

Brig. General Fred W. Rankin, of Southern birth, educated in Arts at Davidson College, in Medicine at the University of Maryland. After fifteen years at the Mayo Clinic, he developed a great surgical career at Lexington, Kentucky. With the onset of the war he became Chief Consultant in Surgery to the U. S. Army, a guarantee that our soldiers, who deserve the best in surgical care, will receive it.

Brig. General Fred W. Rankin, Southern Gentleman, surgeon and soldier.

Remarks and introduction by Dr. Roger I. Lee, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the A.M.A., in presenting the distinguished service medal to the A. M. A.