Whereas in the year 1864 my husband Zack McBrayer being possessed of a $150 Scholarship in Kentucky University assigned the same to me by writing his name on the back for the education of our only boy, our son then being too young to send to school laid the paper carefully aside, the University was soon removed, I lost sight of the paper until several years after my husband's failure, when in the burning of some old manuscripts came across that paper and asked my husband if he could make anything out of it - this is the history and my ownership.
