Dear Doctor Rankin:

I did not have an opportunity of seeing you after the Convocation in Chicago recently. I wanted to extend to you my congratulations upon the excellent address which you presented.

My youngest son was in the group to be admitted to the College, and I was pleased that he could hear an address such as yours, for I do know it will be stimulating to him and will help give to him a better concept of surgery, and it should make of him a better surgeon. You stressed, in your address to the initiates, many important facts pertaining to medicine and surgery. I just wanted to tell you so.

I was pleased to see you looking so fine, and I hope that you will have many more years in which you may serve the medical profession. With kindest personal regards,

Sincerely yours,

G. V. Brindley, M. D.
