have given so much of my life, I am justified in saying something about the procedure a board should follow in selecting a new president."

Three recommendations were listed by Dr. Donovan: "(1) The best authorities on higher education regard the selection of a new executive officer of a university as the most important and far reaching act a board ever has to perform."

"(2) The appointment of a Trustee-Faculty Screening Committee is employed in the better ordered colleges in selecting a new president."

"(3) It is desirable that the Board-Faculty Screening Committee evaluate carefully the personnel of the University with reference to discovery of potential presidents on its faculty."

"The University, Donovan added, "must not be penalized by mediocrity in the selection of a new president. It deserves the best."

New IFC Officers

Frazee Hall Loss Set At $105,000

Loss from the fire which damaged Frazee Hall on Jan. 24 was officially set today at $105,000 by the Western Adjustment and Inspection Co.

This figure represents only the loss suffered by damage to the building itself. No official estimate has been made as to the value of the contents within the building destroyed by the fire.

The entire amount of the loss is fully covered by insurance issued by the State Department of Insurance at Frankfort to all state agencies. These agencies pay premiums to the state for this insurance. Under this plan, all state buildings up to a maximum of $500,000 are insured through the state fund. Any amount over that would be handled by established old-line insurance firms. This policy, explained Vice President Frank D. Peterson, is to prevent the state from having to pay out too much money in damages at any one particular time.

Dave Noyes Elected New IFC President

David Noyes, past president of Sigma Nu social fraternity, was elected president of the Interfraternity Council last Tuesday night. David has been business manager of the Kentuckian, a member of SGA, and Lances, junior men's honorary.

Chip Rice, president of Phi Delta Theta social fraternity, was elected vice president of the fraternity governing group. He is vice president and a member of the Judiciary Committee of SGA. He has been vice president of Keys, sophomore men's honorary, and treasurer of Lances.

Gentry Davis, the new secretary, is a member of Keys and treasurer of Kappa Alpha social fraternity. Barkly Baird, Phi Sigma Kappa, was elected treasurer. He is president of Phalanx, treasurer of the Constitutionalist Party, and a member of Lances, YMCA Cabinet, and Block and Bridle.

Carnahan Gives $15,000 To University

James W. Carnahan of Chicago presented the UK Board of Trustees with a $15,000 gift Tuesday.

The money, to be used for construction of a proposed alumni-faculty building on the campus, represents the first major contribution to the University's new Alumni Fund.

Carnahan is president of Lyons and Carnahan, one of the largest textbook publishing firms in the country, and is an 1896 graduate of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Kentucky (now UK). He was the recipient of one of the two annual Founders Day awards given by the University this year. These awards are given as recognition for distinguished educational service.

In presenting Carnahan's donation to the Board of Trustees for acceptance, President H. L. Donovan said, "Mr. Carnahan has been very generous in the past, and he has indicated that he intends to make further contributions toward the erection of the alumni-faculty house."

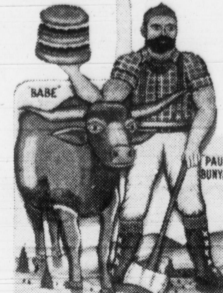

Other contributions accepted by the trustees Tuesday and their donors were: Louisville Courier-Journal, $1500 to support a project of the history department in editing the Henry Clay papers; Bakelite Co., division of the Union Carbide and Carbon Corporation, New York City, $1250 to the Agricultural Experiment Station for a study of the use of films produced from polyethylene for the control of weeds and forcing and irrigation of vegetables.

W. O. Dixon, Grove, Okla., Hereford steer calf valued at $200; Tom Baldwin, Jr., Richmond, Hereford steer calf valued at $250, to the Experiment Station. An anonymous gift of $300 to the Kentucky Research Foundation in support of a general scholarship for the 1956-57 school year was also accepted.

The record paid attendance for a baseball game was established Oct. 10, 1948, in the fifth game of the World Series when 86,288 paid their way into Municipal Stadium in Cleveland, Ohio.

Frank Borries, UK journalism graduate, has replaced C. A. Lewis as Agriculture Extension editor. Borries assumed his duties April 2. Borries graduated from the University in 1936 and took a reporting job with the Dayton (Ohio) Journal. He was farm editor for the Lexington Herald and later the tobacco market reporter for the Lexington Leader. Borries worked on the Kernel for four years and was managing editor during his senior year. Debaters Fare Well In New York Tourney

Suzanne Shively was one of the top five speakers in the National Tau Kappa Alpha tournament in New York March 26, 27, 28. Miss Shively had only three days of practice before entering the tournament.

Fifty-eight schools participated in the three-day tournament which included contests in debate, panel discussion, public speaking, and after dinner speaking. Charles English and James Dundon tied for second place in debate. They debated both the affirmative and the negative sides of the question on a guaranteed annual wage. Another team which had four members, Jane Snyder and Elissa May, affirmative, and Richard Roberts and Eddie Lovelace, negative, did not place in the tournament. Tau Kappa Alpha is a national forensics organization. This annual tournament is open to all TKA schools that wish to attend. To belong, a school must maintain a consistent good record in forensics, initiate persons at least every two years, and attend regional and national tournaments.

"We usually take the people we feel are the best because this is the outstanding tournament of the year as far as we are concerned," Dr. Gifford Elyton, director of forensics at the University, said. UK will end its season next Friday and Saturday at the Invitational Tournament at Xavier University. Twenty-four of the outstanding schools from different sections of the country have been invited to participate. Some of these schools include Princeton, Harvard, Notre Dame, Fordham and San Francisco.

Dr. Elyton stated that the debaters had won about 60 per cent of their debates this year. "Although they haven't done as well this year as a group, there have been quite a few individual high spots," he continued.

Barf!

Sam: "I'll bet they tie leashes to them, because you know how those horny boys get out of hand."
Waldo: "It must be used to hold those dingy, doorman outfits together."
Retros: "Of course, the only solution is that they must be used to insure against unchaste actions."
Femur: "I just don't know. They look too damn ridiculous to identify."
No Sam, Waldo, Retros, and Femur you're all wrong. Word has it from the Military Science Department that it's the latest in an etiolozing program about a fellow named "Sam Browne". To all advanced ground-pounders: it's only fair to warn you—everybody will be trying to pull them off to see if your pants really will fall down.

Snyder, Lovelace To Be Initiated Into TKA

Jane Snyder and Eddie Lovelace, members of the UK debate team, are to be initiated into Tau Kappa Alpha at the national conference of the forensics organization at New York University March 26, 27, and 28. Qualifications for the society are that a student must be in the upper 35 percent of his class, show proficiency in public speaking, and have participated two years in intercollegiate forensics. James Dundon is to represent the Ohio-Kentucky Region on the National Student Council of Tau Kappa Alpha.

This is the second time the meeting is being held in Lexington and the third time in the state of Kentucky. All sessions are to be held in the ballroom on the mezzanine floor of the Phoenix Hotel. The meeting will last through Saturday. One of the highlights of the conference will be a subscription banquet to be given at 7:15 tonight. Among the guests will be President H. L. Donovan and The Most Rev. William T. Mulloy, Bishop of Covington.

ADVENTURES IN SOCIAL SCIENCE: NO. 3

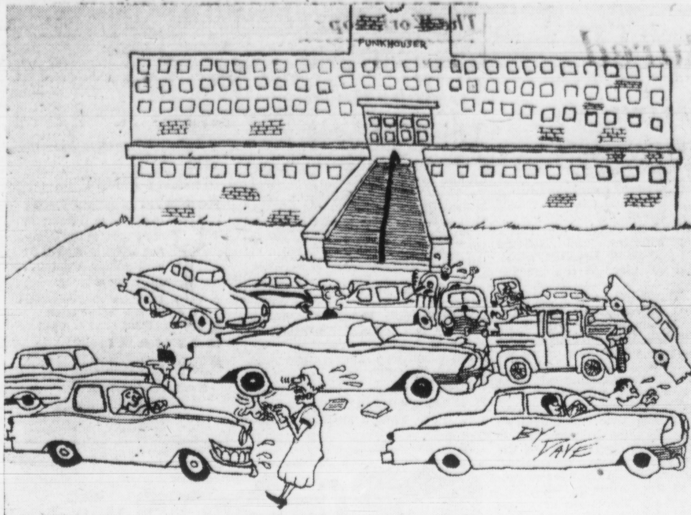

Today, ranging again into the fascinating world of social science, let us take up the subject of anthropology — the study of man and his origins. The origin of man was indeed a vexing question until the Frenchman, Jean-Louis Sigafoos, discovered the skull and shinbone of Pithecanthropus Erectus in Java in 1891. (What Sigafoos was doing in Java is, incidentally, quite an odd little story. Sigafoos was a Parisian born and bred. By day one could always find him at a boulevard cafe, sipping Biere de Racine and ogling the girls; each night he went to a fashionable casino where he gambled heavily at roulette and jacks; in between times he worked on his stamp collection.

... the study of man and his Origins...

(Well sir, one summer Sigafoos lost his entire fortune gambling at the casino, and he was seriously contemplating suicide when a ray of hope appeared in an unexpected quarter. It seems that Sigafoos, through the international stamp collectors journal, had long been in correspondence with a girl in Java, a mission-educated savage named Lotus Petal McGinnis, herself an enthusiastic stamp collector. The nature of their correspondence, though friendly, had been entirely philatelic. Now, suddenly, a new kind of letter came from Lotus Petal. She declared that although she had never laid eyes on Sigafoos, she loved him and wanted to marry him. She said she was eighteen years old, beautiful, and her father, the richest man in his tribe, would give half his fortune to the husband of her choice. Sigafoos, in his reduced circumstances, had no alternative; he sold his last few belongings and booked passage for Java. (The first sight of his prospective bride failed to delight Sigafoos. She was, as she said, beautiful — but only by local standards. Sigafoos had serious doubts that her bright red pointed teeth and the chicken bones hanging from her ear lobes would be considered chic along the Champs Elysees. (But sobering as was the sight of Lotus Petal, Sigafoos had an even greater disappointment coming when he met her father. The old gentleman was, as Lotus Petal had represented, the richest man in his tribe, but, unfortunately, the medium of exchange in his tribe was prune pits. (Sigafoos took one look at the mound of prune pits which was his dowry, gnashed his teeth, and stomped off into the jungle, swearing vilely and kicking at sticks and stones and whatever else lay in his path. Stomping thus, swearing thus, kicking thus, Sigafoos kicked over a heap of old bones which — what do you know! — turned out to be the skull and shin of Pithecanthropus Erectus.)

But I digress... From the brutish Pithecanthropus, man evolved slowly upward, growing more intelligent and resourceful. By the Middle Paleolithic period man had invented the leash, which was a remarkable technical achievement, but frankly not terribly useful until the Mesolithic period when man invented the dog. In the Neolithic period came far and away the most important development in the history of mankind — the discovery of agriculture. Why is this so important, you ask? Because, good friends, without agriculture there would be no tobacco, and without tobacco there would be no Philip Morris, and without Philip Morris you would be without the gentlest, mildest, sunniest, pleasantest, happiest smoke that money can buy, and I would be without a job. That's why. ©Max Shulman, 1956
To their Neolithic ancestors, the makers of Philip Morris extend a grateful salute. And so will you when you try today's new gentle Philip Morris in today's new pack of red, white and gold.

"Don't laugh. This could happen to you."

Traffic Problem

Are you the adventurous type? Do you enjoy scaling high mountains, driving fast cars, or playing Russian roulette, but find you can't participate in these interesting little games because the equipment is too expensive? Well, you can stop worrying. The Kernel has the solution to your problem. For a thrill a day just walk across the University drive between McVey Hall and Funkhouser Building.

There's nothing more exhilarating than playing tag with a speeding automobile. Imagine yourself standing in the middle of the street calmly watching a careening car bearing down on either side of you, the evil faces of the drivers lering at you over their steering wheels. What a stimulating decision! Should you dash for safety or should you stand your ground like the brave matador and contemptuously flaunt your slide rule at impending death? Ah, what fun!

But what if you are a rich plutocrat and own an automobile? There are still possibilities. You too can get your kicks. Let us suppose you are engaged in a hotly contested drag race with a Thunderbird, and a car pulls out in front of you from the Library drive, another is blazing down the middle of the road toward you, directly in front of you and a gray haired lady is nimbly hopping across the drive on her cane. This should arouse the most jaded instincts. In this case you can either smash into the car directly in front of you, swerve into the steps on Funkhouser, or grind the old lady into dust. A delightful choice.

Undoubtedly this is all a little farfetched, but the traffic problem between Funkhouser and McVey could someday cause a serious accident. No one seems to know who has the right of way. Cars dart out the Library drive, from behind McVey and down the drive with alarming abandon. This could all be cleared up with a stop light, three stop signs, and a couple of marked crosswalks.

Enough traffic pours out of the drive onto Rose at noon and five o'clock to warrant a stop light similar to the one installed at Rose and Columbia. Stop signs should by all means be placed at the Library junction, behind McVey, and at the corner between Funkhouser and the home ec building.

This would give the traffic coming down the drive from Rose street the right of way and eliminate the confusion caused by cars coming into the drive from the side streets.

Crosswalks should also be painted across the drive and large signs placed at the curb warning motorists to stop for pedestrians.

Voters Needed

Politics, in a famous poem about the Commonwealth, has been called "the damndest" in Kentucky. Bluegrass citizens, it seems, have historically maintained a heavy interest in their political battles.

That is why it is discouraging to note the current apathy among the largest single identity-group of new voters—the University of Kentucky students. Interest in politics at UK is no greater, and possibly less, than before the voting age was lowered.

Excluding only the non-state residents and the handful not yet 18 years old, UK students have been raised to the dignity of voting citizens. College-age students of only one other state (Georgia) enjoy this privilege.

But gifts easily come by, apparently, are not fully appreciated. Far too many students failed to register in time for the forthcoming May primary; worse still, a large number of students declare they don't know who are running in the election, and care less.

Only about 17 students turned out this week to listen to a debate between two prominent Democrats concerning their proponents for the Democratic senatorial nomination. One had to conclude that either Kentucky is an extremely weak Democratic state, or that students are not taking an interest in their newly-given franchise.

—Since this is Kentucky, the latter conclusion is more logical.

Many students fail to realize how attractive their votes must look to a politician. First of all, the politician knows he must state his case carefully before a college-level audience. He is not dealing with sub-normal intelligence.

Secondly, the politician knows that a college voter may not only directly affect parents and relations, but also a host of close associates—from all over the state. UK is, indeed, a community of communities.

Thirdly, it is hard to think of any other large, uncommitted body of voters that may be reached in one small area, such as at UK. Virtually everybody that walks across campus is a potential voter.

Back Talk

R. E. Week

Dear Sir:

We wish to thank the Kernel for the publicity given Religious Emphasis Week and although we commend the spirit in which the editorial concerning R. E. Week was written, we feel that it does not convey the thoughts of the majority of the students at UK.

Your editorial indicated that some of the speakers were not qualified to speak on such a "complex subject" as religion. It has not been the policy of Religious Emphasis Week to bring to our campus speakers who are profound theologians, but rather to obtain individuals who are recognized in their academic fields and who are professing, active religious people with the ability to transmit their ideas to students on their own academic level. Further, for anyone who calls himself a student we cannot visualize an incident when one dull speaker would spoil the thoughts stimulated by 3 good ones, any more than one dull professor would cause him to give up his quest for education.

Your criticism of a student being compelled to sit in a class where the instructor has invited a R.E. Week speaker, whom he feels will make some worthwhile contribution to his class program, is not valid. For each student who objects to this brief introduction of religious thinking into his life there are at least 50 who profit by it in some manner and indeed would like an opportunity to hear more such speakers. We are of the opinion that any individual, especially a student, who cannot listen to a religious speaker without becoming upset or annoyed is either unwilling to think through his philosophy of religion or he is accepting a philosophy of religion or no religion which he is afraid to have disturbed by facing other facts.

Most certainly we cannot see that R.E. Week is dying. When 156 meetings are held in 5 days, the majority of which were attended by students on a voluntary basis; this does not indicate a dying program.

The Kernel indicated that R.E. Week should be left up to the students. We would like to remind you that the whole week was planned and instigated by a committee of over 50 students, which represents a good cross section of campus thinking.

Again we would say that we feel that the criticism of R.E. Week was based on judgment derived from one or two contacts, and that you did not make an honest effort to get the true facts. It is our opinion that any good newspaper, when it calls attention to defects of a community or program, should have all the facts and face them fairly.

Iowa Letter

To the Editor:

The purpose of this letter is not to refute the claims made by Tom Preston in a recent editorial, but to qualify some of them and place them in their proper context.

I'm surprised Adolph Rupp didn't receive harsher comments than the one you quoted. Certainly he overstepped his boundaries when he spoke of Iowa City, "It's just a little corn town with one run-down hotel." (Actually he have 4 hotels and only one of those is shot.)

"Morehead, who's Morehead" expressed our sentiments accurately. Are we to be crucified because we haven't heard of one of your hamlets? (Did you know we have a Turkeyscratch, Iowa? Of course you didn't, nor we Morehead.) If Mr. Preston saw the Iowa-Morehead game, he'll know why Iowa gave player Gaunce the boos he rightly deserved. Other than #11 (which Iowa won't forget for a good many years), Morehead had a good team; hereafter we won't be saying, "Who's Morehead" . . . no indeed. (We will probably say "Where's Morehead" however.)

That Iowa labeled you "Southern hicks in the hallowed lands of Iowa," needs little refuting. Aren't you-all Southerners and isn't Iowa's land hallowed? To the "hick" portion, man judges what he sees. (With that cow bell ringing, we thought sure you all had brought your farm chores along with you.)

You should have attended some Big Ten games Preston, then you would have really seen the rolls of T.P. flying. Egads, boy, don't flatter yourself . . . toilet paper we can spare is thrown in joyous manner to the Hawks, not to down an opponent. (Do you realize it's almost 10 cents a roll up here?)

We're truly sorry about the soft drink hitting the mayor of Morehead on the head (thankful it wasn't HARD liquor) . . . and there's absolutely no excuse for the verbal abuses made to the women supporters of your fine team (if they occurred). When you have something good, it's natural that it is fought for and supported to the utmost; while we may have been over-anxious in our support, this is actually what we were aiming for (support, that is).

Please forgive us of our shortcomings, old UK, and may our teams once again meet on the hard court.

Code, Guns, Maps Featured In Tapp's Civil War Collection

By MOIRA QUINN
Kernel Relic Editor

A Confederate rifle containing a code message, a breastplate dented by a shell, a copy of the original map of the battle of Perryville—all can be seen right on the UK campus in the office of Dr. Hambleton Tapp, assistant to the president.

These Civil War relics are only three among many in Dr. Tapp's collection. Some of the pieces were discovered after the battle of Belmont, Mo., which took place on Nov. 8, 1861. However, the majority of them have been retrieved from the battlefield of Perryville, Kentucky, where one of the most significant battles of the Civil War was fought on Oct. 8, 1862.

One of the most colorful relics among Tapp's collection is a Sharpe's carbine rifle, presumed to have been dropped by a messenger as he fell from his horse. A cartridge case in the butt of the rifle contained a code message which states "When the captain comes we will answer this as befits the army of Miles Standish." The significance of this message still remains a mystery.

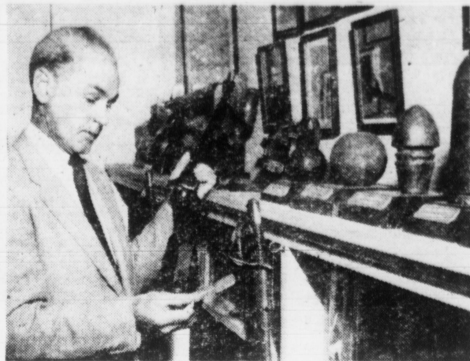

When one thinks of a breastplate he automatically associates it with the armor worn by the ancient Greek and Roman warriors. However, Tapp explained that during the Civil War numerous soldiers donned such protection, and the selling of these breastplates became widely practiced. Dr. Tapp believes that the bullet dent focused over the heart in the plate in his possession, however, is the result of a vendor's demonstration rather than from actual contact in combat.

Tapp had an interesting explanation for the blanched faces of the soldiers in his reproductions of battles. He accredited this to the cap-and-ball rifle. In order to load the gun, the paper-enclosed end of the cartridge had to be bitten off. The powder would sometimes split, therefore discoloring the soldier's face.

A reproduction of the original map of the Battle of Perryville hangs on the wall in Dr. Tapp's office, drawn from the records of J. B. Work, an engineer in General Buell's army. Although Tapp has made copies from it, the only other one, to his knowledge, is housed in the bank in Perryville.

Once Tapp took one of his Civil War shells to the Maintenance Department to be cleaned. During the cleaning process, the shell was placed on an emery stone. A spark produced by friction contacted with the powder and the 1862 shell exploded, seriously injuring the workman.

Due to the lack of finances, the Confederates were not as well equipped as the Unionists and were therefore forced to use any type of weapon they could lay their hands on. A sword of Tapp's is an example of the Confederate desperation. Of Roman design, it was used as a side arm for artillery officers in the battle of Belmont. Strangely enough, it was manufactured in Connecticut but used by a Confederate soldier.

A great many of these relics have been given to Dr. Tapp by Mr.

Willis Hankla of Danville. Mr. Hankla married the granddaughter of "Uncle Jake" Carpenter, a Perryville grocer at the time of the battle. "Uncle Jake" is the great uncle of Cecil C. Carpenter, dean of the UK College of Commerce.

Dr. Tapp said that he intends to return to the scene of the battle of Perryville in hopes of finding more relics, each of which has its own story to tell.

The Workshop

Old Proprietor Spares Us By Keeping Column Short

By RAY HORNBACK

Our gentle feature editor, Ellis E. Easterly, approached me tonight and requested that I hold the workshop to a bare minimum. His reasoning was quite sound in that the feature page is overloaded with delightful advertising.

Being a peaceful and lovable character, I bowed my curly little head, blinked my tear-filled eyes, and tripped over to my typewriter. (The reason I tripped—our gentle feature editor had his gentle feet sticking out before me. For those who might be dreadfully worried about my condition after the fall, I'm all right. It was a gentle fall.) I had planned to do an article on why the Roman Empire fell. But such an article is now out of the question. By cutting my space allotment, our gentle feature editor has squelched one of the greatest pieces of writing ever attempted in the Kernel office. Now the world will never know the real reason for the fall of Rome.

So much for foreign affairs. Back to the task of writing a bare minimum column. (I'm only doing it because our gentle feature editor requested such a foolish move.)

And it is a task to produce a scholarly piece of writing when held to a bare minimum as our gentle feature editor requests.

There are very few topics which can be handled in such a limited amount of space. But if that's what our gentle feature editor wants... that's what he'll get.

At this stage in writing a bare minimum column, I have suddenly discovered that I have just about reached my bare minimum. And if you don't think that's not straining, just try reaching for your bare minimum some time. You might be surprised.

Thus I bow my curly little head, blink my tear-filled eyes, and trip off into the night after writing a bare minimum column. (The reason I tripped—our gentle feature editor still has his suede-laden feet sticking out before me.)

'Dear Brutus' To Be Given Next Week

"Dear Brutus," a play by Sir James Barrie, will open Wednesday, April 11, for a four-night run in the Laboratory Theatre of the Fine Arts Building. Curtain time will be at 8:30.

The play was first produced in 1907 and starred Helen Hayes in one of her most famous roles. It concerns nine superficial people who believe that given a second chance, they could make more of their lives. The chance is provided by the eerie, supernatural Lob, a modern-day Enoch. The people learn that their faults are not brought about by fate, but by their own characters.

The cast for "Dear Brutus" includes Jess Ray as Mr. Bearth, David Withers as Mr. Purdie, Norval Copeland as Mr. Coade, Jim Hurt as Lob, Ann Smith as Joanna, Mary Ann Stevenson as Mrs. Bearth, Vicki Arrington as Mrs. Purdie, and Jackie Mundell as Mrs. Coade.

Jim Adams will play Matey, Nancy Niles will portray Margaret, and Page Williams will be seen as Lady Caroline Laney.

The play is staged by Jim Hurt. Assistant director is Yandell Collins and lighting is by Don Lennartson.

The contest, announced today by Marney Beard, campus representative for Chesterfield and L&M, will be run on a two-weeks experimental basis beginning Monday. Amount of interest shown will determine how much longer it will be conducted.

Campus Cinema Offers Gigi

The Campus Cinema Committee has announced that their next presentation will be the French film "Gigi." The film will be shown at 3:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Thursday, April 12, in the Guignol Theatre.

This is the 11th in a series of twelve films which have been shown through Campus Cinema this year. Mrs. Ruby Hart, head of the cinema committee, said that this has been the most successful year for the Campus Cinema program.

"Gigi" is the story of a 16-year-old girl who comes from a family in which, as far as anyone can remember, no woman has ever been married. Her grandmother and great aunt, both retired courtesans, are training her to carry on the tradition. Gigi revolts against the strict conventions of the old ladies and works out her own happiness by flouting the rules.

Daniele Delorme, Franck Villard, Yvonne de Bray, and Gaby Morlay start in the film which is a Brandon release.

Campus Cinema is sponsored by the Audio-Visual Aids Department of the College of Adult and Extension Education.

University Entertains Legislators

The University of Kentucky was host at a buffet dinner Wednesday night in honor Kentucky legislators.

The dinner was held to show appreciation to the legislators for their work and co-operation with the University during the past year.

Dr. Lyman V. Ginger, dean of the College of Adult and Extension Education, acted as Master of Ceremonies at the dinner which included about 650 guests.

Following the dinner was a program of entertainment which lasted about an hour. Included on the program was the world premier showing of "Life on the UK Campus," a public relations film prepared by the Department of Radio Arts. This film lasts for 25 minutes and was designed to be shown to high school boys and girls.

Also there was a vocal selection by an octet composed of Phyllis Jenness and Aimo Kiviniemi, UK Music Department; Patricia Herren, Corbin; Faye Gibson, Owensboro; Ewel Cornett, Louisville; Charles Sims, Wilmore; and Harry Dunscombe, accompanist.

Eight members of a UK ROTC unit presented a Confederate drill. The unit was judged best of this region, consisting of 16 universities, during recent drill contests.

Susan Faulkner, last year's winner of the 4-H Club public speaking contest, delivered her prize winning speech, "Am I My Brother's Keeper?" Susan is from Stanford and is now enrolled as a freshman at Eastern Kentucky State College.

The University Troupers of the Physical Education Department presented "Adagio," a one act play.

The committee to be formed is the result of a letter from Governor Chandler to Registrar Robert L. Mills. In this letter, written immediately after President Donovan's retirement request, the governor suggested the committee be established in the manner described.

Chandler, speaking for the Board of Trustees, said, "It is our hope that the committee on screening candidates for the presidency of the University of Kentucky can begin its work as soon as possible and will submit its report to the Board of Trustees at the earliest convenience of the committee."

Teaching Institute To Be Held Here On April 19, 20, 21

A teaching institute, the second of its kind to be held in the United States, will be held here April 19-21. The institute will be held for agriculture and home economic teachers of this University and of the fourteen other four-year colleges that teach Agriculture and Home Economic courses.

All agriculture and home economics classes will be dismissed Friday, April 20, and Saturday, April 21, so that all teachers may participate. The institute and its programs are being planned and will be carried out by the UK agriculture and home economics teachers. Dr. Roy Sigafus heads the program committee.

The object of the institute is to improve the methods of teaching. Dean L. J. Horlacher, while commenting on the effects of the institute, said, "Principally our professors will be able to do a better job of teaching. There is a great deal of interest on the part of our staff as well as other teachers in the University in this type program."

The institute will open Thursday evening, April 19, with a dinner at which Dean Horlacher will preside. The principal address will be delivered by Dr. George H. White, Oklahoma A&M, on "A Liberal Education in a Professional Curriculum." Other speeches will be given during the week by Dean M. M. White; Dean C. S. Hutchison, Ohio State; UK alumni, and others.

In preparation for the institute a series of three lectures will be given in faculty meetings during March and April on "The Learning Process." The speakers will be Dr. J. S. Calvin, Dr. John Kulper, and Dr. Carson Helm. Dr. Stephen Dinchun is the chairman of the program committee for these lectures.

Members of the different colleges on campus are welcome to attend.

OPPORTUNITIES IN OPERATIONS RESEARCH For Seniors and Graduate Students in ENGINEERING, PHYSICS, and MATHEMATICS

Current staff vacancies at THE JOHNS HOPKINS UNIVERSITY Operations Research Office, in Washington, D. C., operating under contract with the Department of the Army, provide exceptional opportunities for graduating seniors and graduate students in the rapidly expanding and increasingly important career field of OPERATIONS RESEARCH.

These positions will appeal to student-scientists who prefer the challenge of complex operational problems of unusual scope and diversity to routine analysis and development work, and who desire a degree of research freedom not ordinarily found in industrial positions.

Our current research program includes problems in tactics, strategy, weapons systems, intelligence, communications, logistics, and military applications, of game theory. Studies in these areas are normally carried on by mixed teams of scientists, each of whom is expected to contribute as a specialist to a synthesized solution.

Among the many other attractions and advantages of working at ORO are:

- Selected opportunities for two-year overseas assignments in Germany and Japan.
- Liberal employee benefits and leave privileges.
- Rapid advancement for demonstrated capabilities.
- A competitive salary scale.

NEARLY HALF over is Kentucky's baseball season and the Wildcat nine hasn't played a home game yet. Reason for this is that Coach Harry Lancaster's crew has been on a southern trip which in reality was a practice venture. But alas, the eleven games played won't be classified as practice. And as usual, Kentucky is sitting on the bottom with a 1-10 mark. In fact, the only souvenir brought back from the deep South was a good sun-tan! This afternoon though, local diamon fans will get their first glimpse at the Wildcat nine as they face Georgia Tech at 3 o'clock.

SPRING SPORTS just can't plan for success this year. The golf team is rebuilding. Dr. H. H. Downing is trying to piece together a tennis team. And Don Cash Seaton, mentor of the track team, seems to be just hoping for a fairly decent spring.

The better outlook leans toward track as seven lettermen are on hand for another season, but opponents are boasting of mighty tough clubs to throw against Kentucky.

BACK ON campus last Wednesday was former Kernel Sports Editor and Captain of last season's tennis team, George Koper. Now an ensign in the Navy, Koper is stationed at Jacksonville, Fla.

ON APRIL 15 at 1:30 p.m. the Bluegrass Riding Club will sponsor a horse show. Nine classes have been set up including hunting and jumping. There will be no admission to the show but contributions will be taken during the program in order to help raise money for the U.S. Olympic Equestrian Team.

Entries may be submitted to Miss Louise Fallon, Lane Allen Rd., Route 2, Lexington. The show will be held at Bluegrass Park on the Parkers Mill Road. Judges are Mrs. Gayle Hughes, Col. T. J. Johnson and Col. Ben Erdman. Mr. Gayle Hughes will be the ringmaster.

JERRY BIRD who is playing against the Harlem Globetrotters was selected to the Dayton All-Opponent basketball team. Two other Kentucky boys, Charles Tyra from Louisville and Jack Adams of Eastern, were voted to the first team. Sihugo Green, Duquesne ace, was the top point getter while Xavier's Jimmy Boothe rounds out the first five. Incidentally, Bird scored 34 points against the Flyers while playing a substitute role at center. Bob Burrow was lame with a bum foot and ankle in that final UKIT contest.

WHEN AN Assistant Sports Editor has as busy a week as the past one you simply don't expect to get much work from him. Such was our case with Bill Henry. First, the jolly senior got himself pinned, and next he secured a job for after graduation in Ohio working with the United Press. But despite his eventful week of William was at the post late Wednesday night. Oh, by the way, this fellow also holds another distinction. While in the service he wound up in Korea but all was not unpleasant. You should get him to tell you about the day he spent with Marilyn Monroe while she was "doing something for the boys."

MORE ON KELLY COLEMAN:
"Never have I read such a disgusting interview in the Kernel regarding Kelly Coleman.

Granted, Coleman may need some polish but after this he probably won't feel that UK's the place to get it, and frankly I don't blame him!"

Weekend Sports Calendar Marks Opening Play For Three Teams

By BO GRIFFIN

Three varsity spring sports swing into action this weekend as the track, tennis, and golf teams get their 1956 campaign underway.

The golf team, tutored by ex-Wildcat Johnny Owens, opens its season today against Union College. The match will be played over the par-72 Bolling Springs Country Club course and is scheduled to begin at 1 p.m.

On Saturday the Cats play host to Eastern Kentucky State College at Bolling Springs. Tee off time is 10 a.m.

Coach Owens is faced with a rebuilding job this year as the result of the loss of every letterman on last year's links squad.

Two top men, John Y. Brown Jr. and Mike Prunty, had a year of eligibility remaining but Brown will devote full time to his law studies this semester and Prunty is indelible academically.

A lack of experience is expected to handicap the dozen candidates who are currently out for practice.

The only experienced golfer on the squad is John Foster, Lexington senior back from the service who lettered in 1953.

Haydon Spalding, Bardstown junior transferee from Xavier, and Gene Spragens, Lebanon junior, are also expected to give help.

Among the eight sophomores out for the squad, Owens has high hopes for Jim Hoe of Middlesboro and Bill Morton of Maysville.

This year's team will engage in 15 intercollegiate matches and the annual Southeastern Conference Tournament, which is scheduled at Athens, Ga., May 3-5.

The Wildcat track team will open its season on the Stoll Field track, Saturday, April 7, against Morehead State College.

Seven dual and triangular meets plus an appearance in the annual Southeastern Conference meet set for Birmingham, Ala., May 18-19, are on the agenda for the 1956 season.

Dr. Don Cash Seaton, who has tutored Kentucky cindermen since 1948, is track coach.

Seven lettermen are returning from the 1955 team that compiled a 1-3 mark in competition last season. This year's team may be strong in the hurdles due to the presence of three good performers: Ray Blassingame, San Diego, Calif., sophomore; Dave Cousins, Louisville senior letterman, and Jim Ingram, Harrodsburg sophomore. Sprinters Jack Brown and Bob Phillips are reported looking good and Don Bowman, former Male High trackman, is expected to turn in a fine job at the 220 and 440-yard distances.

Dave Jones of Ashland is the chief hope in the pole vault department.

UK's varsity tennis squad, coached by H. H. Downing, opens the 1956 season tomorrow when they are scheduled to go against the Berea College Mountaineers on the opponent's home court.

The Wildcat netmen, with only two men returning from last year's team which broken even in match play, will compete in 10 matches and again participate in the Southeastern Tournament, carded for Atlanta on May 10-12.

Lettermen Glenn Dorroh and George Carey head the roster of nine candidates out for the '56 squad. Both are Lexington seniors.

Dorroh will probably play as number one man this season, according to Coach Downing.

Other candidates include Dan Chandler, John Kenney, Art McCarty, George Perry, Pete Pope, Randolph Sexton and Pete Schrider.

A freshman team is being organized and likely will have six or eight meets with high schools of the area.

Baseball Team Engages Georgia Tech This Afternoon, Stoll Field Diamond

By SCOOP WHITE

Kentucky's baseball team opens its home season as it tangles with the Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets at 3:00 p.m. this afternoon on the Stoll Field diamond.

Wildcat Coach Harry Lancaster and his 22 man-team returned home yesterday after a two weeks invasion of the southland. During this 11 game trip, the Cats won only one tilt while losing 10.

But this record is not as bad as it looks on paper. Six of the losses were to a pair of the SEC's best, Florida and Georgia. The SE southern teams were benefited by the warm climate and had played four or five games before the Cats encountered them.

Today's game with Tech is the first of a three game series with the two teams winding up with a double-header Saturday beginning at 1:30 p.m.

The Cats began their southern tour by engaging Georgia Teachers College in a two game series, losing both by 8-5 and 14-5. Charley White started on the mound in the first game and Ronnie Parham was the starting pitcher in the second game.

From Collegeboro, Ga., the Cats journeyed to Jacksonville, Fla., to play the Naval Air Station. The Fliers easily captured the series opener by white-washing the Cats 12-0.

Cookie Grawemeyer started on the hill for the Cats, but had to give way to Parham in the second inning as the Fliers scored seven runs. Parham went the rest of the way allowing five runs.

Frank Jankunis, left-handed Jacksonville pitcher, held the Wildcats to two hits.

The Wildcats came back in the second game to capture their only win of the trip, defeating the Fliers 7-2 in a game shortened to five innings by darkness. Kenny Ledkemp was the winning Cat pitcher going all the way and allowing six hits.

Jim Biggerstaff led the Kentucky hitting attack with two timely hits, but the Cats were aided more by the 15 walks issued by the two Flier hurlers. The Cats tallied in the first four frames, scoring two in the first, third, and fourth innings, and one in the second.

Gainesville was the next stop for Coach Lancaster's charges. Florida had little trouble annexing the first contest by defeating the Wildcats 7-1. The next day the Cats ran into double trouble, losing 7-1, and 16-5.

Kentucky's hurlers were constantly in trouble as the Florida hitters banged out 11 hits in the opener and 13 in the nightcap. Leading the Cats at the plate were centerfielder Gerry Calvert with two hits in four trips in the first game, and first baseman Doug Lawhorn with two for four in the second game.

In Macon, Ga., the Wildcats lost a tough one to Mercer 4-3 as the winners tallied two runs in the ninth inning to turn a 3-2 Cat lead into defeat.

The Cats out hit the winners 8-5, but also committed more errors. Kentucky made four errors and Mercer made two. Charley White went the distance for the Cats allowing only five hits.

Athens, Ga. was the last stop for the traveling Wildcats. Here, they met the Bulldogs of Georgia in a three game series. Georgia, always a baseball power in the SEC, captured the double-header, shutting out the Cats in both games 9-0 and 15-0.

Grawemeyer started the first game, but ran into difficulty in the fourth inning, and was relieved by John Crigler, who went the rest of the game. The Bulldogs were leading 3-0 until the disastrous fourth when Georgia came up with four more runs.

The second game was murder as the Georgia hitters battered the Kentucky moundsmen for 14 hits and 15 runs.

Kentucky ended the tour by losing to Georgia in the final of the three game series 13-15.

After Saturday's contest with Georgia Tech, the Cats battle with its hometown rival, Transylvania, Tuesday afternoon on Stoll Field. The game will begin at 3:00 p.m.

TIPS ON TOGS

CONGRATULATIONS: To Delta Tau Delta and Kappa Sigma Fraternities for their victories in the Campus Sing. The Kappa Sig's looked pretty sharp in their striped Blazer coats — again congratulations!

IT'S TIME: To think about your spring and summer slax, with the shedding of our topcoats naturally our slax come into more prominence—several pairs of good looking "Palm Beach" slax can really give a sagging wardrobe a much needed kick in the pants—I just re-read that—ouch! There is a wide field of colors and weaves to select from and my tip "Old Buddy" is to select early while the variety is still there—so when "Sol" begins to strut his stuff you will be ready with some cool, comfortable slax tailored by "Palm Beach."

SHIP AHOY — "Boat Neck" T-shirts for Land Lubbers! Designed for McGregor by "Matt"—completely continental—oversized—smartly striped or in solid colors with the slash neck. These are perfect to wear with casual slax—over swim trunks or Bermuda shorts. If you are planning quite an outdoor life this summer or if you are inclined to just loaf around home—then this is the T-Shirt for you!

I SAW — Phil Harris, Arts and Sciences student (and dance instructor for Arthur Murray Studios) squiring the Mrs. down the street the other night and as usual he was very neatly dressed. Phil has the knack of blending colors correctly with an eye for Fashion and a pleasing appearance. He uses his "College Clothing Club" card when he makes his purchases at our store and saves a little money—so be sure to stop in and ask for your Free Card—you'll be glad you did—and so will I.

So long for now.
