PRESERVATION PLANNING PROGRAM ENTERS PHASE II

The Preservation Planning Program Study Team has completed its background paper and is ready to begin the second phase of the study. Five task forces (Environmental Conditions, Collection Conditions, Organization for Preservation & Inter-institutional Cooperation, Disaster Control, and Resources & Funding) are being formed to examine various preservation issues as they affect the Libraries. Each task force, chaired by a member of the study team, will prepare a report on its topic by October 15.

Phase II will officially begin with the second visit of Dr. Michele Cloonan, our preservation consultant, on July 9-10. During her visit, Michele will meet with each task force to help plan its timetable and activities. The third phase of the planning program will concentrate on the preparation by the study team of a final report and long-range preservation plan for the Libraries. The planning program is scheduled to end in December.

All task force members will be supplied with a copy of the background paper written by the study team. For a copy, contact Judy Sackett, Preservation Department, 257-3493.

OUTSTANDING ACADEMIC LIBRARIAN AWARD

The Executive Council of the Academic Library Section of KLA has assigned the Award Committee to carry out the details of selecting an Outstanding Academic Librarian for 1990. This award will be given in recognition of exceptional service to academic librarianship and will be presented to the recipient at the annual conference of KLA in October, 1990. Please think seriously about this award; only librarians who have been nominated by a member of our section will be considered.

The deadline for submitting nominations will be August 1, 1990. Guidelines and procedures, criteria, and nomination forms are available from Lois Schultz, W. Frank Steely Library, Northern Kentucky University, Highland Heights, KY 41076.

UK LOTUS 1-2-3 TRAINING

UK Community Education will be offering a course in LOTUS 1-2-3 Mondays and Wednesdays, July 9 - August 1, 2:00 - 4:00 p.m. at the UK Downtown Center in the Central Public Library. Sixteen hours of classroom instruction will be given for $150.00.

LOTUS 1-2-3 is a spreadsheet program used by accountants, financial analysts, engineers, managers, and others who need a general purpose, number-crunching tool that "remembers" how to do calculations from one session to the next. The course is designed for those with little or no experience with LOTUS; however, familiarity with microcomputer operation is highly recommended. Even experienced LOTUS users will benefit from this course's comprehensive content.

For more information, or to register for this computer training class, call UK Community Education at 257-3294 or toll-free (800) 432-0963, outside the Lexington area.

C/EKOUG WORKSHOPS

The Central/Eastern Kentucky Online Users Groups are announcing two workshops scheduled for August:

ERIC Workshop

August 14, 1:00 - 4:00 in the College of Library and Information Science at UK, Room 502, King South. Topics will include in introduction to ERIC, ERIC database construction, ERIC publications and services, and use of the ERIC thesaurus. To register, call Laura Whayne at 257-2155. For more information, call the instructor, Judith O. Wagner, at (800) 848-4815. There will be no charge for the workshop.

DIALOG Workshops

Two DIALOG sessions will be held in August: the basic System Seminar on August 7 and the Beyond the Basics Seminar on August 8. Both workshops will be in the UK College of Library and Information Science, Room 502, King Library South, and will run from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. To register, call DIALOG at (800) 334-2564. Workshop fees are $140.00 for each session.

Paul Willis received the following letter from Leslie Griffin Hennessey, Library Committee Chair, Architecture:

Before pulling up stakes and moving on to Ann Arbor, I want to take a moment to let you know what a pleasure it has been working as Library Committee Chair with Dan Hodge. Since Dan came on board at the Architecture Library in Pence Hall, it is no exaggeration to say that the place has been totally transformed.

Dan's professionalism, his managerial and administrative efficiency, his creative and effective approach to problem solving, and his courteous attention to the needs of the students, the faculty and the public has improved virtually everything about the library. The quality of acquisitions, the care, display and location of library materials, the assistance given to patrons--it is all of a very high order. The place even looks better (even without redecorating funds to make the task easier).

Dan's intelligent and resourceful presence in the Architecture Library has renewed my faith in the principle that the right person in the right position can make a real difference, can work wonders, can lift morale. Dan has done all those things, and the College is a discernably better place for his presence there. I'm going to miss his rare combination of sincere discipline and good humor.

Mark Linneman received this letter from Janice M. Carter:

Today I telephoned the University of Kentucky Law Library, with a complicated question, involving eligibility status for Vietnam Widows for Veteran's Preference for employment.

I spoke with Ms. Carol Parris, who, most generously, gave of her time, knowledge, and energy to locate the information, I required. This was a difficult task, as it involved researching material from three different texts, then cross-referencing this information. She had to go to considerable trouble to locate this information. Yet she did so with courtesy, patience, tenacity, and perseverance.

Ms. Parris was so very helpful, understanding and thoughtful, I felt I must write this letter to commend such a conscientious and good-natured person.

Ahhhh... If only all employees, of large institutions, were of her caliber, what a smooth functioning, well organized system we would have.

Please give her my warmest regards and deepest thanks.
